—By ARTHUR BRISBANE—

THE Rev. E. Everett Wagner, Methodist Episcopal, will start a "happiness clinic," with philosophers engaged to lecture on happiness, how to start, how to reach it. The clinic will pay especial attention to marriage, health, work and human nature.

IN STARTING a "happiness clinic" it is important to remember Voltaire's advice to define the meaning of words.

What IS happiness?

Socrates said "Happiness is unrepented pleasure."

Rousseau's definition, "a good bank account, a good cook and a good digestion," is also rather dull.

Schiller thought he had found "earthly happiness" because he had "lived and loved."

There are two kinds of happiness. The lesser consists in finding the work for which you are fit and doing it.

The greater, reserved for a few, is working for others.

A STRIKE of gasoline truck drivers and big oil companies in New York, the companies refusing to recognize unions, is an important struggle between organized labor and organized money.

LABOR has the difficult end of what will be a long fight.

If drivers could succeed in cutting off gasoline supplies, tying up automobiles, which is doubtful, they would have public opinion against them.

They will find political authorities temporarily very friendly, loss so after election.

A DIVER in the Persian Gulf went "all naked to the hungry shark" and, avoiding the shark, came up with a perfect pearl weighing 50 grains, worth $250,000.

The pearl will go to some lady, not very young, probably. Young husbands of young wives cannot afford such pearls.

The lady will wear it occasionally, at first, then keep it in a safe-deposit box most of the time, losing $15,000 a year in interest, and wear an imitation pearl that even she won't know from the genuine after a few days.

THE faculties of seven New York colleges urge the state to change the penal code, allowing doctors to give information about birth control.

With birth control in practice, the world would have missed Caruso, who was number 19 in his family, probably also Napoleon, and many other valuable individuals.

BUT that, say the birth control advocates, does not answer the question, "Has a woman, with six children, in weak health, her husband a drunkard, the right to say that she will not bring any more unfortunate children into the world?" Prosperous women, able to care for large families, get birth control information. Poor women don't get it.

MADAME CURIE, who helped the discovery of radium, comes here to accept for the new Radium Institute at Warsaw, one gramme of radium costing $50,000, paid for by American women.

You could put in a small valise radium worth more than all the wealth of Rockefeller, Ford, Secretary Mellon and George F. Baker, combined, if such a radium quantity existed.

OUR sun, with its source of terrific energy only guessed at by science, may contain millions of tons of radium.

We can't get at that. But we might give more poor children the benefit of the sun's light, which is accessible and costs nothing.

SEATTLE, warmly welcoming the plucky Russians flying from Moscow to the great American city of the northwest, sets a good example.

Russia has always been our friend, and we should be friendly with Russians now, congratulate them on getting rid of the worthless, destructive and degenerate Romanoff crowd, and having the courage to set up their own successful government.

DON'T forget that a visit to Seattle is a good start for your "seeing America first" trips.

AND when you go, if you want to see some of the beautiful country north of our line, and abundant game, communicate with Prosser and Manson, two of the best guides and outfitters in British Columbia.

You can get their address from Dr. Alanson Weeks, famous surgeon and instructor at the medical school in San Francisco. What he does not know about American game and guides is unimportant.

MR. LAMONT, "the" Mr. Lamont, says business is good and will continue good. Gerard Swope, president of General Electric says "amen" and means it. Orders received by his company for the three months ending September 30th, were $116,688,014, against $90,328,666 in the same period last year. That increase of 29 per cent has prevailed throughout the entire year.

Her ex-husband Henry A. Bishop, Jr., remarried since their divorce, is "very sweet" and they're still "good friends," but Gloria, arriving in New York from Europe, will never, never be married again! She said so.

SHIFTS ATTACK ON RUM BUYING

BULLETIN.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 16. — (AP.)—The Department of Justice has under consideration the question of asking the Supreme Court to determine whether the purchaser of illegal liquor is equally liable with the seller to prosecution.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 16.—(AP.)—An inquiry to determine whether the government may prosecute buyers of liquor under section 6 of the Volstead act which prohibits manufacture, sale or purchase of liquor without a permit was proposed today by Senator Sheppard (Dem.), of Texas, author of the eighteenth amendment.

Sheppard said he would ask Attorney General Mitchell to institute the inquiry.

The Texan said a recent decision of a Kentucky federal judge, who instructed a grand jury to return indictments under the section, might "result in the punishment of such buyers under existing law if sustained by the highest court," but he added that all question ought to be removed.

"No one can escape the proposition," he said, "that the buyer of intoxicating liquor is equally guilty with the seller, if the liquor traffic is to be considered a crime."

Sheppard recently proposed an amendment to the act which would provide for prosecution of the buyer of liquor.

F. Scott McBride, national superintendent of the Anti-Saloon League, in a statement today said it was an open question whether the Sheppard bill to make buyers of liquor equally guilty with sellers would help enforcement.

"Many drys are persuaded that it would be a hindrance rather than a help," he said. "Rarely is a sale of liquor made in the presence of a third party. The conviction of the seller must almost invariably depend upon the testimony of the buyer. To accomplish the conviction of the buyer it would be necessary to grant immunity to the seller."

He added the measure had not yet been considered by either the executive or administrative committees of the league, but it appeared to him the importance of the matter had been exaggerated.

Harry Offered Amends After Beating Her at New Year's Party, Entertainer Testifies

International News Service.

NEW YORK, Oct. 16.—Sobbing quietly from the witness stand under a stiff cross-examination, Marcia Estardus, dark-eyed entertainer, today stuck to her story that Harry K. Thaw had beaten her in his apartment on New Year's Day of 1927.

Miss Estardus is suing the Pittsburgh playboy for $100,000, charging injuries of body and spirit as the result of Thaw's assault.

"Isn't it a fact that you were wearing pajamas in the apartment?" Isidore Shapiro, counsel for Thaw, inquired sharply.

"Oh, no, no, no," cried Miss Estardus, breaking into a flood of tears.

THOUGHT HE WAS CRAZY'

At the request of defense counsel, the plaintiff stood up and illustrated how Thaw allegedly held a book in one hand while showing her a picture and kept the other hand, containing a hairbrush, behind his back.

"The first thing I knew something struck me in the head," she said. "I ran into a bedroom. When I saw Mr. Thaw's eyes I thought he had gone crazy. I tried to run out again. I found the door was locked and Thaw was there with me."

"Who locked the door?" asked defense counsel.

"I guess it was Mr. Thaw," Miss Estardus answered.

Were you pushed or did you run into that room?"

"I don't know," sniffled the witness. "I ran for my life—that was all I knew."

DEFENSE SCORES

Shapiro read from the testimony of the plaintiff given at the first trial, which ended in a jury disagreement. She had testified she was pushed into the room by Thaw.

The defense perhaps scored a point by getting the witness to admit that she was not sure it was a

Bears Raid Market

NEW YORK, Oct. 16.—(INS.)—Bears raided the stock market just 30 minutes before the closing gong today.

The result was a 10-point toboggan in six or seven of the leading utilities stocks, followed immediately by a bear raid on blue chip industrials. The drop of utilities prices had all the earmarks of a well-timed and shrewdly concocted bear attack.

Some of the stock that broke on the tumble were American Water Works, American and Foreign Power, Westinghouse, Consolidated Gas and United States Steel.

American and Foreign Power dropped 13 points to 147, while United States Steel went down 9 points to 214½.

AGENT BEATEN, SUSPECT FREED

Kicked and slugged, William Walker, a federal prohibition agent, was left lying in Locust street early today by a gang of men who had attacked him, freed a prisoner and then escaped in Walker's government automobile.

Walker was taken to the West Penn Hospital where his wounds were dressed. He then directed a squad of federal officers and the police in an effort to capture his assailants and recover the stolen car. Almost the entire prohibition enforcement force in Pittsburgh was mobilized.

Walker said he had been pursuing a car loaded with moonshine. After a chase through Fifth avenue and Colwell street he overtook the fugitive in Locust street. Halting his car, he said he placed the driver under arrest. It was then, he said, that eight men rushed upon him from an alley.

The men knocked him down and liberated his prisoner, who leaped into his car and drove rapidly away.

The gang, Walker said, kicked him repeatedly, then climbed into the government automobile and drove away.

HALF MILLION CLINIC FUND INCREASED

Further Contribution Made To Fund of Half-Million Assures Adequate Building

To the $500,000 which Maurice Falk and the late Leon Falk, Pittsburgh philanthropists, contributed to University of Pittsburgh for a medical clinic, today was added $400,000 from the same source.

Chancellor John G. Bowman announced that Leon Falk, Jr., son of the late philanthropist, and Maurice Falk decided to add to the gift when they learned that the original contribution was insufficient.

FIVE-STORY CLINIC

In making the announcement, the chancellor stated that the Falk Clinic committee, composed of Arthur E. Braun, George H. Clapp, Leon Falk, Jr., Maurice Folk, Dr. J. H. Barach and the chancellor, have planned a clinic that will meet the needs of the city and the University of Pittsburgh. It will be a five-story structure where 800 persons a day may be treated.

When bids were taken, it became clear that the amount needed for the clinic was $900,000. Leon Falk, Jr., who now represents his father, and Maurice Falk gave the following letter to Chancellor Bowman when they learned of this increased need:

"We here agree to give to the University of Pittsburgh, as under the contract for the Falk clinic, existing between the university and ourselves, an additional sum of $400,000 for the construction and equipment of the proposed Falk clinic.

ADEQUATE FUND GIVEN

"We do this because it appears that the sum of $500,000, as stated in the contract herein referred to, is not adequate to erect and equip a clinic such as is needed by the university; and because, further, we are informed that the sum of $900,000 is sufficient for the purpose."

The area of foundation of the clinic building will be 15,120 square feet, and it will be built of Indiana limestone. On the first floor will be the childrens' department, the dental and pharmacy departments, and the board and staff rooms. The second floor will include departments for the treat-

Coolidge, Smith 'Chummy' Over Huge Charity Fund

By JAMES L. KILGALLEN

International News Service.

NEW YORK, Oct. 16.—Calvin Coolidge, Alfred E. Smith and Julius Rosenwald have dined together once a month since last July, and at these meetings they have had under discussion the administration of a philanthropic fund.

This was admitted this afternoon by Gov. Smith.

The fund, according to reports in Wall Street, runs into millions of dollars and is to be used for the public good.

"Yes, Mr. Coolidge, Mr. Rosenwald and myself have been getting together since last July," said Gov. Smith. "We have discussed a philanthropic fund but I am not prepared to go into this at present."

Gov. Smith said that he, Coolidge and Rosenwald did not have any business proposition under consideration. He was specific about that.

He denied that he had ever taken Mr. Coolidge to the famous "tiger room" maintained by William F. Kenny, millionaire friend of Smith and one of the chief backers in the last presidential campaign.

Wall street reports are that a man who resides in the vicinity of New York has established the fund. His name is a secret. Likewise it is not known for what purpose the huge fund will be administered.

Stories have been going the rounds in Wall street that Coolidge, Smith and Rosenwald have been quietly taking luncheon together at the Bankers' Club on a number of occasions.

They have also been seen strolling through the canyons of "the street" and in the vicinity of Trinity Church on lower Broadway, near the financial district.

$500,000 SPENT BY BEET SUGAR LOBBY, SENATORS TOLD

HIGH TARIFF PRESSURE EXPOSED

Publicity Needed to Combat Cane Growers' Activities, Grilled Official Testifies

By WILLIAM K. HUTCHINSON
International News Service.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 16.—The United States Beet Sugar Association, representing American sugar interests, has spent "nearly half a million dollars" in Washington to influence Congress and public opinion on sugar questions in the last six years, Harry A. Austin, its secretary-treasurer, testified today at the Senate's lobby investigation.

Austin said his organization had spent $60,000 this year while the new tariff bill, with its proposed increase in sugar duties, has been pending in Congress. While declining to say that paid representatives were necessary to get justice from Congress, Austin declared his organization had been "helpful" to American sugar interests.

NAMES RIVAL LOBBIES

Austin revealed that most of this fund was spent on tariff publicity, defending higher duties. He said this publicity was necessary to combat rival publicity from the National City Bank of New York, "which has $100,000,000 invested in Cuba," Hawaiian and Philippine sugar interests.

Austin urged the committee to investigate the National City Bank's "lobbying" activities. He also asked the committee to investigate acts of Edward P. Schacht, counsel for the United States Sugar Association of New York, Mrs. Gladys Jones, of the U. S. Chamber of Commerce in Cuba, and W. P. Rawleigh, of Freeport, Ill.

He described Rawleigh as a man who "generously furnished" funds for the Rayleigh tariff bureau, active here in tariff affairs. After hearing Austin, the committee recessed until tomorrow.

Austin's explanation of the Beet Sugar Association's activities launched the Senate's inquiry into sugar lobbies.

19 COMPANIES CONTROLLED

Under questioning by Senator Walsh (Dem.), of Montana, Austin said the 19 of the 30 beet sugar companies in this country belong to the United States Beet Sugar Association. The companies were located chiefly in Utah, Michigan, Colorado and California.

The committee was treated to a rather detailed explanation of the beet sugar industry. Austin said the Great Western Sugar Corporation, with 20 factories working, turned out about 50 per cent of this country's beet sugar production.

"It is the only company that has operated at anything like a profit in the last few years," Austin added. He said the trouble with beet sugar growing in Utah and Idaho in the last few years came from "poor climatic conditions and the white fly pest."

MAGAZINE SUBSIDIZED

Austin explained that a publication called "Facts About Sugar" was subsidized by his association. He said the association was pledged to pay all deficits of the magazine, and that the deficit this year would be about $12,000.

The "Agricultural supplements," said Austin, "was sent free to thousands of farmers growing sugar beets."

"It tells them of the merits of a high duty on sugar, doesn't it?" asked Walsh.

"Yes, but only collaterally."

"Oh, only incidentally? asked Walsh. "You only slip that information in to help the farmers. It's like the very valuable information given out by the power trust in catechisms for school children."

RETORT HITS SENATORS

"Then why do you send it out?" asked Senator Caraway.

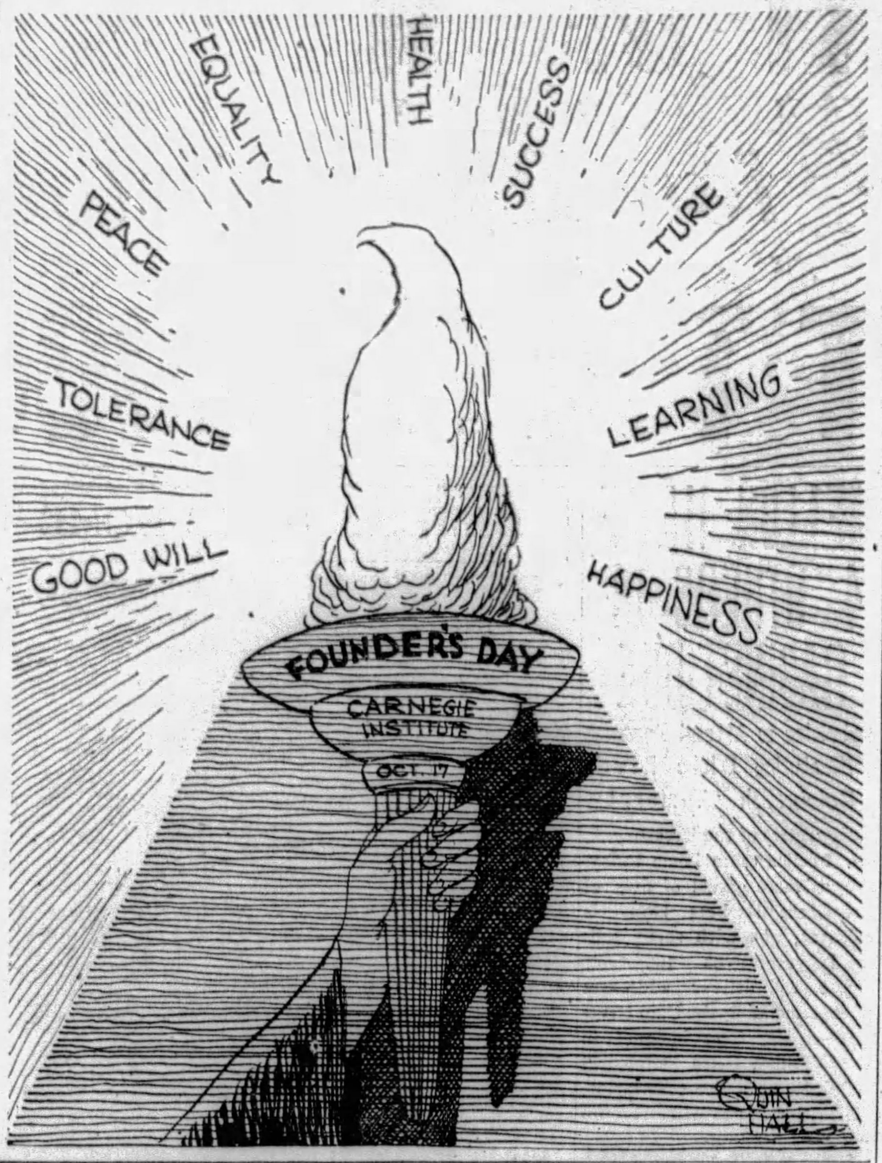
"For the same reason that senators make speeches when they know they can influence nobody," Austin retorted sharply.

Austin admitted the purpose of his propaganda was to influence public opinion and Congress.

"I believe that when I'm down here representing an industry having an investment of $250,000,000 and operating in 18 states, I have a legitimate right in an orderly manner to present our case to senators and representatives, individually or collectively," said Austin. "And I have exercised that right."

ANOTHER LIGHT CELEBRATION

By Quin Hall



GIRL DESCRIBES THAW ATTACK

hairbrush which Thaw held in his hand.

"It had a long handle on it, anyway," said Miss Estardus.

Resuming the witness stand in the interests of her case today, the dark-eyed plaintiff said in direct examination that Thaw called her on the telephone several days after the alleged New Year's Day assault in the Thaw apartment and consoled her by saying, "I didn't mean to do it. I am sorry and want to make amends."

Miss Estardus, whose real name is Mae O'Neill, said Thaw, during the conversation which took place January 6, asked her not to tell anyone of the affair.

"Do you remember you left tickets for a benefit dance while we were at breakfast? Would you like me to attend?" Thaw said, according to Miss Estardus.

ASKED TO KEEP QUIET

The dancer went on to say that Thaw had asked her how she was feeling and she told him she was quite sick.

"He then asked me not to mention the affair. I assured him I would not, as I was too ashamed of the whole proceeding even to tell my mother," Miss Estardus testified.

SECRETARY CALLS

Following this call, Miss Estardus said she was telephoned by Morgan Pendleton, Thaw's secretary at the time of the alleged attack.

"Pendleton told me Thaw did not mean to hurt me and was very, very sorry.

"He asked me if I remembered the case when Thaw was accused of beating a boy in Philadelphia and then attempted suicide.

"He then asked me to write Thaw a letter, which I did."

One portion of the letter said:

"I am asking you to forget all that happened as I am not seeking publicity. I know that I will meet you from time to time at various places and want you to attend a benefit dance of mine."

Miss Estardus went on to tell the jury how representatives of Thaw had met her. Included among these was a Mr. McIntyre, she said.

"McIntyre offered me a new gown to replace the red velvet one torn by Thaw," the dancer said. "I refused it, saying I wanted to forget the entire matter."

She then testified that Thaw attempted to send other representatives to her, including William Dannenberg, former Chicago police inspector, who for six years has been Thaw's confidential representative, but that she refused to see him.

"I later was employed as secretary of the Film Players' Club and while eating dinner at the Moscow Inn with my cousin and Countess Olga, I was approached by Pendleton and Dannenberg. Dannenberg wanted to look at a scar on my arm and said Thaw was very sorry and would do anything for me."

PHOTOGRAPHS SHOWN

The plaintiff's counsel then introduced photographs of several scars and wounds which the witness testified were made on her body by Thaw. They were introduced as exhibits.

The witness was then turned over to Isidore Shapiro, counsel for Thaw, who first established the dancer was 30 years old instead of 26 as she had told newspapermen.

He brought out that in the previous trial she had testified to having been married June 14, 1919, when she was 19 years of age and that she had a birthday a week ago.

Miss Estardus was dressed in a black velvet dress, the same she wore during the trial yesterday, with a chic black hat and a silver fox furpiece.

Mrs. O'Neill, before the trial started today, said, "Last night my daughter was threatened over the telephone and advised not to appear on the stand against Thaw."

The case was called suddenly late yesterday after a threatened postponement.

THAW HEARS STORY

Thaw, whose hair is now white, sat in a nearby office and listened to telephone reports from counsel while his accuser told her story from the witness chair in Supreme Court.

The plaintiff told the jury yesterday that Thaw beat her with a hairbrush after she had gone to his apartment here with Pendleton after a gay New Year's Eve party in Washington square.

There were champagne and eggs for breakfast and Thaw sat on her right in the dining room.

"'You are very pretty. You ought to go big on the stage or in the movies,'" Miss Estardus testified Thaw said to her. Then he asked me to walk about the room. I did and he watched me.

"Next he asked me to come down the hallway to see a picture that he said looked like me. I went there and he stood beside me, commenting on the picture.

"I saw that he held a hairbrush with a long handle in his hand. I tried to run. I rushed into the bedroom and then he came at me." The witness dabbed her eyes with a handkerchief and sniffled.

"He tore my dress," she continued. "He struck me and tore my hair. I picked up everything I could to throw at him. I screamed.

"His eyes were popping out. I ran to the window, he shouted, 'don't jump,' and finally he unlocked the door."

Miss Estardus showed the jury a scar. The red velvet dress with spangles which the plaintiff wore to the New Year's eve party was exhibited. It was torn, and the spangles were battered.

Before Miss Estardus resumed the witness stand today, Dr. Harry Gilbert was called by the plaintiff's attorney. He testified that in March, 1929, he had examined Miss Estardus and found three scars on her forehead, one on the left side of her chest and one on her right leg.

Under cross-examination he admitted that one of the scars on the forehead was older than the others and the scar on the left side of her chest might have been on the right side.

MOORE MAY GO BACK TO PERU

Alexander P. Moore, former Pittsburgh publisher, returned to his home town today with the news that he had told President Hoover he was willing to return to Peru as the United States ambassador.

Mr. Moore came to Pittsburgh from Washington, where he had conferred with the President.

It is understood that the President asked the former publisher of the Pittsburgh Leader to represent this government again in the South American country.

Moore resigned from the post months ago because of ill health. His recovery was evident as he stepped from the train today.

Whether Moore will be long in Peru is a matter for conjecture. There are reports that he may soon be named ambassador to Germany. It is no secret that he has the backing of Senator Reed for a European appointment.

HOOVER WIRES GRATIFICATION TO M'DONALD

U. S. Reception an Earnest Expression of People's Feelings, Telegram Says

WASHINGTON, Oct. 16.—(AP.)—President Hoover today sent a telegram to Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald expressing the conviction that the welcome accorded the British statesman in this country "is an earnest of the gratification felt in this country that the peoples of Great Britain and the United States have been brought even closer together by your visit."

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

The President's message was sent in response to a telegram received from Mr. MacDonald yesterday just as he was leaving the United States for Canada.

"I only express the feelings of the people of this country," Mr. Hoover said, "when I say that we are all grateful for the opportunity of manifesting our sincere appreciation of the spirit in which you came to us.

"The welcome you have received is an earnest of the gratification felt in this country that the peoples of Great Britain and the United States have been brought even closer together by your visit. Mrs. Hoover also joins me in thanking you and we both send our best wishes for a pleasant visit in Canada and a good voyage home."

MacDONALD TELEGRAM

The Prime Minister's telegram to the President read:

"On the moment of leaving American soil I wish to send to you and to Mrs. Hoover and through you to the American people my warm thanks for the welcome accorded to my daughter and myself. We shall never forget the kindness and hospitality with which we have been received and we carry away with us the happiest memories of our visit."

LABOR CHEERS PREMIER

TORONTO, Oct. 16.—(AP.)—Down a human lane of applauding and cheering delegates, Ramsay MacDonald today entered the convention hall of the American Federation of Labor.

Accompanied by his daughter, Ishbel, and escorted by a committee of labor leaders, the Premier of Great Britain and the leader of England's Labor party, received a thunderous welcome as he entered the hall and mounted the platform to be greeted by William Green, Federation president.

"No more warm-hearted reception has come to him than you give here," President Green started his address of welcome, but he was halted by a storm of applause. Continuing, he hailed the visit of the Premier as "an unique occasion" and said that labor's sympathies were with Mr. MacDonald's efforts to "mobilize the agencies of peace."

MODIFIED PLANS

"I had to modify some arrangements to come here," Mr. MacDonald said. "I have been introduced to you in the name of the great office I hold, but I want you to feel that Prime Minister or not, I am still the old workman I was born.

"The workman is distinguished by his mentality and the point of view he has. In Great Britain I am a party man. Here today, my friends, I do not represent a party, I represent a whole nation. I have come across the Atlantic as he who for the moment is charged to represent the opinion, the unity, the personality of the House of Commons.

"On our side, labor is working out a policy by evolutionary means. The revolution we believe in is the revolution of the ballot box. You can have no permanent changes in the construction of nations unless you appeal to the sound moral sense.

"Labor is the proper form to appeal to in seeking world peace.

DEBTS OF WAR

"You have to pay the debts of war in the fullness of time. All classes have to share the sacrifice in war. But taken in the mass, labor bears the burden. If there should be another war, the sacrifices and pains of labor will be definitely greater than in past wars. In the next war death will be dealt out not only on the battlefields, it will be dealt out from the bottom of the seas and the heights of the heavens. The civilian population will drop down in the streets and die from mysterious attacks of poison. It is the worker's hireside, the worker's wife and child that come first, that bear the companionship when I think of war.

"I come to you as an old friend; as the leader of the Labor Party in the House of Commons called to a broader field as one who has gone to a neighboring country to establish understanding. As one who has sought to try to close some chapters of historical misunderstanding. I have sought to get the support of labor in the United States and Canada in the endeavor to widen the area of understanding. I shall take this meeting as one memory to take away with greatest appreciation."

FRANCE FOR PARLEY ON ALL ARMS

Sees London Meeting as First Step Towards Air, Land And Sea Pact by Powers

PARIS, Oct. 16.—(AP.)—The French government today forwarded to London its acceptance of the British government's invitation to join in a naval conference in London in January.

France, in the text of her acceptance is understood to emphasize her willingness to participate in the conference because she believes it will prepare and facilitate the work of the preparatory disarmament commission at Geneva and lead to a general conference on all armaments.

GENERAL TREATY

It is understood that the text adds that France on various occasions made clear the French attitude on questions likely to figure on the agenda of the London conference.

The implication of this is that, so far as France is concerned, the London agreement in order to possess immediate force must be conditional upon the negotiation of a general treaty on sea, land and air armaments.

The reference to prior presentations of the French naval position is understood to allude to the contention that France, while originally upholding the theory of fixation of a total tonnage of all warships, later in a spirit of compromise accepted a proposal to divide warships into categories with some elasticity concerning the right to transfer from one category to another.

ARTICLE EIGHT

Finally France, it is said, will adhere to Article 8 of the League of Nations covenant declaring that the maintenance of peace requires the reduction of armaments to the lowest point consistent with national safety, taking into account the geographical situation and circumstances of each country.

It is understood that the question of parity with Italy is not discussed in the French text.

ITALY GLADLY ACCEPTS

WASHINGTON, Oct. 16.—(INS.)—Italy "gladly and unconditionally" accepts her invitation to the five-power disarmament conference which President Hoover and Britain's Prime Minister MacDonald have caused to be held in London the third week in January.

Italian Ambassador De Martino conveyed his government's action to Secretary of State Stimson shortly after noon and Stimson made the announcement.

Italy informed the British government that, while awaiting the promised communication of British views concerning the scope of the conference, she is "considering in its turn informing the British government of its own point of view on the matter."

Santa's Deer Raring to Go, Doctor Spreads Gloom

NEW YORK, Oct. 16.—(AP.)—And now with December in the offing and the reindeer all fattened up and raring to go, along comes Dr. William S. Sadler, of Chicago, sternly decreeing that all the five-year-olds in America be told the devastating truth about Santa Claus.

It would be better, says the doctor—who is by vocation a surgeon and by avocation a writer about mental complexes and phobias—had the children known the distressing fact from the start.

"However," he said today with a smile, "I could hardly expect to have public opinion with me on that point.

"Well, if there must be the Santa Claus business, let it be conducted with discretion. Let the child be disillusioned before he leaves the nursery. And, above all, let him hear the truth from his own parents and no one else."

It's of sonny's own sensibilities the doctor is thinking and in a purely altruistic fashion.

If sonny hears the truth from the other kids, he's going to realize that his parents are—well, not always quite truthful. And it's going to be an awful shock. Just think back, yourself.

And there that impression will remain, says the doctor, in that mental stomach crammed with all sorts of undigestible stuff which is called "the subconscious mind."

The anti-Santa Claus propaganda is set forth in a book which Dr. Sadler has just published.

'Golfitis' Aids Business, Defender Declares

NEW YORK, Oct. 16.—(INS.)—"Golf is a stimulator. It's a great game for business men and executives; peps them up, mentally and physically; keeps them young and fit. I'm one business man who wouldn't miss his regular rounds of golf, and there are thousands all over the country like me."

Edward A. Kimball, of Des Moines, manager of the Iowa Manufacturers' Association, made these assertions today in commenting upon the statement of another prominent business man, George L. Markland, of Philadelphia, that there is "too much golf" in business—that business men and executives are more serious about their golf than they are about their business.

I'm for golf," declared Mr. Kimball without equivocation. 'I leave my office two or three afternoons a week after 4 p. m. and get in 18 holes, and it does me a lot of good.

"I wouldn't miss it. I can do more work in shorter time the next day. There is no sense in a business man working from 7 in the morning until 7 at night. That's the old fashioned idea. Some business men are doing that today, I know. But with all the facilities a business man now has or getting work done quickly and efficiently, he can do as much in eight hours as formerly required 10 and 12 hours. And certainly he owes it to himself to take care of his health.

"My father had no typewriters; now we have typewriters — and dictaphones as well. We train our secretaries to write many of our letters. We merely write a note and the secretary writes the letter.

"And don't forget the fine contacts one establishes at a golf club. There is a lot of business done on the golf links nowadays. The nineteenth hole is greatly exaggerated. Golf itself is enough of a stimulator."

PROBERS SEE MURDER, SUICIDE

Both Victims Shot Through Temple; No Evidence of Struggle Is Discovered

WALLINGFORD, Conn., Oct. 16.—(AP.)—The bodies of Mrs. Anna Bryan Ayres, highly paid advertising expert, and William Gaylord were found yesterday in a room at an inn. Both had been shot once through the temple.

Dr. John H. Buffum, medical examiner, expressed the opinion the man had slain the woman, then turned the gun on himself.

Mrs. Ayres was head of the advertising department of the Berger Brothers corset factory in New Haven. She was the divorced wife of a former Amherst professor, who left that institution five years ago with Prof. Alexander Meiklejohn. Three children survive her. She was 41 years old.

Gaylord's home was in Hartford. He was 46 years old.

HAD NO LIQUOR

The couple registered at the hotel as Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Gray, New Haven, last night. Their room contained numerous cigar and cigaret butts, but there was no evidence of liquor or of a struggle.

Gaylord was employed as a bookkeeper by the Electric Transportation Company, of Hartford. His body was claimed last night by his wife.

Mrs. Ayres was regarded as an outstanding business executive in the highly developed industrial field of Connecticut.

The background for the position she held was a college career as well as years of experience in work for printing and advertising concerns in Chicago, which gave her technical knowledge of all phases of advertising.

BORN IN WEST

Mrs. Ayres was born in the middle west, took her bachelor of arts degree at Franklin and her master of arts degree at Brown University. She did graduate work at University of Chicago and out of that came the affiliations which led her into editorial and advertising lines. She also has spent some time as a research assistant in economics.

Her marriage for a time interrupted her full-time application to her chosen profession, but she continued to write advertising for newspapers and national magazines. With this training she came to Berger Brothers Company, corset manufacturers, here after her divorce permitted her to give the time.

Mrs. Ayres many times had given public expression to her views on women in industry. In advertising Mrs. Ayres had said that the more a woman knows about typography, engraving, printing practice, paper and production problems, the better for her; the more she learns about sales methods and merchandising the sooner she will advance in her field.

Al Bonach, a friend of marathon dance days, driving the wheezy horse that pulled the ancient carriage that carried Pittsburgh's marathoning newly-weds, Tony Phillips and Teeny Nieman, over downtown Pittsburgh today after their morning wedding.

"LET US NOT TAKE UP TOO MUCH OF YOUR TIME, MR. VERONA"

Alderman John J. Verona, former police magistrate and Hill leader, officiating in all the usurped glory of a best man. It's Tony holding the wrist watch so intently. The wedding was one of splendor—including evening clothes—at St. Augustine's Church, Lawrenceville.

TONY AND TEENY MARRIED

Tony and Teeny, of marathon dance fame, were married in St. Augustine's Church, Lawrenceville, today, climaxing a romance which began in Danceland and progressed through three successive marathons when Pittsburgh's long distance terpischorean craze first started.

And Tony Phillips and Teeny Nieman, who danced their way into the hearts of Pittsburghers, tomorrow will retire from the front page and will take up life as Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Phillips.

Mrs. Anna Comoroda was matron of honor, while Alderman John J. Verona was the best man. Four bridesmaids and four ushers, two flower girls and a ring bearer completed the bridal party.

Al Bonach, Tony's rival for marathon honors, led the party of friends who crowded the church. Al provided an old horse-drawn carriage in which the party were paraded through town after the breakfast at Caruso's restaurant.

Lois O'Malley, Dorothy Stec, Mary Delost and Mary Cooke were the bridesmaids. The ushers included Lawrence D. Lasley, James Cartola, John Liberto and George Schiller. Little Julius Nieman, in high hat and miniature tuxedo, was the ring bearer. Ruth Donald and Betty Jane Nesta were flower girls.

Gardner School Ousts Girl Author

NEW YORK, Oct. 16.—(INS.)—Carman Dee Barnes, 16-year-old author of "School Girl," a novel dealing with life in a smart boarding school, has been dismissed from the Gardner School here as result of the book, it was disclosed today.

School officials refused to discuss the matter, but they took their action, it was said, for what they considered "the peace of the school."

Carman was not a pupil at Gardner School when she wrote the novel, which was published last May by Horace Liveright & Co., but was attending Ward Belmont, in Nashville, Tenn.

FREED SLAYER FOUND GUILTY

Freed of blame by a coroner's jury, Fred Siebenschue, Mifflin Township storekeeper, was found guilty of second degree murder by a jury in Criminal Court today for the shooting to death of his neighbor, Henry Smith.

A jury returned the verdict after 20 hours' deliberation, before Visiting Judge Miles I. Potter. Siebenschue will be called for sentence Friday.

INFORMATION MADE

After a coroner's jury exonerated Siebenschue a brother of the dead man, Jacob J. Smith, of East McKeesport, made an information against Siebenschue charging murder.

Smith, who lived next door to the defendant in Curry Hollow road, had, according to the evidence, accused Siebenschue of being too friendly with Mrs. Smith.

Mrs. Smith sided with Siebenschue during the trial, testifying that her husband had walked past the defendant's house several evenings with a gun. A neighbor offered evidence that she had seen Siebenschue leave Smith's back door as Smith entered the front door.

CLAIMS WIRE CUT

The day of the killing, February 1, Siebenschue said, Smith cut an electric light wire running from his house to Siebenschue's with a hatchet. Siebenschue went in and got his gun, he said, because he claimed Smith had declared he would kill Siebenschue and the "whole crowd," meaning Mrs. Smith and their children.

He said Smith raised the hatchet to throw at him and he fired.

DUNN SPEAKER HITS TAXES

Experienced business men and not politicians are presented as candidates at the coming election by the Good Government-Democratic party, according to Attorney William A. McNair today at a noonday speech in Dunn headquarters.

He said the business men, if elected, would conduct the city on business principles, as they had no ambition to build a political machine to dominate Pittsburgh.

"We are being oppressed," he said, "by high taxes, which among other things create the present unemployment."

The Mayor does not make any pledge to reduce taxes, McNair declared.

"Instead, if re-elected, he will take it as a blank check from the people to inaugurate another orgy of extravagance," he continued. "He will consider it as an indorsement of padded payrolls made up of political favorites regardless of the increased burden on the taxpayers."

TELLER SEIZED IN BANK FRAUD

Salvator DiDomenico, employed in the bank's foreign department, was accused of embezzling $1,700 by government officials.

Federal authorities charged that DiDomenico pocketed funds which foreigners had deposited for transfer to relatives in Europe. He covered up the embezzlements further by juggling accounts, they reported.

In the last two days he has made complete restitution through a security company, the authorities said.

The arrest was effected by federal agents and city detectives. They took the prisoner to the United States marshal's office.

DiDomenico's address was given as 6518 Shetland avenue.

The bride, a former manicurist, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jules Oedelschoff, of Weehawken, N. J. She was born in Alsace-Lorraine.

VOTE TO STAND DESPITE FRAUD

Judge James R. Macfarlane ruled today that "although there may be traces of fraud in the ballot box, as long as the count has been certified by the County Commissioners the court has no jurisdiction."

Accordingly, the name of James F. Richards goes on the general election ballot in Wilmerding, although the recount board, which presented the tax collector case to the court, asked that C. R. Shiring be substituted.

The finding by the recount board of 91 effaced ballots in the box of the First District of Wilmerding changed the total so that Richards, who had been certified previously by the County Commissioners as winner in the primary, fell behind Shiring. Due to the certifications being upheld by today's ruling, however, Richards still remains the winner.

DOHENY AIDED, WITNESS SAYS

WASHINGTON, Oct. 16.—(INS.)—Everybody around the Department of Interior in 1922 wanted to "make things easy" for E. L. Doheny, the California oil magnate, and didn't want him "to get into trouble," according to a letter produced today by the prosecution in the bribery trial of former Secretary of Interior Albert B. Fall.

The letter was written to Fall by H. Foster Bain, former director of the Bureau of Mines, a defense witness undergoing cross-examination, and had to do with the legality of leasing the Elk Hills naval oil reserve to Doheny. Fall is charged with having accepted a $100,000 bribe for the lease.

Urging that the attorney general be asked for an opinion as to legality, Bain wrote Fall:

"None of us want Mr. Doheny to get into trouble and we want to do everything we can to make things easy for him."

Bain also testified that Fall had let his subordinates in the Interior Department understand that no final oil leases could be negotiated without his approval and that the Elk Hills and Pearl Harbor proposition had been submitted to him.

HEARING SET FOR GRAHAM PROTESTS

By GLADSTONE WILLIAMS
Staff Correspondent.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 16.—After conferring with members of the Senate Judiciary Sub-Committee appointed to consider protests against the confirmation of Louis E. Graham, of Beaver, as United States district attorney for the Western District of Pennsylvania, Senator Gillette, of Massachusetts, chairman of the sub-committee, announced that an open hearing in the case will be held the first part of next week.

At that time John S. Pyle, Pittsburgh attorney, will be given an opportunity to express personally the objections he raised to Graham's appointment in a recent letter to the Senate Judiciary Committee. Any others who desire to be heard will be invited to appear also, it was stated.

Senator Gillette said no definite date had been fixed for the hearing.

The decision to hold open hearings on the nomination render an unfavorable report on the charges made thus far.

The hearing, it is said, is being ordered in a perfunctory manner. Senator David A. Reed, of Pittsburgh, at whose recommendation Graham was appointed, professes to have no anxiety over the outcome.

Attorney Pyle, returning to Pittsburgh today after a conference with Senator Gillette in Washington, said he would attend the hearing in the Capital.

CRIME PROBERS OPEN RUM QUIZ

WASHINGTON, Oct. 16.—(AP.)—Under the authority of President Hoover's law enforcement commission, two prominent legal experts will conduct a survey of lawlessness among government officials charged with enforcing prohibition.

Professor Zachariah Chafee of the Harvard law school and Walter N. Pollak of New York City, who served as a special assistant attorney general in the prosecution of Nicky Arnstein, have been delegated by the commission to take over this phase of its work.

Announcing these appointments, the commission, which is holding a session of several days at its headquarters here, withheld public information as to the details of the activities for which Chafee and Pollak were appointed, but its announcement was regarded as evidence of a decision to face this problem squarely and give it adequate consideration as an important part of its general task.

WILKINS PARTY IN URUGUAY

By CAPT. SIR HUBERT WILKINS.

Famous explorer, who is now embarking on his second Wilkins-Hearst Antarctic expedition to the unexplored regions within the Antarctic circle.

(Universal Service Special Cable.)

MONTEVIDEO, Uruguay, Oct. 16.—The second Wilkins-Hearst expedition to the Antarctic arrived here yesterday aboard the S. S. Northern Prince, and is prepared to depart in a fortnight for the wintry base on Deception Island.

After receiving the official greeting of the Uruguayan republic from welcoming officials, we were informed that President Dr. Juan Campisteguy would receive the members of the expedition on Thursday. We spent the afternoon sight-seeing after being guests of the Rotary Club at luncheon.

A hasty examination of our stores showed that all the supplies shipped from Europe, including our Austin motor car and our special Jaeger and Burdury winter clothing, were already on hand. Everything that is required for the success of the expedition is assembled here, and ready to be stored aboard the Norwegian whaler Melville.

The Melville will arrive here toward the end of the month, and on October 30 we will steam out of the harbor and sail for Deception Island, where the winter is reported to be of more than the usual severity. We are well prepared, however, to breast the worst of the Antarctic's weather to accomplish our aim.

CRACK 3 SAFES, LOOT SMALL

Safecrackers operated to their hearts' contents on a row of buildings in the 800 block of Liberty avenue early today, but their profits were small—$100.

They examined four places and they cracked three safes. They might be called "roof burglars," for when they finished in one place they dropped into another via the roof.

MALONE DENIES KEEPING CASH

NEW YORK, Oct. 16.—(AP.)—Dudley Field Malone, international lawyer, yesterday was under summons to answer a charge by Mrs. Gladys Barber Rigaut that he unlawfully withheld $15,000 of a settlement made her by her former husband, Edward J. Barber, wealthy shipping man.

Malone said he would appear in person to deny the charge.

"The fact is that when she placed her divorce affairs in the hands of George Gordon Battle and myself she expected to recover only $300,000," the lawyer said. "We obtained $325,000 for her after eight weeks of night and day work."

Richard A. Knight, now counsel for Mrs. Rigaut, said that when she divorced Barber in Paris in 1925 he settled $340,000 in cash upon her, and in addition, set aside $20,000 a year for the support of four children now in her custody. She alleges Malone was to receive $40,000 as his fee. When the matter was finally adjudicated in the Paris courts she received only $285,000, she said, leaving $55,000 in Malone's possession.

After the Paris divorce the woman was married to Jacques Rigaut, youthful antique salesman. Barber in 1925 married Mrs. Ethel Scott.

Weather Conditions.

The low that was centered over Manitoba yesterday morning moved rapidly eastward. It is now over Eastern Ontario, moving rapidly towards the lower St. Lawrence valley. It produced some cloudiness and scattered light showers over the lower lakes, and the upper Ohio Valley states, but the rains had ended by 8 a. m. From Indiana westward to the Rockies, and from Canada to the gulf the skies are clear. Relatively high barometer covers the Plains states and the Gulf states. Another low apears in the far Northwest. There was a slight drop in temperature over the northern plains, but there is no cold weather on the map this morning.

DRUG EVILS HIT BY LADY ASTOR

By LADY ASTOR, M. P.

(Lady Astor, born an American and first woman member of British Parliament, has since her first election in 1919 been active in the campaign against the organized illicit international traffic in dangerous drugs.)

LONDON, Oct. 16.—The problem of stopping the drug traffic and how to save young people from becoming addicts is one that is arousing world interest, and very rightly so. No fate is more dreadful, no evil habit more disastrous than drug taking, and no habit is so easily almost unconsciously acquired.

The horrors of the thing need no elaboration and I shall not attempt to describe them. What I want to explain is what can be done and what is being done to fight against it; and my object is to arouse public opinion, not only to justified indignation at the state of affairs, but to helpful co-operation with what can be done to make things better.

WORLD-WIDE SCOPE

The first thing to realize in trying to exterminate the traffic is that it is essentially international in operation. What is grown in one country is manufactured in a second, distributed in a third, and sold in a fourth; so that no measures not approved by the whole world are likely to have much success.

The second thing to realize is that the traffic is a tremendously profitable business. The stuff is of small bulk, easily smuggled, and the demand for it from addicts is passionate and insistent. The poor victims will pay anything—everything they possess—to get hold of drugs, and consequently the prices are out of all proportion to the costs of manufacture, and the profits vast.

Everyone who has had experience in public life knows what it means to be up against wealthy, vested interests; this one which trades on human degradation works hand in glove with such vested interests as the extremely formidable white-slave traffic.

RESTRICTION DIFFICULT

The third thing to remember about the drug traffic is that the same stuff that can be used so poisonously has, also, a legitimate medical use. Hard though the problem of total abolition would be, that of restriction is more complex.

These three general considerations must be remembered at every stage of the proceedings, and they are all factors of difficulty.

The various ways by which the agreeing governments try to make the drug traffic difficult are embodied in The Hague and Geneva conventions. Broadly speaking, these upset the system of licensing for the export and import of drugs and impose heavy penalties for smuggling. They also provide that annual reports must be made on the amounts manufactured, and annual estimates on the quantity needed for legitimate use.

Although the most careful plans and forms have been devised for license forms and the methods of enforcements, nothing has yet proved really effective. There is too much money and human passion in business for model schemes to be water-tight.

BIG DOPE FARM FUND SOUGHT

WASHINGTON, Oct. 16.—(INS.)—An appropriation of $10,000,000 to acquire sites and erect buildings for the federal narcotic farms will be asked of Congress in December, it was announced today.

One of the farms is to be located in the southeastern and one in the southwestern part of the country. They will cost $5,000,000 each and have 1,000 beds. Narcotic addicts in federal prisons will be transferred to the farms, and voluntary patients also will be treated.

Bids for the farms were opened some days ago and are now being considered by representatives of the Public Health, Department of Justice and War Department.

MOST ADDICTS MEN

A survey by the public health service has disclosed that 82 per cent of the country's "dope fiends" are east of the Rocky Mountains, and that four out of five addicts are men.

Strong support to the Porter narcotics reorganization bill was pledged yesterday by Eugene C. Brokmeyer, counsel for the National Association of Retail Druggists.

Representative Porter, (Rep.) of Pennsylvania, regarded Brokmeyer's indorsement as highly significant, as he represents the thousands of druggists who are registered annually to fill prescriptions for narcotic drugs.

STRINGENCY FAVORED

Samuel C. Henry, president of the National Drug Trades Conference, has already announced he favors stringent legislation to drive out unscrupulous traffickers in drugs, providing ample provision is made to protect the legitimate dealers.

This the Porter bill seeks to do by providing that druggists and physicians shall receive intermediate narcotics licenses which can be revoked only if the licensee or applicant is an addict, has been convicted of a narcotic offense or for other serious causes.

Bedford County Man Placed on Parole

Edward D. Weaver, 48, of New Paris, Bedford County, was placed upon parole for two years by Federal Judge F. P. Schoonmaker, when he pleaded guilty of possessing nine $20 counterfeit gold certificates, on January 15, and with violating the national motor vehicle theft act. The latter charge involved an automobile, property of Dr. Hugh Cox, New York City, which was taken to New Paris and concealed by Weaver.

RIDGWAY, Pa., Oct. 16.—Generado Castelin, 17, died in St. Mary's Hospital after an automobile accident at a grade crossing at Emporium Thursday. This is the second death to result from the accident.

PROTEST TAXI SERVICE

Formal protest against the taxicab service given the citizens of Beaver Falls by Robert J. McCormick, who has a franchise, was made yesterday at a hearing before the Public Service Commission.

It was alleged by hotel owners and others that McCormick operates but three cars in a city of 35,000 inhabitants and that the service is inadequate and uncertain.

This developed in hearing the application of Samuel W. Cohen, W. J. Bates and Myer Bates, who want to install a 24-hour service under the name of the Beaver Falls Transportation Company.

The applicants for the certificate operate a taxicab service in Carnegie. Commissioner William E. Best heard the case.

AUDIBLE LIGHT EXHIBITED

Members of the Pittsburgh Section, American Institute of Electrical Engineers, and the Electrical Section, Engineers' Society of Western Pennsylvania, at a joint meeting in the Chamber of Commerce last night saw sound made visible and heard light made audible.

The demonstrations were made by Dr. John B. Taylor, consulting engineer of the General Electric Company, who also transmitted music over a beam of light. In this demonstration the light traveled about the room, breaking into music when it came into contact with a mirror target. When it left the target, or was intercepted by Mr. Taylor's hands or a piece of cardboard, the music stopped.

One-Man Yacht Burns in Suez

LONDON, Oct. 16.—(AP.)—The Daily Mail reports that the yacht in which Capt. Edward Miles, of Newark, N. J., was sailing alone from New York to India, was burned in the Suez Canal. Miles escaped in a dinghy. Miles left New York on September 1, 1928, in a 35-foot schooner built by himself and named the Sturdy. He reached Gibraltar on October 15, 1928, and left for Algiers a week later.

MOTHER TO AID STRANGLER

WASHINGTON, Oct. 16.—Dexter Dayton's mother is coming to Washington to be with him when he goes on trial for the murder of Marjorie O'Donnell, daughter of John O'Donnell, former managing editor of the Pittsburgh Dispatch, and now editor of the Oil City Derrick.

She will leave Kansas City, her home, for Washington "not later than Friday," according to a telegram received today by Washington attorneys for Dayton.

The wire was from a Kansas City attorney. At the same time Dayton's lawyers, Ring and Cobb, received a telegram, their first direct communication from their client's widowed mother. Mrs. Dayton's telegram said she had sent two wires to her son but received no answer.

One Man Injured In Cleaners' Fire

A man was injured and damage estimated at $2,000 resulted in an explosion at the plant of Howard's Cleaners, Inc., 1226 Reedsdale street, North Side, last night. The victim, Harry Seidle, 23, of 609 Sandusky street, an employe, suffered an injury of the back when he was thrown against a machine by the force of the blast, which occurred in a dryer. He was taken to Allegheny General Hospital.

A blaze which followed was quickly extinguished by firemen from No. 37 Engine Company, who responded to a still alarm.

M'CANN'S BEGIN NEW BUILDING

entrance at Fourth avenue and Ferry street.

Constructed of limestone and brick, the building will be fireproof. Escalators will furnish easy access to the second floor restaurant, while the latest ideas in automobile parking facilities will be utilized.

SPEED IN PARKING

With the upper floors furnishing garage space, a new method will allow a speed of 15 miles an hour in attaining a place. To allow this, dished ramps on all curves will be provided. An overflow room will care for the peak hours and speedy delivery of cars in the evening will be an outstanding feature.

Another feature will be the delivery of merchandise from the store to the garage.

The building is expected to be completed by March 1. According to the management, future plans for the buildings occupied in Market street will depend upon customers' demands. There is the possibility of an open market with private sidewalks occupying the site. Also, if the new garage facilities are found inadequate, a portion of the property may be given over for this purpose.

The Mellon-Stuart Company will be the contractors and Bernard H. Prack the architect.

Tafel Sails to Head Branch in Germany

SENATE TO ACT ON FARM BOARD

WASHINGTON, Oct. 16.—(INS.)—The new $600,000,000 tariff bill through which the Senate has been working its way so many weeks was slated to give way today to consideration of nominations of the members of President Hoover's federal farm board.

While a number of senators indicated that they would express views unfavorable to members of the board, it was believed all members would eventually receive the approval of the Senate. The strongest opposition was centered against the cotton member, Carl Williams, of Oklahoma, and the wheat member, Samuel R. McKelvie, of Nebraska. Both received three unfavorable votes in committee, but opposition against them is not regarded as sufficiently organized to prevent their confirmation. One vote in committee was against Chairman Alexander Legge, of the farm board, but no great opposition was expected to develop against him on the floor of the Senate.

NEW OIL HEADS TAKE POSTS

Adoption by individual members of the national code of ethics was the chief endeavor of the closing sessions today of the Pennsylvania Independent Oil Men's Association convention in the William Penn Hotel.

New officers assuming their duties today were S. M. Cohen, of Altoona, president, and J. G. Snowden, Williamsport, vice president. Secretary R. A. Overholser and Treasurer R. C. Paul, both of Harrisburg, were renamed at the election held yesterday afternoon.

The convention closes this afternoon after discussions led by Capt. W. C. Luth and Warren G. Platt. The code of ethics before the session was drawn up by the American Petroleum Institute and Federal Trade Commission. It has already been adopted by the state organization.

Rum Buyer Induced By Dry Agents Free

RICHMOND, Va., Oct. 16.—(AP.)—Judge D. Lawrence Groner, of the United States District Court, holds that a person induced to violate the National Prohibition Act by a law enforcement officer should not be punished.

In his instruction to a jury here yesterday in the case of A. G. Blankenship, of Petersburg, Judge Groner said: "The primary crime is with the officer and not with the citizen."

Blankenship testified that two men whom he later learned were federal agents persuaded him to buy liquor for them. He was acquitted.

Garfield Selected For Land Grant Post

WASHINGTON, Oct. 16.—(AP.)—President Hoover is understood to have decided upon Dr. Harry A. Garfield, president of Williams College, as chairman of the prospective commission to study the advisability of turning over surface rights of federal lands to the several states.

Garfield is a son of the former President. He was United States Fuel Administrator under President Wilson at the same time that Mr. Hoover was Food Administrator.

Street Car Bombed In Labor Strife

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 16.—(AP.)—A street car on the Napoleon avenue line was blown up early today. The motorman was lacerated by flying glass but the passengers escaped unhurt. The windows were blown out of the car and the trackage torn up by the explosion, one of a number of planted dynamitings since the car system has been operated by public service with non-union labor since the union men left their jobs July 2.

"KILL HIM," SHOUTS WRITER, AND POLICE COME—BUT IT'S ONLY PLAY

By DOROTHY HERZOG
(Copyright, 1929, by Premier Syndicate)

HOLLYWOOD, Oct. 16.

FORREST, Halsey, W. K. Writer and Earl Roebeck were working on a crook sketch at Forrest's house. To test the realism of the lines, Halsey began to read them. As he read, he waxed excited and shouted such hair-raising lines as: "I'll kill him," "I know where it's hidden." Etc., etc.

Some one passing by heard and sent a hurry call to the police. Halsey and Roebeck were jerked back to reality by a rat-tat on the door. Enter a police officer followed by his stalwart men. Looking out of the window, Forrest discovered the house was surrounded by the police!

It took a good few minutes to explain he was merely reading a crook sketch. Then he invited the police officer and his wife to dinner the following eve!

We were discussing the changes in motion pictures. Nearly every change, be it in type of story or star, is caused by the public. Youngsters reach the age when they go to the movies. Their opinoins influence the older folks. Ergo, pictures, stories are changed or go through the tortures of change.

Clara Bow

Mrs. James Gleason, however, has hit upon a theory which may be the perfect solution to halt the bewildering changes from year to year.

"Race suicide will be pictures' salvation," opines she.

Richman Sketch At Writer's Club

SPEAKING of the Gleasons, it's just possible that they will soon appear, together with Clara Bow and Harry Richman, in a hilarious sketch at the Writers' Club. A sketch that Richman appeared in on Broadway and that was sure-fire. The curtain rises on Jimmy and Lucille Gleason busy mixing liquids. They taste the concoction and taste it and finally decide it's right. Enter Clara and Harry. They taste it and decide it's all wrong. As they re-mix, they continue to taste and pretty soon are gloriously illuminated. Harry, for some reason, pushes Mrs. Gleason. "Don't push me," she flares, thickly. "How dare you push my wife," Jimmy threatens. "He can push her if he wants," Clara snarls. Whereupon everybody pushes everybody else with much shouting. Enter a policeman. "What's all this racket?" Jumbled explanations which he hushes. "Gowan youse," to Richman. "Take her home," pointing to Mrs. Gleason. Harry tries to explain she isn't his wife, but the copper won't listen. So he bundles her off and turns at the door to instruct Jimmy: "Put her to bed," pointing to Clara, "and see that she gets her rest." Curtain.

It sounds fishier than the choicest fish yarn. But here 'tis. Hobart Bosworth needed an elaborate old frock coat suit for a scene in Al Jolson's talky, "Mammy." He dug in his wardrobe and excavated a suit which he had bought almost 40 years ago. And wore it. Now, I ask you . . . But to human interest-ize the story, Bosworth remembered that on the first day he wore that suit in New York he met John Drew, who took him to see his sister who in turn displayed to Mr. B. her youngest child named John Barrymore. If the suit is 40 years old, how old was John when Mr. B. saw him?

Hobart Bosworth.

Players Dodge Florida Storm

SCREENALTIES: Lupe Valez writes from Tampa, Fla., that the recent hurricane came close enough to the "Hell's Harbor" troupe to give them all a shivery scare. . . . Vivian Seegal lunching with three men at Ye Brown Derby. Vivian, by the by, recently moved from an apartment into a house. She's finding the local servant problem pretty tough. A few years more and the entire colony, with few exceptions, will resort to the comforts of cliff dwelling. . . . Haven't seen much in print regarding the split-up of the William Boyd's (Pathe Bill). But split they have, after a couple years of matrimony. . . . Anita Page steppin'

IF BACK HURTS BEGIN ON SALTS

No man or woman can make a mistake by flushing the kidneys occasionally, says a well-known authority. Too much rich food creates acids which clog the kidney pores so they sluggishly filter or strain only part of the waste and poisons from the blood. Then you get sick. Rheumatism, headaches, liver trouble, nervousness, constipation, dizziness, sleeplessness, bladder disorders often come from sluggish kidneys.

The moment you feel a dull ache in the kidneys or your back hurts, or if the urine is cloudy, offensive, full of sediment, irregular of passage, or attended by a sensation of scalding, begin to drink soft water in quantities; also get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any reliable pharmacy and take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys may then act fine.

This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for years to help flush clogged kidneys and stimulate them to activity, also to help neutralize the acids in the system so they no longer cause irritation, thus often relieving bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is inexpensive and cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink, which everyone can take now and then to help keep the kidneys clean and the blood pure, thereby often preventing serious kidney complications.

German Players To Present Comedy

Pittsburgh has had a German dramatic company for three years past under the management of Fritz Melchior, and this company will give one of its monthly productions Thursday evening at Moose Temple. A comedy, "Die Schwebende Jungfrau" (which might be translated as "Queen of the Wire"), will be presented with Lina Melchior in the principal role. Next month the same company will present a classic drama by Anzenbruber.

"Sax" Drives Away Thoughts of Cold!

He thought he couldn't play that night, but the cold he'd caught that morning had departed. Most professional people know what really knocks a cold in a few hours; many go through the winter without any trouble from colds. It's a compound that comes in little white tablets. Take one, and that first snuffle is just about the last; or several tablets if you've let the cold go until it's serious.

Pape's Cold Compound is all you ask for; and the druggist charges 35c for a package, and it never seems to fail for anybody.

COMPLETE LAST ROAD SECTION

The last section of the new $1,000,000 Saw Mill Run boulevard will be completed today, it was announced by W. J. Adamack, office manager of the John F. Casey Contracting Company. The road will be opened for traffic by Thanksgiving.

The 30-foot concrete boulevard starting at West Liberty avenue end at Noble's lane, Overbrook, a distance of three miles, and will link the South Hills communities with Pittsburgh by eliminating several miles of round about roads. Two hundred and twenty-five men were employed continuously on the project, Mr. Adamack said. Superintendent W. J. Walsh is in charge of the construction.

The north end of the boulevard will be completed some time next year, it was reported. That part will start on the north side of West Liberty avenue and continue on to the West End, linking up the communities in that section of the county.

A GLORIFIED CLEAR SKIN

A CLEAR, smooth, lovely skin enhances personal attractiveness! Men admire it. Women praise and secretly envy. More happiness and friends may depend upon it.

Healthy skin is clear, smooth and lovely. It is Nature's outward reflection of internal healthfulness.

The way to the skin is through the blood. Rich, red, healthy blood nourishes the body and aids in protecting it against infection and disease.

Skin troubles and sallow complexion are usually but symptoms of a deeper, a more dangerous trouble—a lack of the normal count of red-cells in the blood.

When you take S.S.S. to get rid of these outside blemishes you are building up the system to ward off the graver diseases of which these blemishes are Nature's warning.

S.S.S.

© S.S.S. Co.

If you are one of the embarrassed—and men are not exceptions—with skin blemishes that linger, and sometimes leave scars, you will want to possess body power to clear up your skin.

S. S. S. will help Nature give you this power. Internal healthfulness will then reflect in your skin a natural loveliness—a skin glorified.

Millions of people have taken advantage of the wonderful medicinal properties in S. S. S. It gives to Nature what it needs to build you up so that your system may throw off the cause.

When your system is filled with rich, red blood, the body's power of resistance to infection and disease is raised. Your appetite should improve. Firm flesh should take the place of that which was once flabby. You should sleep soundly. You should feel strong. Your nerves become steady.

Take S. S. S. daily at mealtime. It promotes healthy body building. Seek energy, vitality and a clear skin through the great blood tonic which is made from strictly fresh vegetable drugs and has stood the test for over 100 years. All good drug stores sell S.S.S. in two sizes. Ask for the larger size. It is more economical.

Thrift Has Valuable By-Products

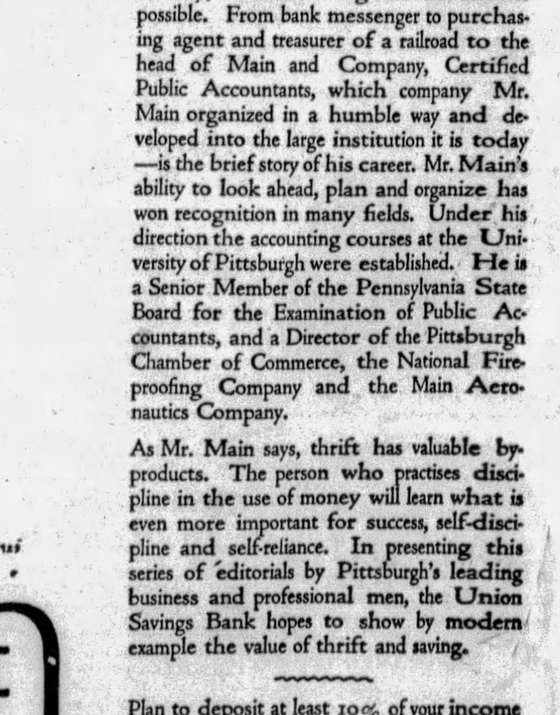
Frank Wilbur Main
President
Main and Company



THERE is more to thrift than the mere accumulation of money. Thrift is an important factor in character building. Self-discipline, self-restraint and self-reliance are its by-products. And the by-products are more important than the product itself. Without these qualities, success is impossible. I heartily advise young men and women just starting out in life to practice thrift in everything—to look ahead, plan wisely, and save.

Mr. Frank Wilbur Main had no one to help him when at the age of sixteen he started out to make his way in the world. He did have, however, the desire to succeed, and an understanding of the principles of industry, thrift and saving that made success possible. From bank messenger to purchasing agent and treasurer of a railroad to the head of Main and Company, Certified Public Accountants, which company Mr. Main organized in a humble way and developed into the large institution it is today—is the brief story of his career. Mr. Main's ability to look ahead, plan and organize has won recognition in many fields. Under his direction the accounting courses at the University of Pittsburgh were established. He is a Senior Member of the Pennsylvania State Board for the Examination of Public Accountants, and a Director of the Pittsburgh Chamber of Commerce, the National Fireproofing Company and the Main Aeronautics Company.

As Mr. Main says, thrift has valuable by-products. The person who practises discipline in the use of money will learn what is even more important for success, self-discipline and self-reliance. In presenting this series of editorials by Pittsburgh's leading business and professional men, the Union Savings Bank hopes to show by modern example the value of thrift and saving.

Trawlers To Give Colorful Radio Story Tonight

By DARRELL V. MARTIN,
Sun-Telegraph Radio Editor.

PICTURESQUE and colorful will be the Trawlers' presentation tonight of a sea story based on the adventures of Civil War blockade runners. The old skipper of the "Spray" will be heard in this dramatic yarn through KDKA at 9:30.

"Deep in My Heart," from "The Student Prince" will draw many listeners to the Palmolive Hour, WCAE at 9:30 o'clock. Besides giving us a duet of this number, Oliver Palmer and Paul Oliver will present "Silver Threads Among the Gold."

Two hits from "Gold Diggers of Broadway" stand out as highlights of the Troubadours' concert, WCAE at 9.

WJAS will have at 11 o'clock a play that was produced for the first time in Pittsburgh, "The Coming Day," on Hank Simmons' Show Boat, should have a particular appeal for Pittsburghers.

We Now Present

Daily at 2:30 p. m., except Sunday, WJAS will present a half hour of concert music to be known as the Columbia Music Hour. This will please housewives who have wanted for a long time some musical entertainment at this time of the day.

Every time we open the mail we find a statement from Mr. A. Atwater Kent to the effect that he does not contemplate merging with any other radio manufacturing concerns. "Once and for all, I wish to state that there is absolutely no basis whatever for such reports he states." "I have conducted my own business for more than 27 years and I contemplate no change in my policy."

Having read this statement no less than a dozen times in the last two days, we conclude that Mr. A. Atwater Kent wants it understood that he is thoroughly satisfied with the progress of his organization. And he certainly has a right to be.

New Rugs have been laid in the KQV studio and paint has been spread on the walls. We may expect an official opening in a month or so.

TODAY'S TID BIT:

Milton Tully, often heard in recitals over WCAE, knows his radio. He is a salesman for U. S. Radio Company, Crosley distributors.

"Carmen"
Carmen, piqued at the indifference of Don Jose, a lieutenant of the military detail, sings "The Habanera" (Love Is Like a Bird) and captivates the young officer, despite the fact that he is betrothed to Micaela, his village sweetheart.
Don Jose is imprisoned for failing to do his duty when he allows Carmen to escape after wounding one of her companions. Awaiting the lieutenant after his release, Carmen flirts with Escamillo, the most popular toreador in Spain, who sings "The Toreador Song." After a struggle with smugglers, the story moves to the mountain resort. Carmen's affairs are many and arouse the jealousy of Don Jose. On learning that his mother is dying, he decides to go to her. Carmen taunts him and Don Jose is desperate at the thought of leaving her and pours forth his passion in the love song, "Air de Fleur" (Flower Song).
At the great bull fight, Escamillo makes love to Carmen while awaiting his call. Carmen is warned that Don Jose is watching her, but she pays no heed. Don Jose approaches and pleads with her to return with him, but the pretty Gypsy scorns him. Enraged, Don Jose plunges a dagger into Carmen's heart and she drops dead as Escamillo emerges triumphant from the arena.

JURIST URGES INDICTMENTS

WHEELING, W. Va., Oct. 16.—The October term of United States District Court for the Northern District of West Virginia, convened with Judge W. E. Baker presiding. Following the calling of the civil docket, the court charged the grand jury.

In his charge, Judge Baker called attention to the many Jones law violations that will be presented, saying that over 60 would be up for consideration. He urged indictments in all cases where violations of the national prohibition law was believed to have taken place. The Harrison narcotic act, the Mann white slave act, the interstate shipment act, the counterfeiting act and others were called to the attention of the jurors.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 16.—(AP.)—Dr. Edwin E. Slosson, 64, director of science service, died at his home here last night of heart disease after an illness of a month.

Dr. Slosson was born at Albany, Kan., and was educated at the University of Kansas. Later he was affiliated with the University of Wyoming and the Columbia School of Journalism, but the last nine years of his life were spent here. He was the author of numerous scientific books.

Mellons Give Fund To Eye Institute

BALTIMORE, Oct. 16.—(AP.)—Gift of $30,000 for a fellowship at the Wilmer Eye Institute, by Secretary of the Treasury Andrew W. Mellon and his brother was announced at the institute dedication. A telegram from Secretary Mellon to Mrs. Henry Breckenridge brought news of the gift. A similar fellowship already had been established by gift of Alolph Lewishon, of New York.

Salesman, Broke, Leaps to Death

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Oct. 16.—(AP.)—After writing notes declaring that he was broken, both in health and finances, and giving directions for the disposal of his body, W. D. Hogan, 45, a shoe salesman of St. Louis and formerly a prosperous business man of Knoxville, Tenn., plunged to his death from the seventh floor of a downtown hotel here yesterday.

Princess' Gems Sold for Debts, Sacrificed

BONN, Germany, Oct. 16.—(AP.)—The total receipts of the auction of valuables belonging to Princess Victoria, sister of the former Kaiser, brought only 76,390 marks (about $19,000), of which 73,960 marks were paid for family silver. Fraulein Franzen, lady-in-waiting to the princess, attended the auction all day but did not bid.

The sale of the objects, many of them presents from kings and queens, was forced to meet the debts of Alexander Subkoff, youthful Russian whom the princess married against the will of her family. Before they separated he had created debts of about $250,000 for her.

Round, tapered corners make Kotex inconspicuous
under every type of gown

One important reason why 9 out of 10 smartly-dressed women insist on Kotex

WHAT a sense of complete security and peace of mind Kotex brings! There is no way in which it can ever embarrass.

Kotex is designed so carefully there's never a suggestion of its use. Corners are rounded and tapered for perfect fit. There is no awkward bulk.

Why Kotex is light, dainty

Kotex can be made without bulk or weight because of its unusual filler . . . Cellucotton absorbent wadding. Cellucotton absorbs 5 times more than an equal weight of cotton. You get protection, therefore, without a trace of old-time bulkiness.

This remarkable Cellucotton filler is laid in thin air-cooled layers. These layers cannot pack, and therefore Kotex never loses its softness. Surgeons in 85% of the hospitals in this country select this same filler because of its remarkable absorption and comfort.

Kotex deodorizes

Kotex deodorizes, too—so very important to complete daintiness. And disposes instantly, just like tissue. The Cellucotton layers can easily be adjusted as needs change.

Please read the column of special Kotex features at the right. It gives other reasons why women all over the world prefer Kotex.

KOTEX IS SOFT...

1—Not a deceptive softness, that soon packs into chafing hardness. But a delicate, lasting softness.

2—Safe, secure . . . keeps your mind at ease.

3—Kotex filler is far lighter and cooler than cotton, yet absorbs 5 times as much.

4—In hospitals . . . Kotex is the identical material used by surgeons in 85% of the country's leading hospitals.

World War Nurse Found Dead in Home

WASHINGTON, Pa., Oct. 16.—Mrs. Josephine Buchanan, 60, widow of Charles P. Buchanan, horseman of Independence, who died a few months ago, was found dead in her home by neighbors.

Mrs. Buchanan, who served as a Red Cross nurse during the World War, had lived alone since the death of her husband. Acute indigestion was the cause.

How To Lose Two Dozen Pounds of Fat

At the Same Time Gain in Physical Vigor and Youthfulness and Swiftly Possess a Clear Skin and Vivacious Eyes That Sparkle With Glorious Health.

Here's the recipe that banishes fat and brings into blossom all the natural attractiveness that every woman possesses.

Every morning take one-half teaspoonful of Kruschen Salts in a glass of hot water before breakfast. Be sure and do this every morning for "It's the little daily dose that takes off the fat." Don't miss a morning. The Kruschen habit means that every particle of poisonous waste matter and harmful acids and gases are expelled from the system.

At the same time the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels are tuned up and the pure, fresh blood containing Nature's six life-giving salts are carried to every organ, gland, nerve and fibre of the body and this is followed by "that Kruschen feeling" of energetic health and activity that is reflected in bright eyes, clear skin, cheerful vivacity and charming figure.

If you want to lose fat with speed get an 85c bottle of Kruschen Salts from any live druggist anywhere in America with the distinct understanding that you must be satisfied with results or money back.

For sale at all May's & Liggett's Drug Stores all over Greater Pittsburgh.

FEW EXEMPTED FROM GAS TAX

HARRISBURG, Pa., Oct. 16.—(AP.)—Only liquid fuels consumed by the federal government or any of its agencies, or by the Commonwealth, and paid for out of state funds, are exempt from the Pennsylvania gasoline tax, William A. Schnader, special deputy attorney general, has ruled.

The ruling was made at the request of Bejamin G. Eynon, deputy secretary of revenue, charged with collection of the tax.

Gasoline used by school districts, cities, boroughs, townships, state institutions, state-aided institutions, and by volunteer fire departments can be exempted only by a specific act of the Legislature, Schnader ruled.

Naphtha and benzine used exclusively for dry cleaning is also subject to the tax, Schnader said in another part of the opinion.

Contractors Begin Rebuilding Pike

WASHINGTON, Pa., Oct. 16.—Preliminary work on the reconstruction of eight and a half miles of the National Pike between Washington and Claysville has been started at Rosemire, about seven miles West of here. The road will cost approximately $1,000,000.

PATRICIA PITT'S SPRIGHTLY COMMENT ON PITTSBURGH'S SOCIETY HAPPENINGS

Miss Keating Will Wed Tomorrow

SOMEONE just must bring poetry about fall up the scale in mood, for who today can agree that the melancholy days are here, the saddest of the year? What with all these weddings, and debutante parties and benefits, balls and dances, most folks are having a hard time to be sedate and dignified these joyful autumnal days.

Before I talk about a wedding tomorrow, I'd just like to remind you that the home of Mrs. John D. Ritchey, of Oak Hills Farm, Gibsonia, will be the scene tonight at 7 o'clock of the wedding of her sister, Sarah Eleanor Flower, daughter of Mrs. William S. Flower, of the Schenley Apartments, and Herbert L. Sander, Jr., son of the H. L. Sanders, of South Linden avenue.

Some days ago I mentioned that Matilda Keating, one of the charming daughters of the Francis Anthony Keatings, of Pembroke place, had named tomorrow as the date of her marriage to Donovan Wilmot, of Lambertville, N. J., and a brother of the Frank Moore Wilmots of Park Mansions.

The wedding will take place at 5:30 o'clock tomorrow afternoon in the Keating home with the Rev. William McMullen, of St. Paul's Cathedral, as officiant. There'll be a wedding dinner at the home, and a reception. Jean Rowland Keating will be her sister's only attendant, and Frank M. Wilmot will be best man.

CHIPMUNK FUR MUCH USED FOR TRIMMING WRAPS AND COATS

—Sketched in Paris—

Demand for Fur Popular This Season

Paris Bureau,
Pittsburgh Sun-Telegraph.

PARIS, Oct. 15.—You may carry a chipmunk on your shoulder! It is rather remarkable to observe the present vogue for furs that, until recently, had never crossed the threshold of an exclusive couturier. Paris has glorified the rabbit, and now a rabbit by any other name is a—lain, and is doing wonderfully well in its new role of trimming luxurious wraps and coats. So now, the chipmunk is coming in for its share of attention, and is much used for sports clothes, and for cravat and muff sets for more formal wear. This is one of the greatest fur seasons we have had for some time, and it is so used and manipulated that, although garments are lavishly trimmed, they do not appear overburdened or overtrimmed. And that is an attribute, of which fur-trimmed garments could not previously boast. Discreet lavishness is the watchword of the designers of today.

REBOUX, who has done such wonders with felt hats, is stressing the tricorne this season, and we show today one of the best examples of this shape. It is of biege taupe felt, and its off-the-face lines are definitely tricorne. The tailored little "V" at the side front is of grosgrain ribbon. And now to our chipmunk set. It is from Maggy Rouff, who is one of the sponsors of the muff-purse idea. A triangular piece is cut in the top of the muff, which turns back to reveal the zipper entrance to the purse beneath. The flap fastens again with a concealed snap. The cravat is ever so smartly tailored.

ALSO illustrated is one of the new coats from Molyneux. It is of black woolen, very soft in texture and lightweight, with a lavish collar of clipped caracul. This fur is also used on the jaunty little cape, and makes the sleeves from the elbow down to the wrist. Like all the models in Capt. Molyneux's collection, the lines are straight and narrow, varying slightly from the silhouette of models shown earlier in the season.

Federation Creates Office

ERIE, Pa., Oct. 16.—The creation of a new office in the State Federation of Pennsylvania Women, that of second vice president, was the act of the convention yesterday. To fill the office, the name of Mrs. R. H. Godcharles, of Mitlon, was added to the ticket for election Thursday.

Mrs. Ambrose Nevin Diehl, vice president of the federation, reported that 31 clubs have joined the federation during the year, making a total of 442 now in the organization.

Citizenship and problems of industry were the two leading topics discussed, the first presented by Mrs. William R. Alvord, of Detroit, general federation chairman, and the second by Miss Sara Soffel, of Pittsburgh.

"Citizenship is a matter of every day living and voting is one phase of it," Mrs. Alvord declared as part of a plea for right living and thinking and support of the best in life. Touching on law observance, she declared that obedience to law begins in the home and the parent who allows disregard for the home government will have to pay for it in sorrow and suffering.

The problem of employment was discussed by Miss Soffel, who declared that adequate means should be arranged for the people who are put out of work by the introduction of machinery.

Otto Kahn, of the directorate of the Metropolitan Opera, spoke last night on "Art and Leisure" and Mme. Catherine De Vogel gave a recital. Today's morning session was devoted to reports.

Following the department of home luncheon in the Lawrence Hotel ballroom and the club institute luncheon in the Y. W. C. A., the program included the home department report by Mrs. J. M. Phillips and that of education by Mrs. Frank Haller and an address, "Our Changing Education," by Frederick C. Ferry, president of Hamilton College.

The division of literature conference is scheduled for the afternoon, with Don Blanding, poet and critic, telling about Hawaii and reading his own poems. The Federation dinner for all delegates and visiting club women will take place tonight when Sidney Gulick, secretary, Federal Council of Churches in America, will speak on "The Leadership of America."

RADIO MERGER INQUIRY ASKED

WASHINGTON, Oct. 16.—(AP.)—While congressional circles looked upon the affiliation of General Motors Corporation and the Radio Corporation of America as outside the jurisdiction of Congress, the Radio Protective Association asked the Department of Justice to investigate the merger.

Chairman Couzens of the Senate Interstate Commerce Committee and Senator Dill (Dem.), of Washington, did not believe Congress had any control over the consolidation.

The Radio Protective Association made its appeal "in the name of independent radio industry," contending that the merger violated the Sherman anti-trust law.

"FOR 15 YEARS I SUFFERED; THEN KONJOLA CAME!"

Pittsburgh Lady Had Spent Hundreds of Dollars Seeking Escape From Various Ills

How much better to try Konjola in the first place! Quit experimenting—quit groping as if in the dark. Put your faith in this new and different medicine as tens of thousands have to their everlasting joy.

MRS. F. J. GYENES

Remarkable, indeed, are many of the recoveries brought about by this modern medicine of 32 ingredients, 22 of them the juices of roots and herbs. So remarkable, indeed, that they might challenge belief were the facts not known and verified. Consider, as such an experience, that of Mrs. F. J. Gyenes, 3144 West Liberty Avenue, Pittsburgh, who suffered for fifteen years before she found the medicine she needed; the medicine she should have had in the first place—Konjola.

Would you know what Konjola may mean to you? Would you hear what it has done for tens of thousands, many of whom had well-nigh abandoned hope of ever being well again? Meet the Konjola Man at the Dow Drug Store (formerly McCulloch's), Penn Avenue and Sixth Street, Pittsburgh. He is here, not with promises and pledges, but with the true story of Konjola and the amazing record it has made wherever given the chance to prove its merits.

After all, what could be wiser than to be guided by the experiences of those who found in Konjola the right medicine? Read, then, the statement of Mrs. Gyenes, who said to the Konjola Man a few days ago:

"For fifteen years I suffered, and then Konjola came, bringing with it blessed relief from terrible anguish from rheumatism, neuritis, nervousness, dizzy spells and constipation. I spent hundreds of dollars taking treatments; I spent hundreds more in hospital bills, and the best I ever got was temporary relief, and very temporary at that. I suffered so that I felt that life was not worth living. The outlook was dark, for had not everything I tried failed? I need not try to describe the pangs and pains of rheumatism. All who have endured these dread ailments know what they mean. I was disheartened and discouraged beyond words.

"This was my condition when Konjola was recommended to me. I started on this new medicine merely hoping that it might do for me what I heard and read it had done for others. But I had little confidence. Imagine, then, my surprise and delight when I felt Konjola helping me. The very first bottle helped me, and as the weeks passed the improvement in my condition became more marked. To make a long story short, I took eight bottles, and in eight weeks I was like another person. Today I am feeling simply great; life is worth living, and I am enjoying health I never expected to have again. It is easy for me to understand why Konjola is known as the medicine with more than a million friends. If all who suffer knew about Konjola what I do it would have a billion friends."

So it goes; the same splendid story of results when Konjola is put to the test. Here is a pure, powerful medicine; effective in the most stubborn cases of the aged, yet it may be given to the youngest infant.

The Konjola Man is at the Dow Drug Store (formerly McCulloch's), Penn Avenue and Sixth Street, Pittsburgh, where daily he is meeting the public, and explaining the merits of this new and different medicine.

44-STORY SLIDE FATAL TO TWO

CHICAGO, Oct. 16.—(AP.)—A 44-story slide for life ended in tragedy for the stunter and a spectator at the new civic opera building on Wacker drive yesterday.

The rope slider, Fred Cimono, 23, of New York, lost his grip at the twentieth floor and fell to the pavement below, his body striking Albert Deckman, 19-year-old messenger, who died a few hours later.

Cimono shouted "Goodby, everybody," into a radio microphone, smiled confidently at the clicking cameras of newsreel men, and swung away down the rope. At about the twentieth floor he attempted to throw his feet up behind, to descend the rest of the way head first. Several hundred spectators below observed he was having difficulty. The exertion apparently weakened him. His grip on the rope relaxed and he fell, his body striking the edge of an elevated railroad platform and caroming to the street.

Deckman's neck was broken. Another spectator, John Caraher, 18, was injured but will recover.

CITY OFFICIALS INDICTED

CLEVELAND, O., Oct. 16.—(AP.)—Two of Cleveland's highest city officials were indicted on charges of having a financial interest in a $33,250 public land fraud here, the same transaction which already has sent one councilman and his son to the penitentiary.

The new indictments were against City Clerk Fred W. Thomas and Councilman William E. Potter. The latter pleaded not guilty at once and was released on $5,000 bond.

Action of the grand jury was based on testimony of Harmon G. Atwater, "key man" in the deal, that Thomas, Potter, former Councilman Liston G. Schooley and Schooley's son, Liston, Jr., hired him in an unsuccessful attempt to "cover up" the transaction.

The Schooleys pleaded guilty several months ago and are now serving penitentiary sentences, but did not reveal who got the "profit." Atwater was unable to enlighten the grand jury on that phase of the deal, although he pleaded guilty recently for his part in the plot.

Snipers Open Fire On Coast Guards

DETROIT, Oct. 16.—(AP.)—Coast guards reported today they were fired on shortly after 4:30 a. m. after they had seized a beer-laden rowboat and arrested its alleged owner at Grassy Island, opposite Wyandotte, in the Detroit River. The officers were unable to discover the source of the shots.

LOOKING DOWN INTO CRUDE OIL STILL THAT FLARED INTO FIRE

With little warning, an immense column of flames shot high into the sky over this crude oil still that overflowed at Atlantic Refining Company, Butler street.

DURING the football season local hotels take extra precautions to guard the bric-a-brac from enthusiastic rooters. Recently one of the biggest hotels in town, playing host to an out-of-town football delegation removed fire extinguishers from the room, along with breakable things, due to the fact that last year it cost the hotel $17,000 to repair damage done by an out-of-town contingent.

The wildest time, however, came a few years ago when "whoopee" was made in historic fashion. Even hard-boiled house detectives recall this particular night—a celebration of a victory over Pitt—as the wildest night in local, and very possibly, national hotel annals.

JOHN REYNOLDS, manager of the Alvin, and a long-ago reporter, asked the police to furnish a constant guard over jewelry owned by La Guinan, famous one time night club hostess, now back on the stage. However, the local gendarmes figured that getting jewelry away from Miss Guinan would be something that wouldn't tempt the cleverest robber.

Several years ago the man made several hundred thousand dollars out of selling illicit whisky. He retired from the racket and went into a legitimate pursuit, where he lost all his cash. Out of the wreck he managed to save furniture, and particularly, expensive rugs. He went away for a vacation and sent the rugs to be stored. The warehouse burned down. Operated by a none-too-good concern, the warehouse failed to make good on the loss. The rugs were valued at $100,000.

LOUIS GRAHAM, the new Federal district attorney, likes to tell of a relative who owns a small town paper in the hinterlands, and who has his own ideas of the power of the press. Some time ago the editor wanted to go to a theater and so he dashed off a neat editorial on the uplifting qualities of the drama, and armed with the editorial he requested two on the aisle. The manager, however, said the editorial wasn't long enough.

The first and the fifteenth of the month is pay-day to some people, but to the local police it is the day when transfers are made. New beats are assigned to patrolmen, new districts to lieutenants. Inspectors and captains are fairly stationary. Changes are made for various reasons and are announced usually "for the good of the service."

RECALCITRANTS are given penance in the form of lonesome, long beats. There is one in the West End that necessitates the ascent of 1,000 or more steps up a steep hillside.

* * *

Another form of punishment for waywardness is to assign a man, who, for instance, lives in the West End, a beat close to the Wilkinsburg line, this involving a couple of tidy hours on the street cars coming and going.

OLDER men prefer the quieter districts; young men want to be where there's life and action.

YOUTHS TO SEEK FLIGHT RECORD

Two youths, planning an endurance flight between New York, Boston and Pittsburgh beginning next Sunday, are looking over the city and its environs from the air today to acquaint themselves with local landing fields and other facilities to insure success of the enterprise.

They are Alvin S. Robbins, 17, and Edwards Williams, 19, both of Mineola, L. I. Robbins is pilot and Williams aide. They made their debut to Pittsburgh aviation fans last night at the Sheridan Square and Harris theaters where the aerial sound picture, "Flight" is being shown.

The young aviators flew to Bettis Airport yesterday from Long Island in a Curtis Robin, the ship which holds the present endurance record of 420 hours. They pin their hopes of setting a new record in a Bellanca cabin monoplane—"The Spirit of Youth"—which is being fitted with radio equipment over which the youths will broadcast their experiences over a short wave band to radio stations which will broadcast the messages over the regular wave bands.

They plan to return to New York this afternoon.

The itenerary of the trip for the first few days is as follows: After the refueling contact at dawn Monday, the "Spirit of Youth" will be headed westward, arriving over Pittsburgh sometime in the forenoon and after flying over the city all day Monday and Monday night, the youths will head toward Boston for a day and a night, returning again to New York and continuing in this fashion.

Refueling will be made from another Bellanca ship which will accompany the fliers over the circuit. Refueling contacts will be made here from the Pittsburgh-Butler Airport.

REALTORS OPEN MEET HERE

Early registrations indicate approximately 600 delegates, the largest gathering in the history of the organization. Many of the realtors are accompanied by their wives. A bridge and tea for the visiting women is being held this afternoon at the Keystone Athletic Club.

The first day's program includes an address of welcome by J. W. Cree, Jr., president of the Pittsburgh Real Estate Board, and a response by W. Edwin Blair, president of the Pennsylvania Real Estate Association. Philip N. Arnold, president of the Philadelphia Real Estate Board, is scheduled for an address on business conditions.

The appraisal committee of the Pittsburgh board will demonstrate an appraisal of downtown property before the convention late this afternoon. The Grogan Building at the southwest corner of Sixth avenue and Wood tsreet has been selected as the example.

Tonight the five-minute "Home Town Speech Contest" will be held. Orators from all parts of the state will tell of the glories of their native towns. Judges in the contest are: Judge James H. Gray, Dr. H. A. Nomer and Attorney John B. Nichlas, Jr. The winner will carry home a silver cup presented by the Philadelphia board. Following the contest, the floor will be cleared for dancing.

Pumpkin Pie Eating Contest Tomorrow

Pumpkin pie will be eaten in the Odd Fellows Gardens, 1800 Sarah street, tomorrow night. The person who eats most of it will win one of Johnny Jones' prizes. It is another contest.

LEADERS BACK VOTE MACHINES

The Citizens' Voting Machine Campaign Committee was happy today in having obtained signed pledges of assistance from five of the most powerful political chieftains in Allegheny County.

W. L. Mellon, former Republican state chairman; County Commissioner Joseph G. Armstrong, county chairman; Senator James J. Coyne, city chairman; David L. Lawrence, Democratic county chairman, and Mayor Charles H. Kline penned their names under the following:

PLEDGE SUPPORT

"We, the undersigned, do hereby declare that we are in favor of the use of voting machines throughout Allegheny County at all elections, and will lend our assistance in procuring their adoption."

Ten well-known business and professional men also have signed the pledge—Julian Kennedy, J. O. Miller, Taylor Allderdice, F. R. Dravo, Royal Goldsbury, James L. Stuart, William H. Stevenson, George L. Hallman, Augustus K. Oliver and A. C. Robinson.

SEEK PARTY AID

Mrs. Q. W. Hershey, executive secretary of the Voting Machine Campaign Committee, said she was hopeful that indorsement of the proposal by the political leaders would pave the way for the adoption of resolutions by the Republican and Democratic city and county committees recommending that citizens vote in favor of voting machines at the approaching election.

Opposition to the proposal at the present time was said to be in the form of unorganized "sniping."

SLOAN ON TRIAL FOURTH TIME

Loretta Hurtz, 19, of Spring Garden avenue, spurned a "fine diamond ring and a box of candy" proffered by John B. Sloan, thrice convicted robber, she testified today in Criminal Court at Sloan's fourth trial in eight days.

Sloan was on trial today charged with robbing Mrs. Hedwig Griebel, 75, of 2400 Spring Garden avenue, of $2,300 and jewelry, April 27, 1928. Eight other charges are pending against him.

"After he was discharged at the police court hearing he talked with me and later called at my home," testified Miss Hurtz. "He told me he would give me a diamond ring and candy if I would change two numbers of an automobile license I had noted standing near the Griebel home the night of the robbery. I refused.

"He also asked to take me to the theater. I asked my mother and she advised against it, so I didn't go," she testified.

The prosecution relied largely upon the number of the automobile license plates to sustain the allegation that Sloan was one of the gang that robbed Mrs. Griebel.

Mrs. Griebel, through an interpreter, testified that three men entered her room and took the money, of which $700 was in gold, from a trunk. She could not identify Sloan, she said.

Sloan was convicted yesterday—the third time in a week—of robbery in the $6,000 payroll holdup of the Ruud Manufacturing Company. Previously he had been found guilty in the $10,500 robbery of the Tech Food Products Company and the attempted holdup of the Hays National Bank.

Two Men Arrested In War on Peddlers

"If peddlers annoy you in your office notify the police," was the advice given today by I. L. Gillespie, assistant director of the Public Safety Department, who has opened a campaign to rid the city of peddlers who canvass office buildings. In many cases, Mr. Gillespie states, the peddlers berate those who fail to purchase their wares. Two men, who were said to be selling wares in office buildings were arrested yesterday on charges of violating a city ordinance.

Ralph Stanton, 25, of Edgewood, and Frank H. Palmer, 27, of 804 Cedar avenue, were held over when arraigned in Central Police Court today.

RAID 11 PLACES IN BRADDOCK

Prohibition agents and constables raided 11 places, 10 of them dwellings, in Braddock yesterday. The East End, Blawnox and Duquesne also were visited.

In Braddock the officers reported raids on the homes of Joseph Brocio, of 201 Ninth street; Barney Yacinski, of 211 Penn street; Steve Nacisio, of 113 Seventh street; Antonia Wozinak, of 1009 Washington street; Alex Vargos, of 726 Talbot avenue; Stella Kowoliski and Joseph Kowiliski, of 536 Cherry way; Stanley Sabolewska, of 115 Third street; Peter Dziak, of 921 Washington street; George Miller, of 116 Seventh street, and Andy Koznelski, of 935 Washington street, and the store of Simon Lefkowitz, of 409 Talbot avenue. All were released on their own recognizance, after liquor had been seized in each, according to the raiders.

Moonshine was reported seized in raids on the home of Peter Duerr, of 517 West Grant street, and the store of Peter Linn, at 10 Hamilton street, both in Duquesne, the agents asserted.

Syldio Pandino and Frank Gagliard were held in Central Police Station in default of bond, following their arrest, agents said, in a raid on a saloon at 6518 Frankstown avenue, in which a small quantity of moonshine was seized.

After seizing liquor in the home of James Spagnola, Freeport road, Blawnox, the agents and constables raided a garage a short distance away, they said, and seized a truck containing a 100-gallon still and two large vats. Spagnola denied owning the truck and was released on his own recognizance.

Violates Padlock, Given $150 Fine

Michael J. Griffin, of Charles street, North Side, was held in contempt of court and fined $150 by Judge Thomas J. Ford in Common Pleas Court for violating a padlock injunction ordered April 23 last. An alternative sentence of 30 days to jail was fixed for failure to pay the fine within 15 days. At a hearing in the contempt proceeding it was testified that Griffin has been operating a poolroom at 2023 Charles street, a three-story brick building, which was padlocked for one year for violation of the Snyder act.

Negro Arrested On Holdup Charge

With the arrest of Albert Boyd, Negro, of 1614 Wylie avenue, West End police today expected to solve a series of holdups and robberies in that section, they said.

Boyd was arrested yesterday at Lime way and Woodstock street on a suspicious person charge, and identified as the robber who held up Aaron Jordan, of 400 Kearns street, a week ago, according to police. He is believed by police to be the highwayman who Sunday night shot Robert Diamond, 21, of 520 Kearns street, when Diamond resisted him.

2 MORE TOWNS AIR-MARKED

Two more Western Pennsylvania towns are reported as "air-marked" for the guidance of aviators.

G. C. Gressmen, supervising principal at Herminie, writes:

"In connection with your 'Mark Your Town' campaign, we thought you would be interested to know that the name HERMINIE has been placed upon the roof of the school house in letters 20 feet high and 10 feet wide. An arrow 40 feet long points to the north.

"The name was painted at the direction of the school directors last June. The borad has recently received a certificate of recognition from the Daniel Guggenheim Fund for the Promotion of Aeronautics."

J. H. Farrell, purchasing agent of the Macbeth-Evans Glass Company, Charleroi, writes:

"We thought you might be interested to know that we have painted one of our roofs with a double air-marking sign. The sign altogether is 25 feet high by 180 feet long, the letters being 16 feet wide and 25 feet high. The building on which this sign appears is right on the river bank, and the view is unobstructed by any other buildings."

PAIR HOLDS UP CANDY STORE

Two men armed with revolvers early today held up Charles Sarandow, owner of the Keystone candy shop at 5207 Butler street, as he was closing his store, and took $65 from the cash register, he reported to police. They escaped in an automobile parked in front of the building.

Alfred Dorn, of 1 Armada street, reported to police that three grips were stolen from his automobile while it was parked in front of 2118 Forbes street. The contents, pianotuning tools and rolls, was valued at $250, he said.

Fumes Kill Bellevue Man Repairing Auto

Charles Waechter, 28, of Jack's run, Bellevue, overcome by carbon monoxide gas, was found dead in his garage early today, according to a report to the coroner. He had been working on his car and his body was found underneath the machine by his mother, Mrs. Anna Waechter. The motor was still running.

Slips on Bottle Nipple, Asks $10,000

Personal injuries alleged to have been caused by slipping on the nipple of a nursing bottle were the basis of a suit filed in Common Pleas Court by Lydia Greenfield, of Coraopolis, against the Pittsburgh and Lake Erie Railroad Company, asking $10,000 damages.

She alleged that while descending the main stairway leading to the waiting room of the Pittsburgh station, South Side, March 19, 1928, to take a train to Coraopolis, she stepped on the nipple and was violently thrown, sustaining a sprained hip and other injuries. The staircase was dimly lighted, the suit alleged.

DROWNED GIRL'S BODY HERE

Nearly 3,000 miles from the scene of her death, Miss Hazel Lillian Wilke, former Avalon girl, will be laid to rest tomorrow, the first person to be buried in the new Allegheny County Memorial Park.

The body of Miss Wilke, who was drowned while bathing in the Pacific Ocean at Talara, Peru, three weeks ago, reached the end of the long journey home yesterday.

It was taken to Gray's undertaking parlors, Lincoln avenue, Bellevue, where funeral services will be held at 10 a. m. tomorrow by the Rev. Dr. J. Alvin Orr, pastor of the First United Presbyterian Church, North Side.

Additional information concerning Miss Wilke's death received by her mother, Mrs. Janet Becker, 523 Marie avenue, Avalon, from officials of the International Petroleum Company by whom she was employed as secretary, indicates that she was seized with cramps while bathing. Her body was found floating in a heavy sea by Peruvian fishermen. She left Avalon for Peru four years ago.

FIREMEN CHECK OIL BLAZE

Hundreds of thousands of dollars worth of property was endangered when a crude oil still overrun and caught fire in the Atlantic Refining Company, Butler and Fifty-seventh street, yesterday.

Firemen from all parts of the city confined the flames to the single still, fighting the fire with chemicals and water. Loss of oil was set at $600. Thousands of persons were attracted to the scene as flames leaped 60 feet above Butler street. Police from six districts kept the crowd out of danger.

Officials of the company, under orders from Plant Superintendent George Weaver, kept all spectators from the property.

ONE-MAN CAR PROTEST FAILS

Car riders on Mt. Washington and Duquesne Heights have lost their fight against the one-man car. The cars were put into service yesterday on the Mt. Washington line of the Pittsburgh Railways Company.

Thomas Fitzgerald, vice president of the railways company, has sent a letter to E. H. Altenbach, secretary of the Duquesne Heights Civic Association, informing him of the company's attitude in the matter, as a result of a visit of a large delegation of citizens from the district, which stormed his office last week.

So far as transfers between Mt. Washington and the West End and certain inclines are concerned, this subject is still under advisement. The spokesmen for the Duquesne Heights Civic Association requested that transfers be issued, but Mr. Fitzgerald informed his visitors that his company had never been able to enter into a satisfactory arrangement with the owners of the inclines.

Purchasing Agents Visit Heinz Plant

More than 100 members of the Pittsburgh Purchasing Agents' Association yesterday toured the plant of the H. J. Heinz Company, and later attended a banquet in Heinz auditorium. Speakers were President F. P. Goetz and Director W. A. Kober. The visit to the plant was the annual tour of the association.

City Hunts $500 to Pay For Library Decoration

Council has asked Controller Henry O. Evans to hunt with a "searchlight" for a stray $500 to finance decorations for North Side Carnegie Library in honor of Light's Golden Jubilee.

Dean Clifford B. Connelly, North Side librarian, appeared before Council to request $2,500 to illuminate the exterior of the structure but was advised by Deputy Controller John Schlipp, Jr., that the city has no fund for that purpose.

Harry A. Little urged Schlipp to try to find $500 but Connelly objected and declared that it were better not to resort to half-way measures.

Robert Garland objected to making any appropriation for the library and pointed out that it would be just as consistent to decorate every police and fire station.

"If $500 is provided the work will be given to a favored contractor who will spend about $150 for the job," he said.

It was developed that the North Side City Hall and the Market House are not included in any decoration scheme.

Council finally adopted W. Y. English's motion to ask the controller to use a "searchlight" in a hunt for funds.

Mr. Hoover is eligible for the Nobel peace prize for his self-restraint in trying to remain neutral during the ninth inning of that game. There was no particular reason why he should have been so careful.

They are both Republican cities, and both politically clean and wholesome and law-abiding, and it was a great ad for justice and clean living, that two such upstanding righteous cities should compete in our greatest sporting event.

And it should be an example to these corrupt hoodlum towns, for them to turn over a new leaf and try and be upright and a credit to their inhabitants, and maybe they would win a pennant once in awhile, it just shows you that justice always prevails.

Permit Violations Charged In Hearing Before Public Service Commission Here

The Pittsburgh Motor Coach Company yesterday attacked two of its competitors for violating the rights given them by their certificates of transportation, in a hearing before the Public Service Commission.

The company complained against the Oriole Motor Coach Company for carrying two groups of employees of the Standard Steel Propeller Company to an outing at Mineral Beach. The same company also complained against the McKeesport Transit Company for carrying several groups of Polish veterans to a picnic ground near Undercliff.

QUESTION PERMIT

The complainants averred that neither company is permitted to carry groups of workers, but must confine their activities to the point of origin, which, in the case of the Oriole Company, is Greentree. This company has been carrying passengers between Pittsburgh and Greentree for a 15-cent fare rate, which rate the Pittsburgh Motor Coach Company avers it is unable to give to its Pittsburgh patrons and which claim is being attacked by various civic organizations.

At yesterday's hearing before Commissioner William E. Benn it was revealed by C. W. Fisher and J. L. King, of the Pittsburgh Motor Coach Company, that his concern had submitted a bid to the employes of the Standard Steel Propeller Company, but had never heard from those who discussed the rates with him. It appeared that the Oriole Company under bid the Pittsburgh Motor Coach Company and got the job.

LOW FARE AT PROFIT

Attorney Thomas Murray, representing the Oriole Company, was present and said that this offense would not be repeated again.

The rates as charged by the Oriole Company are to be featured in the coming rate hearing before the Public Service Commission. The Oriole Company has been operating at a profit. This is expected to be shown by witnesses at the hearing to be held Wednesday of next week when the entire rate structure of the Pittsburgh Motor Coach Company is expected to be attacked. These rates are regarded, as unwarranted.

COMPARISON OF LOCATION OF PARISH HOUSE OFFERED AS NEW POLLING PLACE INSTEAD OF SMALL SHED

Howard Neely, Fourth Ward chairman, objects to moving the polling place of the Twenty-first district from this small shed to the parish house of St. Peter's Episcopal Church, Fifth and Craft avenues, because people would have to walk too far, he says. The shed has no desirable qualities and women are afraid to vote there, it was maintained by the wife of the rector, Mrs. Florence K. Amos, who said the parish house is clean, well-lighted, heated and spacious. Decision was reserved.

PROTEST USE OF NAME

Rebecca Remaley, who formerly conducted a restaurant at 416 Sixth avenue, asked an injunction to prevent the use of her name in the conduct of the restaurant by Molly and Emily Hirsh, in a bill filed in Common Pleas Court. The restaurant established a business reputation as "Remaley Dining Room" at 416 Sixth avenue during 11 years of its existence prior to April 30 last, when it was taken over by the Misses Hirsh, according to the bill.

They obtained the business for $1,650, a low figure, through H. B. McClellan, a straw man in the transaction, who agreed that the name Remaley would not be used and that "Remaley Dining Room" would be removed from the window, the bill alleged. It is still being operated under the old name, despite repeated notice to quit the use of the name, and constitutes a fraud on the public, the bill alleged.

The Book Store of the University of Pittsburgh operated last year at a profit of $60 for the year, according to the records of the university. More than 40,000 textbooks were sold, the total sales for the year amounting to $120,000.

The University Book Store is one of 14 in the entire country, owned and operated by the university itself and run without profit. Had there been a rental charge for the store, which is a little wooden shack next to Mellon Institute, books for the year would have shown a loss. W. F. Lenz, manager of the store, gives the profit for last year as one-twentieth of 1 per cent.

University students, both men and women, are employed in the store as assistants, secretaries and clerks.

PAVING ASKED AT BEN AVON

The repaving of Church avenue, one of the principal traffic arteries and residential streets of Ben Avon, was broached in the borough council at its meeting this week. The improvement likely will be put through next spring, it was indicated. The Pittsburgh Railways Company will be asked to repave between its tracks and 18 inches on each side, under terms of the original franchise ordinance. Ben Avon has not become a party to the traction conference agreement, signed by the City of Pittsburgh and numerous boroughs and townships.

Hoffman, president of the Andrus Schofield Company, of Chicago, will press his claim of alleged excessive rates on shipments of shelled peanuts against the Alabama Great Southern Railway Company. The Chicago concern charges the rates of the road are unreasonable and asks the commission to "prescribe a rebate and to award reparation of $1,000 or more."

The commission ordered the hearing to be held in Pittsburgh.

HUGE LIGHTS TO FEATURE JUBILEE

Navy Apparatus Here to Send Beams Across Sky For Fiftieth Anniversary

Huge searchlight beams will be seen nightly across Pittsburgh skies, continuing through the "Light's Golden Jubilee" which opens Monday.

Scattered in various parts of the city, the searchlights will be operated by reserve officers of the Pittsburgh district under direction of Capt. Paul F. Selbold. The power operations will be in charge of L. H. Lingemann, of the Duquesne Light Company.

The central or directing light has been erected atop the Cathedral of Learning skeleton of steel work. The other five lights are located on the Farmers National Bank Building, Joseph Horne Company warehouse, North Side; Henry W. Oliver Building, Carnegie Tech campus and Bauer's Baking Company plant, Point Breeze.

The lights at Pitt and Farmers Bank will operate nightly, while the others will be flashed on the following schedule until Monday when the entire battery will be in operation: Thursday, Horne's and Oliver Building; Saturday, all six lights.

PLAN COLLEGE FIRE COURSE

Fire Chief Richard Smith, of Pittsburgh, president of the Pennsylvania State Firemen's Association, co-operating with Chief John Kenlon, head of the New York department, has taken initial steps toward establishing collegiate courses for fire chiefs and ranking officers in all large cities.

This matter will be brought before the convention of the International Fire Chiefs' Association in Birmingham, Ala., next week. Both Chief Smith and Chief Kenlon will play an important part in promoting the plan. Chief Smith and chiefs from several neighboring communities will leave here today for the convention city.

The college courses, as outlined by Smith, provides for four-year practical instruction at Columbia University in New York. The college officials have agreed, Smith says, to make the firemen's course part of the curriculum.

CABIN IN PARK ALLOTTED TO GIRL SCOUTS

County Officials to Atend Dedication Exercises Set For Sunday Afternoon

Executives of the GirlScout movement in Allegheny County will dedicate the Girl Scout Cabin in North County Park next Sunday beween 3 and 6 o'clock. The affair is in the immediate charge of Mrs. C. L. Pierce, commissioner of Girl Scouts of Allegheny County.

Mrs. E. V. Babcock, former commissioner and at present chairman of the camp committee, will assist in the ceremonies which will be attended by the Allegeny Council of Girl Scouts and other executives, as well as executives from the Boy Scout movement who have been invited to participate in the housewarming. A large delegation of Girl Scouts is expected and a series of exercises will be staged.

Riis, of the county parks, as the out-of-doors headquarters for the Girl Scouts. Chairman Joseph G. Armstrong will ormally dedicate the cottage and immediate surroundings and turn the building over to the Scout executives. Commissioner E. V. Babcock and Director Riis also will be among the distinguished guests.

The cabin is intended primarily as headquarters of the executives of the Girl Scout movement, from which all out-of-door Girl Scout activities will be directed. The headquarters will be somewhat similar to the Boy Scout camp in South Park, which has been the scene of outings almost daily during the past summer. The Doehla cottage is surrounded by a grove of five acres at a point free from other groves or activities in the park. The Boy Scout camp in South Park is surrounded by a grove of 10 acres. These groves afford ample space for the junior and major outdoor activities of the two organizations.

RULING ON LATE ASSESSMENTS CARRIED INTO COURT

VOTER APPEALS FROM LOSS OF BALLOT

Validity of Names on 26 Books Held Void Now Hinges on Jurist's Decision

A test of the validity of registration on tax receipts where the assessments were made on the additional assessment books decreeed to be void, is provided by the first appeal from the recent action of the Board of Registration Commissioners taken to Common Pleas Court.

Thousands of persons were assessed on the 26 additional books "B" to "ZZ" declared void. The Registration Board, to provide for tests under various complaints, a few days ago ordered that the names of 18 persons so assessed be stricken from the lists. Late yesterday an appeal from this decision was filed in Common Pleas Court on behalf of Stanley Danbak, of 15 Hooper street, in the Fourth District of the First Ward.

Donbak alleged he had registered and voted in previous years, but had to have his name enrolled on the additional book this year when he found he had not been assessed. A hearing was fixed by Judge James R. Macfarlane for October 22.

At the hearing before the Registration Commission yesterday, 50 voters of the Eleventh and Twelfth districts of the First Ward, out of 120 subpenaed, testified. Many said they had signed orders for receipts. Three men exhibited tax receipts bearing their names, but with the occupation of housewife. Some erasures were apparent on receipts.

WRECKED MILL TO RESUME

Work in the converting mill of the National Tube Company, McKeesport, where an explosion Monday killed four men and injured nine others, one probably fatally, was to re-open today, according to a statement by company officials.

John Kastley, 49, of 606 Mulberry street, McKeesport, one of the men burned, was said to be in a critical condition in McKeesport Hospital. Eight others were reported recovering in their homes.

Plant officials said the blast was caused by failure of a mixer from which molten metal was being poured, which caused an overflow, the metal running into a pit partly filled with water. An inquiry launched immediately after the explosion, was still in progress today, officials said.

HEARING SLATED ON ROAD PLAN

Council has again deferred action on authorizing the extension of the Boulevard of the Allies eastwardly from Halket street pending a hearing on October 28.

The hearing date was fixed yesterday during consideration of requests from Attorneys Lawrence P. Monahan and Harry R. Levy for action on pending legislation extending the thoroughfare.

The subject has been before Council for months and involves two plans; a traffic circle and a ramp for an overhead crossing.

The traffic circle is favored by the City Planning Commission, while Department of Works engineers have alternately recommended the circle and the ramp proposal at different times.

Owners of property abutting the proposed extension of the boulevard explained to Council that the construction of an expensive building is being held up until Council makes a decision on the plan to be adopted.

HOSPITAL HEAD ASKS DRIVE AID

An appeal for support in East Liberty for the Pittsburgh Hospital's campaign for a new nurses' home was presented to members of the East Liberty Chamber of Commerce at meeting yesterday when James K. Keenan, president of the hospital and chairman of its campaign executive committee, outlined its aims and motives in seeking the new home for nurses.

"For 25 years the nurses of Pittsburgh Hospital have had to be housed in a structure manifestly unsuitable," he said. "If the situation could have been remedied before, certainly we of the board would have seen that it was corrected. But we could not. Our hands were tied. We had a small hospital, with so few private rooms that the charity load was too heavy to carry. That made it impossible to do anything in any direction until our financial condition was better. After some years we managed, by borrowing funds, to build a new wing which would give us sufficient private rooms to offset much of our deficit from free work. Today we find ourselves in the position of breathing a little more easily, but still unable to do anything for our nurses."

MARIANNE by GLADYS JOHNSON

Marianne Is Confused as She Rescues Pet Pig From Americans

WHAT HAS GONE BEFORE

In the little French village of Saint Vallier the call to arms summons all to the great war. The village schoolmaster, Andre, leaves his school and sees Marianne running toward him. They have grown to love each other and now under the stress of war the man avows his love. He folds her in his arms and kisses her, saying "I will come back—you're locked in my heart Marianne." After her aunt dies Marianne shelters four little waifs. One day she hears American soldiers marching into the courtyard.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

CHAPTER III.

AMERICANS. . . .

Marianne was not unacquainted with Americans. There had been several United States regiments billeted at Saint-Vallier during the war.

Even now, there was a young Harvard-bred second lieutenant by the name of Frayne, who had been stationed in the town for a month.

A month is not a lifetime, certainly, but it can seem unnaturally long to a bored young man in a muddy French village.

It had not taken young Lieut. Frayne long to discover the pretty girl in the old white farmhouse. More than once he had come out here to sit before the kitchen fire, idly slapping at his shining high boots with his cane while Marianne demurely mended the clothes of her "bebes."

But these tired doughboys, milling around in the courtyard now—they were very, very different from Lieut. Frayne.

The sergeant stared wearily up at the girl as she appeared on the porch before him.

"Good evening, Monsieur le Sergeant—" Marianne spoke with displeased dignity. Four years of English and American allies, to say nothing of Lieut. Frayne, had given her quaint mastery of the English language. "For why you come to my farm so? The war, she is over."

The sergeant's smile displayed several very gold teeth.

"She is, lady, but we got to stay here until we shove off for the United States."

Marianne turned and looked at the soldiers who were making free with her barn. Several had already dropped their packs wearily and were sprawled out on the hay. This much she could see through the yawning door.

She looked at the chocolate puddles of the courtyard, at the mud, churned to slime by tramping feet and horses' hoofs and she made a little helpless gesture.

Then, I 'ope you shove queek! Four years, Monsieur, I am surround' with soldiers. White . . . black . . . yellow . . . fat . . . theen . . . oogly . . . I am fatigue to my teeth with soldiers!"

A silent moment when she stood gravely regarding his insinuating grin.

There had been a Marianne who would have shrunk in shy dismay from the rough gallantry. But that Marianne had been a dreamy child who had never learned and suffered through four years of war.

Now the little round chin went up and she looked down at him from beneath scornful lids.

"One battalion—two battalion—of what matter! Onlee each one get worse than the one before! Monsieur le Sergeant, I present you with the air!"

As she turned with burning cheeks and re-entered the house, Marianne heard the appreciative guffaw at the sergeant's discomfiture.

The children were starry-eyed with excitement.

"They are Americans, are they not, Marianne? What did he say to you—the funny man with the teeth of gold, Marianne. . . Do you think when I am a man I can buy some teeth like that? . . ."

They hopped about her like agitated sparrows, pulling her dress, trying to attract her attention.

"Children! Children! the girl scolded. "Time that you should be in bed—look! It is almost dark!" She hustled them lovingly: "Come—up the stairs with you!"

One reluctant foot on the lowest step, Jacques stopped to argue the matter out. "Why must we go to bed now, Marianne, when the Americans have just come? You stay up—"

"But certainly!" Marianne touseled his hair and smiled down into the earnest little face. "I am grown up. I do not go to bed with babies."

"Anatole is a baby—" Nanette regarded her with mischievous black eyes. "You do not make him go to bed."

"Anatole is a pig baby. I do not send pig babies up to bed. I do not tuck them in and kiss them goodnight, like this—Why, Anatole—"

It suddenly dawned on Marianne that the subject of this spirited discussion was not at hand.

"Why . . . where is Anatole?" She looked around, alarm dawning in the blue eyes. "Jacques! Francois!"—severely, remembering other such attempts—"you have smuggled Anatole upstairs again into your nice, clean bed—"

But Jacques and Francois vehemently denied the accusation. They had not played with Anatole that afternoon. Nanette and Baby Sylvestre alone had held communication with the pet pig.

It was Nanette who threw possible light on the mystery. Excited black eyes sparkling up into Marianne's troubled face, Nanette spoke.

"The door—the open door, Marianne, when you were on the porch talking to the man with the teeth of gold! Perhaps Anatole walked out! Perhaps he went out to greet the Americans!"

Catching the infection, Francois screamed, "He went out to join the American army, Marianne!" He turned it to a delighted song: "Anatole joined the Ar-mee. Anatole joined the Ar-mee!"

"Ah! ces diables d'Americans!" The girl whispered it beneath her breath and alarm leaped into her eyes. She clapped her hands smartly. "Quick! up the stairs with you! Not another word! Allons!"

While they scampered up the stairs, the girl wrenched open the front door and ran down the steps to the courtyard.

Through the grey twilight she looked over at the barn. The door was closed. From behind it came the rumble of men's voices. A laugh. A sudden piteous squeal for help which electrified the girl.

She flew across the muddy yard and pounded frantically on the door.

"Let me in! You Americans—let me in!"

Inside there was a sudden guilty silence. A man's voice quavered into "Sweet Adeline."

Marianne was pounding frantically now. "Let me in! I demand it! How dare you lock me out of my own barn!"

The door suddenly opened. A soldier, overly polite, looked down at her with exaggerated surprise.

"Oh, is it you, Ma'am? We was singin' an' didn't hear you at first. Sure, come right on in—"

Everything was obviously guiltless to the girl's indignant eyes.

A lantern, slung from the rafters, lit the white-washed interior of the barn. Men were stretched on their blankets on the hay. Some had removed their boots and were solicitously examining their feet.

Through the yellow light their eyes turned on the girl in wide innocence. At another time, those concentrated stares would have abashed the girl, but Marianne was thoroughly angry now.

She panted, "I have heard the voice of my leetle peeg! You have 'im in here, yes? She inquired of the soldier who had let her in, a short fellow with a dark Semetic face.

He answered in mock horror, "You esk ME for a pig! Oh, Lady . . ."

A sudden roar of laughter as a comrade whacked him. "Gosh, that's a good one on you, Yom Kippur!"

"What color was your pig, Ma'am?"

"Haw! haw. haw! Soapy, guess that's a horse on you!"

All this time the girl's eyes had been eagerly trying to penetrate the shadows beyond the circle of lantern light. Eyes . . . eyes . . . staring eyes . . . grinning teeth . . . Her hands clenched hotly. Then relief flooded her face. Up there in the hay, she had seen a movement.

"Ah! Anatole—" she leaped for the revealing spot where the hay heaved, "I will get you, Anatole—"

Frantically clawing at the hay . . . when to her horror it heaved upright, a soldier sat up and grinned at her. A tall young fellow, jauntily handsome, with two dancing devils in his grey eyes.

As she met that disarming crooked grin the girl shrank back in confusion.

"Oh . . . Monsier . . . Your pardon! I mistake you for my leetle peeg!"

The man did not heed the roar which this brought forth. He continued to sit, coat hunched up, eyes boldly drinking in the girl before him.

Very pretty was Marianne in her confusion, the lantern shining on her flushed cheeks, turning her hair to purest gold.

He drawled in a voice which was somehow caressing.

"No ma'am, I'm sorry, but I ain't your pig. I can prove an alibi. I'm a first class private—my name's Stag—"

What more he might have added is unknown, for there was a relieved and triumphant grunt and a small pig wriggled up from beneath his hunched up coat.

With a cry of joy Marianne swooped down upon it and lifted the pig in her arms. Then, regarding the man Stag over Anatole's ears, with flashing eyes, she spoke.

"You are a first class liar!" She stamped a small foot in helpless fury.

"Same thing, ma'am—" Stag spoke with mock meekness. He had risen and was looking down on her with a bold admiration which missed nothing of the fiery slenderness of her body, the flashing violet eyes.

"You have no hearts, you Americans!" went on the angry girl, "to come 'ere and steal the pet peeg which is not for the eat but for the love! A bebe—the last of 'is family! All—all but him 'ave been eat by American soldiers! Eat—eat—always the Americans make eat!"

"I suppose—" spoke up the little tow-head called Soapy in deep scorn, "that you French birds don't eat! You just live on love."

She wheeled on him witheringly. "We eat what we have got—but not for eat something what is not got!"

Soapy made a deep bow. "Which explains it perfectly, ma'am!"

Stag spoke with hungry irritation: "Well, if you was starved as we are kid, you'd swipe a pig, too. Marching all day to this jumping-off place an' our soup kitchen stalled back there five leagues in the mud. Gosh, I'm starved! I could eat a rattlesnake if somebody'd hold its head!"

A sudden aghast chill spreading over the barn warned them. Marianne turned, still protectively clutching Anatole, to see Lieut. Frayne coming into the barn with his firm step.

His eyes swept coldly about the circle—came to rest on Stag.

The gaze warmed a trifle as it met the violet-stare of the girl.

"Madamoiselle—what is it? Have the men been annoying you?"

Stag's handsome face had gone sullen. Caught with the goods. . . . Can you beat that for luck! And, of course, this little Frenchy now was going to blab to the damned M. P.—

SEEKING HER LOST PET

"Ah, Anatole....I will get you, Anatole," cries Marianne finding her pet pig in strange quarters.

LOVE'S AWAKENING

A Continuation of Love's Embers

By ADELE GARRISON

Mrs. Ticer Tells Madge She Is Worried.

"SHE'S been going on like that ever since Miss Lincoln left," Mrs. Ticer said worriedly, as Noel and I heard the sobs in the adjoining room. "She kept up all right, was as brave as could be until the girl was out of sight. Then she broke down—and that old man—her husband—he just made her worse, scolding her as if she were a naughty child. I didn't know but he was going to take a stick to her. My! but wouldn't I like to be married to him for just about a half hour. I'd show him what damage an upstanding American wife could do with a rolling pin and a stove shovel. I wouldn't leave a whole bone in his body—the old bully."

The contrast between her almost whispering tones and her vicious threats almost upset my gravity, and, I think, Noel's as well.

"You say she's been crying this way ever since Miss Lincoln left?" I asked hurriedly, hoping my easily-offended neighbor would not detect the twitching of her lips.

"She hasn't stopped once," Mrs. Ticer answered.

"She'll make herself ill," I commented, more troubled than I cared to let my neighbor see. If this old servant of Princess Olina's were to have another heart attack such as had nearly carried her off earlier in the summer, she could not travel to her home, and thus our problem of protecting her young mistress would be greatly complicated.

"I know it," Mrs. Ticer said, "but what's to be done? I tried to talk to her, but she wouldn't even look at me If you—"she stopped and glanced obliquely at me.

I squared my shoulders, for I knew that I must at least make an attempt to soothe the poor old woman in the next room.

"I'll do what I can," I said, "although I am afraid the result will be zero. But let me go in alone. Noel will you find Mr.—Lincoln—and keep him so engaged in talk that he will not interrupt us?"

"I'll go right away," Noel said with alacrity, and Mrs. Ticer leaned toward me with a mysterious air.

"Do you know, I think Mister Noel's the real reason for the old woman acting up this way," she confided to me. "I don't think she has anything against him personally, but for some reason or other she's just wild for fear her—niece—will marry him."

She shot a meaningful glance at me as she finished, and with a whimsical memory of Katie's advice, I leaned toward her with a significant smile.

"I think we may drop that pretense," I said in a tone inaudible beyond the room. "You know as well as I, that the people here are not Miss—Lincoln's uncle and aunt, but her servants."

"I didn't know it," she retorted, stressing the verb, "but I was pretty sure of it. If the old woman had been her aunt, she'd have come down on the girl harder. But as it was all she could do was to beg Miss Lincoln not to go out with Mister Noel. I didn't know her jargon, of course, but I could tell in a way what she was asking, and if looks could have killed, Mr. Noel would have dropped dead every time the two of them went out together. The old man used to jaw his wife about it, too, but he never dared say a word to Miss Lincoln. He sure was afraid of her. But what was eating 'em about Mr. Noel gets me. You couldn't find a nicer young fellow in the country."

I smothered the impulse to blurt out the conviction which had come to me with her story—that I knew the reason for Anna Schmidt's excessive grief. To her mind, her adored royal mistress would be far better dead than to marry a commoner such as she considered Noel. Even if the old woman knew the secret of his left-handed relationship to the royal family of Transvania it would make no difference. Indeed I judged it would intensify her horror of such an alliance.

"Does she understand any English?" I asked.

"She can speak a few words, and I think she understands if people speak very slowly to her, and don't use big words. But her husband always talks for her. He keeps her in the background, like all those dratted foreigners."

My good neighbor's contempt for aliens was mirrored in her face, and I did not attempt to combat her prejudices. With a little non-committal nod, I rose from my chair.

"Keep everybody away," I whispered, and walked softly to the door of the next room.

Tomorrow's Horoscope

Thursday, October 17

THE planetary prognostications for this day have the force of intriguing and baffling situations. There is likely to be a visitation of a whirlwind nature, sudden and unanticipated. This may find its heaviest reaction in the domestic, affectional or social associations, which may take on a tinge of the erratic or spectacular. An abrupt removal or journey is probable. The finances may be unexpectedly benefited.

Those whose birthday it is may be prepared for a year of the unexpected, with sudden and abrupt visitations of an intriguing nature. This may react largely on the domestic, romantic or social attachments, calling for changed environment or unplanned journey. Speculation or sudden turns in finances may benefit.

A child born on this day may have an unusual or eccentric career, with sudden turns of fortune and probably an eventful or spectacular personal life.

What is in store for me shall find me ready for it, undismayed.—E. J. Appleton.

Correct Manners

By Mrs. Cornelius Beeckman

A European Custom

DEAR MRS. BEECKMAN:

There seems to be quite a diversity of opinion on certain customs between European and American people, and I would like to have your verdict on this question:

Is it customary to congratulate parents of newlyweds, or is it not? European etiquette requires strict observance of such habit. Do Americans view it as a very superfluous and old style, discarded one? C. A. S.

AT an American wedding reception the parents of the bride and groom stand at the door of the living room or hall to receive the guests before the bride and groom are congratulated. I do not know whether this is what you mean by congratulating parents, but I think it is. A few graceful words to the parents expressing appreciation of the beauty of the wedding and the reception are in good taste.

People in America do not make a point of calling upon the parents of the young couple to offer congratulations.

Tribute to the Celebrity

DEAR MRS. BEECKMAN:

1. There is a certain actress whom I admire very much. I have never met her personally, but have corresponded with her frequently. Would it be proper to send her some little gift at Christmas time, such as a pen and pencil set? My friends say it would not be proper. Are they right?

2. When this celebrity arrives in town I am to be in the party that is to meet her at the train. Would it be proper to hand her a bouquet as she alights from the train? WARREN.

YES, I think that your friends are right in their social judgment. It would show better taste if you send her a box of flowers or a corsage for Christmas—you can telegraph your flower order, you know, if she is not in the same city—or a Christmas telegram, perhaps.

2. Yes, this would be a gracious and gallant thing to do.

How to Keep Well

By DR. ROYAL S. COPELAND

Keep Resistance to All Disease at Par.

HALF the ills of the human family follow abuse or neglect of the digestive organs. Dyspepsia and constipation are the most frequent effects of such misuse.

Just because the bowels move rather freely once a day, is no sure sign of the absence of constipation. This movement may be a delayed one, the material expelled being waste which should have passed away two days before.

DR COPELAND

Lowered vitality, which may be the effect of wrong eating, late hours, worry or continued and excessive fatigue, sometimes results in deficient activity in the muscle walls of the intestine. The general muscular tone falls below par. Naturally the digestive and eliminative organs depending on muscular action, are less vigorous than they should be.

This state of affairs may account for the beginning of the constipation, but when the intestine fills up with the undigested materials, fermentation takes place. With fermentation and decay, further complications are to be expected. Poisonous toxins develop and these are eager to attack the system and undermine the health.

Almost always an acute infection is founded on a constipated condition. If you are in prime health, you are unlikely to "take" diseases. Your powers of resistance are high and you can snap your fingers at sickness.

In dealing with constipation, the effect, we must think first of the causes for its presence. By better living, better hygienic standards and better choice of foods, constipation need not be feared. But its correction takes time.

To get rid of the dangerous accumulation in the lower bowel, it may be necessary to take a cathartic or laxative. Needless to say, such treatment does not "cure" the constipation. All it does is to clear out that particular cargo of offensive material. But that is most desirable, particularly if you have a cold, sore throat, headache, or other evidence of acute infection.

Sprays and gargles and pills and powders may give temporary relief to the acute trouble, but their effects will be far more satisfactory if the bowels are emptied. There can be no doubt that a clogged intestine delays the healing of any disease.

Now, please do not get the idea that daily purging is good for you—it isn't. Nothing is more damaging than frequent resort to cathartics and purgatives. Correct your eating and manner of living and you will need no medicine. Right living is vastly more important than all the medicine in the world.

The Marry-Go-Round

By HELEN ROWLAND

The Sweet-and-Low-Down

A MAN falls in love with a woman not for what he sees in her, but for all those glamorous and mysterious qualities which he thinks she is hiding from him.

HELEN ROWLAND

From his sudden and direct methods, you'd fancy that the average modern lover had gotten all his ideas about the "approach" to love, from his practice in tackling a football dummy.

The old-fashioned man used to boast that he was only as old as he FELT; but the most extraordinary phenomenon of today is the youth of 20, who fears that by 30 his beauty shall have faded and he may lose all his charm for women.

Homely men are usually fascinating. When Nature gives a man a lot of beauty, she somehow hates to spoil it all by giving him a lot of brains and backbone.

The average husband is always either too restless to keep still and stay at home evenings, or too tired to keep AWAKE and be sociable.

Plenty of limelight around a woman will dazzle most men into thinking themselves in love with her, until the curtain goes down on her popularity, and they see her in the cold, north light of reality.

The usual "reward" a woman gets for being ready on time is to be asked to put the studs in her husband's shirt, find his muffler, hunt for the tickets, and get the car out. Punctuality is one of those virtues which is its OWN reward!

When a man keeps looking at his watch, dear heart, it is usually a sign that he has either a brand new watch—or a brand new INTEREST.

No man was ever such a total "wreck," that SOME woman didn't think he was worth salvaging.

The Sun-Telegraph Fifteen Cent Pattern

A STYLISH DESIGN.

The peplum, a new style feature, is cleverly expressed in this model. The waist blouses above the peplum and closes at a slash in the front at the neck, which shows a new round outline, trimmed with a band facing. The skirt is cut to flare gracefully and is mounted on an underbody. The peplum too boasts of flare folds at the hips. The sleeve is a plain fitted model. Moire, taffeta and printed crepe are admirably suited to this style. Black satin is also suggested, with facings in contrast.

The pattern is cut in five sizes: 34, 36, 38, 40 and 42 inches bust measure. To make a 38-inch size will require 4¼ yards of 39-inch material. For facings and belt of contrasting material ⅝ yard is required cut crosswise. The underbody will require 1½ yards of 32-inch material. The width of the skirt at the lower edge with fulness extended is 3¼ yards.

COUPON.

This pattern will be sent on receipt of 15 cents (silver or 2c and 1c stamps). Make number, name, address, etc., plain. Send to Pattern Department, The Pittsburgh Sun-Telegraph, Pittsburgh, Pa.

For any BABY

We can never be sure just what makes an infant restless, but the remedy can always be the same. Good old Castoria! There's comfort in every drop of this pure vegetable preparation, and not the slightest harm in its frequent use. As often as Baby has a fretful spell, is feverish, or cries and can't sleep, let Castoria soothe and quiet him. Sometimes it's a touch of colic. Sometimes constipation. Or diarrhea—a condition that should always be checked without delay. Just keep Castoria handy, and give it promptly. Relief will follow very promptly; if it doesn't, you should call a physician.

All through babyhood, Castoria should be a mother's standby; and a wise mother does not change to stronger medicines as the child grows older. Castoria is readily obtained at any drugstore, and the genuine easily identified by the Chas. H. Fletcher signature that appears on every wrapper.

Unjust to Old League. | Scripture in Baseball.

Good Cards for Hernon. | Reports on Pitt Foes.

A. L. ALSO HAS HAD SERIES SLUMPS

THERE is no getting away from the fact that the National League has cut quite a sorry figure in world championship competition in the last three seasons, with three series lost in a row and only a single game won out of 13 played during that period. But at the same time there is no sound basis for the claims being made by rabid American League adherents, who, in their wild enthusiasm over the Athletics' triumph this year, are asking the public to believe that John A. Heydler's loop is ridiculously outclassed and that there is no comparison between the major circuits.

John A. Heydler

You've got to hand it to the Barnard wheel for keeping up a spirit of hustle and adhering to a progressive policy. The players and nearly all of the magnates realize that baseball is their business and they put it foremost always. And on the other side, no one can be blind to the urgent need for the National League to wake up and concentrate more on the playing end of the game. The tactics of some of the moguls have affected the athletes on the field. "The players in our circuit do not talk enough baseball," said one National League star during the recent series. "That's one reason why we are not making a better showing."

FACTS are stretched somewhat, however, when it is asserted that the National is outclassed by its younger rival in general quality of play. The American looks good now, but there have been times when the older organization appeared to be just as overwhelmingly superior. From 1905 to 1909, inclusive, the National won four series out of five. It swept three straight series in 1907, 1908 and 1909, and following a tie in the 1907 opener, the senior leaguers won nine out of ten consecutive games.

From 1919 to 1922, inclusive, the National won three out of four series, and in a stretch of 11 successive games, omitting one tie, the American Leaguers won only one game. So the competition hasn't been as one-sided as they would have you believe, even though the American League has won 16 out of 26 series since the start in 1903. The pendulum will swing back again in due time.

MAX CAREY, former Pirate captain and star outfielder, who, with Dave Bancroft was recently released unconditionally by the Brooklyn club, appeared not to have a care on his mind about the future as he came to Pittsburgh from the world series on a business trip.

Asked if he had anything in view, Carey replied: "Not a thing. Probably I shall stay in baseball, but I'm not sure yet. There are several places open to me, but I have not decided yet. I am not at all worried about things and mean to take things easy for a while before making up my mind as to what I shall do." Bancroft has three offers, including a coaching job with the Giants.

Max Carey

JOHN L. HERNON, manager of Motor Square Garden, mixed business with pleasure in Philadelphia, and in addition to enjoying the world series games at Shibe Park was on the lookout in fistic circles for some attractive matches for his Pittsburgh arena. The East End promoter talked with the managers of several prominent boxers in the Quaker City, and though no definite agreements have been reached in some cases, he has a couple of good cards in prospect.

ONE popular boy whom Hernon will book for a Pittsburgh bout is Harry Blitman, Philadelphia southpaw, who fought Benny Bass for the featherweight championship of Pennsylvania. Blitman never has appeared in Pittsburgh, but is known by reputation to the fans here as one of the best lads of his pounds in the game.

His appearance is certain to be one of the high spots of the Motor Square season. Hernon is also going to stage a heavyweight match on October 28. He has signed Jack Gross, Philadelphia southpaw heavy, for that date and is now trying to get some other big battler to meet him.

ONE of the world series duties of Kenesaw M. Landis, commissioner of baseball, is to care for the distribution of tickets to the minor league officials and club owners. As it so happened, early in September, the commissioner informed Judge Branham, of Durham, N. C., who is president of three leagues—Sally, Piedmont and Eastern Carolina—that he would allot him 60 tickets to take care of those in his circuits.

Kenesaw M. Landis

Ten days before the series was scheduled to open, however, the commissioner found the demands upon him so numerous that he wired Judge Burnham he might have to cut his allotment, whereupon the judge replied by wire: "K. M. Landis, Commissioner of Baseball, Chicago, Ill.—Forty-fourth Psalm, verses 13, 14, 15 and 17."

INTERPRETED, the judge's message read as follows: "Thou makest us a reproach to our neighbors, a scorn and a derision to them that are round about us.Thou makest us a byword among the heathen, a shaking of the head among the people.My confusion is continually before me and the shame of my face has covered me. All this is come upon us, yet have we not forgotten thee, neither have we dealt falsely in thy covenant."

OFFICIAL confirmation of what has been reported for more than a week, that Dan Howley will be seen in the place of Jack Hendricks as leader of the Cincinnati Reds next year, leaves three managerial vacancies for 1930 unfilled. The Yankees and Cardinals are still without pilots, and it is said Bill Carrigan will retire as boss of the Red Sox.

It had been expected that Howley would be grabbed by the Boston Americans after Bill McKechnie was signed to manage the Braves, but now the Red Sox owners will have to look around for another skipper. Frank Frisch has been tipped as McKechnie's possible successor in St. Louis, but there is some doubt as to whether the Redbird chiefs consider Frisch of the right temperament. Rumor persists that Babe Ruth has the inside track for the Yankee post.

THE first contract that Howley has taken upon himself as Red manager is the handling of Harry Heilman, obtained yesterday

SOUTHERNERS, TARTANS TO MEET IN '30

WASHINGTON, Pa., Oct. 16.—That traditional and bitter rivalry on the gridiron does not prevent cordial relations between institutions is exemplified in a statement made here today by Graduate Manager W. G. Theurer, of W. & J., that the Presidents are endeavoring to rearrange their 1930 football schedule to enable Carnegie Tech to book a cherished antagonist next season in a big intersectional combat. The news is of especial interest just now because of the impending game at the end of the week in Pittsburgh between teams of these two institutions.

Wash.-Jeff. and Carnegie have signed contracts for the annual game in Pittsburgh next year on October 18. Now, it develops, Carnegie has a chance to play Georgia Tech in the Steel City on that date, if it can book the Presidents for some other date. Manager Overend of the Tartans, who has sought competition with Georgia Tech in Pittsburgh for some seasons, was able, finally, to achieve his desire, but the only date available on the Southerners' schedule was October 18. He presented the proposition to the Wash.-Jeff. manager, and Theurer immediately agreed to switch if it were possible. The W. & J.-Carnegie battle is all signed and sealed and the Presidents can hold the Tartans to the agreement without any question if they do not desire to be accommodating; but Manager Theurer says he will not stand in the way of Carnegie getting the attractive intersectional combat if he can rearrange his dates.

Wash.-Jeff. has several tentative open dates and is willing to play Carnegie on any of them. Pitt on November 8, Lafayette on October 25, Bucknell on November 15, Temple on November 22 and the Carnegie game of October 18, are the only contests for 1930 definitely fixed for next season. Carnegie is to play Temple on November 29. W. & J. is willing to give Temple October 18 and play Carnegie on November 29, but Temple has Drake University scheduled for the October date. The Temple management is endeavoring to rearrange its game with Drake and if successful, the switch will be made and the Presidents and Tartans will play a late November contest a year hence.

Palace Credit Dux League Is Formed

The Palace Credit Bowling League was organized last night by the officials and employes of the Palace Credit Clothing Company. The Ritz bowling alleys in Brookline will be the official alleys of the new league, which will comprise eight teams captained by the following: J. S. Steggert, Joseph Wirtz, Harry Stern, C. E. Schugar, Jack Rose, D. J. Licker, Dave Brickman and Perry Jones.

The teams will meet at the Ritz alleys every Tuesday evening and the management of the company has purchased a beautiful cup to be awarded the winner.

St. Vincent's Works For Canisius Tilt

LATROBE, Pa., Oct. 16.—After a layoff of three days, the St. Vincent's College football squad will resume practice for the game with Canisius, to be played Sunday at Buffalo. The vacation given the Bearcats was due to the annual retreat being held at the college. Coach Crowe will work his men doubly hard the remainder of the week in order to make up for the time lost. The game with Canisius is one of the most important of St. Vincent's schedule this year. Should the St. Vincent's aggregation come through with a victory in this game, they will be definitely established in Eastern football circles.

Advance Sale Opens For Ohio State Game

Tickets for the Pitt-Ohio State football game went on sale today at the various agencies. To insure reserved seats for the general public, Pitt authorities decided to place a limited number of tickets on sale well in advance of the game.

According to Director of Athletics W. D. Harrison, of Pitt, the demand for tickets by Pitt and Ohio State alumni has been so heavy that if the public sale was deferred until the week of the game, few, if any, tickets would be available for outsiders.

Trinity Cathedral Begins Cage Activity

Basketball activity is about to be resumed at Trinity Cathedral. No less than 10 teams will be playing there this season, ranging in age from mere youngsters 10 years of age to young men bordering on maturity. A jamboree for the boys and young men of the Cathedral is to be held on Friday night.

CHICAGO, Oct. 16.—(AP.)—Refunding of the money for the sixth-game tickets to the world series will start tomorrow at the Boulevard Bridge Bank, Wrigley Building, Chicago, William L. Veeck, president of the vanquished Cubs, announced yesterday.

The original plan provided for the refunding to start today, but the Cub management arranged for the refunds to be made in cash at the bank to ticket holders who appear in person.

Those wishing their refunds by mail should address their tickets to the World Series teller at the Boulevard Bridge Bank, and refund will be made by cashier's check.

Approximately $210,000 will be refunded to holders of the sixth-game tickets.

RUSH MAY BE WORRY TO TARTANS

By JESS CARVER.

Among the things Carnegie Tech's line and secondary defense will have to check on Saturday as the Tartans attempt to kick over Wash-Jeff, will be young Morry Rush, the elusive, hard-running halfback of the President eleven.

Morry Rush.

A year ago, Buzz Edwards, who wasn't as good a back as Rush, mostly because he wouldn't take the ball game seriously, gave the Plaid a lot of trouble, and figured in the Wash-Jeff touchdown which was called back. Wash-Jeff folks like Rush heaps better than they did Edwards, and Morry has been the primer of the Presidential attack to date. He gallops from left halfback, runs well either to the right or left, and is an accurate forward passer.

TOUGH HALFBACK

Morry figures to be a tough halfback for any team to stop, and if the Plaid can successfully checkmate him, the feat will go a long way toward winning the much to be desired game for Bob and Judge Wally.

The Dukes are getting long and strenuous workouts this week in preparation for the Chicago Loyola game at Forbes Field Saturday. The boys can stand the the hard drills, the coaches figure, for Saturday's game will be the last for the Dukes until Nov. 2, when Geneva will be tackled.

Scouts who have seen Loyola go this fall have taken great pains to impress the Dukes with the fact that the Chicago eleven will be about as tough a foe as the locals have met this year.

Pitt leaves tonight for Chicago, where the team will rest a day before moving on to Lincoln Nebraska. Saturday, the Panthers and Cornhuskers duel in that town for the second year in succession. Upon hearing that Honey Guarino and Mike Getto had graduated from Pitt, a Lincoln newspaper is reported to have run the following headline:

"HUSKER HOPES FOR FIRST DOWN AGAINST PITT THIS YEAR BRIGHT."

WILLIE DAVIES ENACTS ROLE OF CHAMP

By HARRY KECK, Sports Editor.

Willie Davies, of Charlerol, IS the uncrowned flyweight champion of the world. If you don't believe it, ask him.

Willie Davies

Willie is beginning to act like a regular champion. He's taking on the air of importance of one of them in the matter of making matches. He's not swell-headed about his fighting, or anything likes that, but he has made up his mind, after seeing other champions get away with it, that, if he's to convince the world at large that he IS a champion, he'll have to live up to the part.

Wee Willie got off to a good start on Monday when it came time to sign for his bout with Franklin Young, Detroit Negro, who is recognized as the flyweight champion of Michigan, at Motor Garden next Monday night. Matchmaker Jules Beck had the articles made out for 112 pounds, the flyweight limit. Davies took one squint at them, with his manager, Jim Buchanan, and said they wouldn't do.

Beck, astonished, asked the reason and was knocked flat by the reply that Willie would insist on all his opponents boxing him at 113 pounds in the future, "so my title won't be at stake."

IN NEW YORK TOURNEY

"I can make 110 pounds, if necessary," Willie elaborated, "but, when I want to fight one of the alleged champions, I have to pack on a lot of excess baggage to come in over the 112-pound notch. Both Izzy Schwartz and Frankie Genaro insisted on me scaling not less than 113 pounds. I defeated both of them, but, because of the weight, I am not the official champion. Very well, then, I must be the unofficial champion,

Harris on Mend After Three Operations

FRANKLIN, Pa., Oct. 16.—Recovery of Joe Harris, former Pittsburgh Pirate ball player, patient in the Oil City Hospital, is proving very slow. Three operations have taken place since Harris underwent treatments for gall bladder trouble nearly a month ago. Doctors reported the outlook more encouraging yesterday, but indicated it will be some weeks before he will leave the hospital.

MACK RESTS AT SEASHORE

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 16.—(AP.)—The calm that follows the storm lay over Shibe Park yesterday where the tumulous crowd of Monday in turn groaned at or cheered the changing fortunes of the Cubs and Athletics.

Connie Mack, the leader of the new world champions, went to Atlantic City to rest up and some of the players visited the ball park to gather up personal belongings before going home for the winter.

It was made known that each of the players entitled to a full share of the world series money will receive $5,821.30. It was voted to split the money into twenty-eight parts. Twenty-four players received full shares. The twenty-fifth was split.

Seventy-five per cent went to Ossie Orwoll, who played with the A's through most of the season, only to be sent to Milwaukee in exchange for Le Bourveau, who was awarded the other 25 per cent. It was announced that Orwoll would receive a full share, the club management making up the other 25 per cent.

Full shares were awarded to Coaches Kid Gleason and Earl Mack, the latter Connie's son, and Trainer Doc Ebling.

Jimmy Cronin, utility infielder, and George Burns, substitute first baseman, who joined the team after the schedule had been under way, both received full shares.

FIELDING STOPPED

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 16.—(AP.)—Ignacio Fernandez, Filipino lightweight won by a technical knockout over Tommy Fielding, of Vancouver, in the fourth round of their scheduled, 10-round bout here last night.

GEORGE HAAS MAKES GREAT HEADWAY

By CHARLES J. DOYLE.

From a private in the rear ranks of one world series to the most conspicuous role in another—that's the contrasting tale of George William Haas, former Pirate, who yesterday spent his twenty-sixth birthday as the leading hero of baseball.

George collected $1,000 from the Pirates for his share of the 1925 series between the Pirates and Senators. He and Infielder Fresco Thompson, another peppery kid, played very obscure parts in the spectacular fights for the emblem four years ago.

Mule Haas.

Although they had nothing in particular to do in the titular scraps of that season, Haas and Thompson took it upon themselves to think up nice things to say to the American League champions. With Earl Smith as cheer-leader, it will be seen that the Pirates were in fine voice in this series, Smith getting a lot of support from the two "jockeys" on the bench.

WAS GOOD IN 1925

Haas, who is an exemplary youth of Montclair, N. J., had a big season for the Birmingham Barons in 1925 before being recalled by the Pirates. Later he was sold outright to Atlanta of the Southern League. The Athletics purchased him from Atlanta in 1927.

George first came to the Pirates in the Spring of 1923. He was sent under option to Williamsport of the New York-Pennsylvania League. From Williamsport he went to Oklahoma City of the Western League and from that city to Pittsfield of the Eastern League.

SENT TO ATLANTA

Haas' next stop on his way to fame was Birmingham but after being recalled by the Buccos he was

Haas is Hero On Birthday in Home Town

MONTCLAIR, N. J., Oct. 16.—(AP.)—George (Mule) Haas, was a hero in his home town yesterday.

The Athletics' outfielder, whose home run in the ninth inning of the last world series game, put an end to the hopes of the Cubs, celebrated his twenty-sixth birthday with his family, while preparations went on to honor him with several testimonial dinners.

Sunday George will play with the Claremonts, the team with which he started his baseball career 11 years ago.

O. S. U. BOARD IN SHAKE UP

COLUMBUS, Oct. 17.—Three members of the Ohio State Athletic Board were "relieved" here yesterday, and in their places President George W. Rightmire appointed three new members, all from the faculty.

President Rightmire, in his annual appointment of standing committees for 1929-1930, dealing with the athletic board, reviewed its long, arduous and high quality service in connection with seeing the Ohio Stadium program through to completion. He took into account, also, the fact that the athletic department is about to begin a further expansion program, involving the construction of varsity and intramural field houses, a natatorium, a university golf course and other improvements.

Prof. Thomas E. French, "Daddy of the Stadium," president of the athletic board since its inception and Ohio State's representative in the Western Conference since Ohio State was admitted in 1912; Prof. St. John Chubb, active in connection with the architectural designs of the stadium and Prof. Brumley were the members relieved.

PA. COMMISSION IN SHOWDOWN TODAY

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 16.—(INS.)—The power of the Pennsylvania State Athletic Commission and its arbitrary rulings on boxing affairs promises to be challenged at the regular weekly meeting of the three commissioners today. The outcome of today's session will determine whether or not the commission's decisions will be tested in the local courts.

The long smouldering resentment of boxers and their managers against the high-handed methods of the commission in handling boxing affairs flared up at the conclusion of the bouts at the Arena here on Monday night.

AUTHORITY CHALLENGED

Pete Tyrell, matchmaker for Rudolph Fried and Maurice Fishman, owners of the Arena Sports Palace, had arranged a match between George Godfrey, giant Leiperville Negro heavyweight, and Jack Renault, of Canada, for the weekly show at the Arena next Monday night. However, when he placed the bout before Frank Wiener, chairman of the commission, for approval before announcing the show, Wiener flatly refused to sanction the bout. He held Renault was not a satisfactory opponent for Godfrey. He was asked to step into the Arena office to confer with the owners, Fried, Fishman, other officials of the Arena, Tyrell, Jimmy Dougherty, manager of Godfrey, an attorney, Jimmy Johnston, manager of Renault, and Robert Young, secretary of the commission, joined in the ensuing argument. It ended for the time being when Wiener summoned all parties concerned to appear at the commission's office today.

SUSPENSIONS THREATENED

Fried, Fishman and Dougherty all vowed they would not obey the chairman's demands and were threatened with suspension. Fried and Fishman challenged the right of the commission to dictate to them on who they should place in their windups and tell them when they could run a boxing show or not conduct a show.

Dugan Is Victor Over Willie Michel

YOUNGSTOWN, Oct. 16.—Jackie Dugan, Louisville lightweight, outpointed Willie Michel, Belgian champ, in a slow 10-round bout here last night. Davey Abad, Panama lightweight, won on a foul from Joe Paglino, Louisville, in the fourth round. George Duncan, Cleveland heavyweight, scored a technical knockout over Leo Green, Youngstown, in three rounds. Jackie Powers, Youngstown flyweight, outpointed Jackie Ward, Lorain, in four rounds. Al Reno, Youngstown lightweight, was winner over Barney Davis, Cleveland, in another four-rounder.

Allegheny College To Rest This Week

MEADVILLE, Pa., Oct. 16.—The Allegheny College football team will have a much needed rest this week, since no game is scheduled for Saturday. The team has been greatly handicapped because several of the most dependable players have been playing with minor injuries, which has prevented their performing up to their real abilities.

Last Saturday, at Dartmouth, Allegheny played a fine game during the first quarter, but when Garbark and Berger were forced to leave the game at the beginning of the second quarter, the team was greatly weakened.

HARPSTER GIVES SHADY SIDE GRID BOOST

ACADEMY TEAM LIKELY TO GO UNDEFEATED

(This is the twentieth and last of an annual series of special articles, written by Jess Carver, Pittsburgh Sun-Telegraph football writer, dealing with the football prospects of tri-state district colleges and preparatory school elevens.)

Howard Harpster, though not a Moses, is the chap who is going to lead Shady Side Academy out of the football wilderness. Moses or not, Howdy is doing just that thing, and to a queen's taste.

Taking over the coaching reins at the beginning of the present season, with only two lettermen as a nucleus, the former Carnegie Tech star already has won three ball games out of as many played, beating last year's Shady Side record by 300 per cent, and appears to be well on the way to an undefeated season.

Neidringhaus, a tackle, and Capt. Bob McQuillen, quarter and halfback, are the only lettermen included on the Shady Side squad. Graham, another back, and Babcock, guard, were members of the 1928 squad but did not win their letters.

ENDS STRONG

Reuter, a fine looking winsman from Aspinwall High, and Herrmann are playing the ends, and so far, have been giving fine performances. Herrmann is a reformed tackle, but has accustomed himself to the duties of an end very acceptably.

At the tackles, Harpster is using Neidringhaus, a veteran, and a right hefty 190-pounder and Laird, a newcomer, who comes close to the former's pound total. Crookshank, subbing at either side of the line, and Batcnelor who works at either tackle or guard, are understudying the regulars.

THREE GOOD GUARDS

Babcock, Sipe and Rogers, fighting it out for the guard positions, have made the center of the Preppers line a tough spot. Babcock, with the greater experience, has been starting at left guard regularly, with Rogers and Sipe both seeing service at the other side of the line.

Smith, at center, is a power on the defense and an accurate passer and hard charging man on the offense. Gardner is the first string reserve snapper back.

BACKFIELD FAST

The younger Harpster, who has all the actions and motions of his famous brother and who has shown great ability as a field general, seems to have won the quarterback position. With the youngster in there, Capt. McQuillan has been shifted to a half paired with Gordon or Howatt, Graham and Millock are the fullback prospects, but-

HOWARD HARPSTER, ALL-AMERICA ACE, SHOWS PREP GRIDDERS HOW TO WIN

MEMMERING WINS

HOWARD HARPSTER

Coach Harpster's young brother Ralph, a dead ringer for Howard, both in looks and actions, has just about clinched the quarterback job at Shady Side. He is a fine passer and punter and is a reminder of his famous brother when it comes to generalship. He is light, weighing only 135 pounds, but is wiry and fast.

RALPH HARPSTER

Harpster, when he is in there, does the passing and kicking.

SCHEDULE STRONG

Shady Side is playing a strong schedule. The campaign opened with Catholic High September 27. This game was won handily, and was followed by the 51-0 rout of Perry. Duke Preps were defeated last week, and on Friday, Harpster will send his eleven on the field against Oakmont.

University School, of Cleveland, Western Reserve Academy and Nichols School, of Buffalo, will be met in the order named, the first at Cleveland, and the other two at home.

Davies Enacts Role of Champ and, if I'm any sort of a champion, I guess I can have something to say about the weight for my future matches."

There was no comeback for Beck, who lost no time in changing the articles to stipulate that Young must weight not less than 113 pounds.

It will be recalled that when Davies boxed Genaro at the Meyers Bowl, North Braddock, recently, he tipped the beam at exactly 112 pounds and Genaro made him drink a glass of water and weigh again so that there would be no official doubt that he was over the fly-weight limit.

Davies, by the way, is now definitely in the New York Athletic Commission's flyweight tournament and has drawn Black Bill, the Cuban Negro, as his opponent in the first round of the eliminations, to be staged November 4. Schwartz boxes Eugene Huat, the Frenchman, and Midget Wolgast meets Happy Atherton. There will be two other flyweights in the tournament, the winner of which will be acclaimed the world champion by the New York commission.

Little is known here of Young, Davies' opponent next Monday night, except that he is a fast little fellow and a good boxer. He holds a decision over Joey Ross and has boxed some of the other good ones in his class. This will be Davies' last appearance in a bout here until he engages in the New York tournament, in which he is the favorite to emerge with the crown as a result of his decisive victories over both Schwartz and Genaro here.

DUNN IN SEMI-FINAL

Steve Nugent, of Cleveland, and Johnny Dunn, of New Kensington, featherweights, have been matched to box the eight-round semi-final at the Garden Monday night. Two six-round preliminaries will complete the card.

Tom Maleo, of Soho, who is gradually regaining his old form by fighting regularly following his long layoff, is on the Moose Temple card for Friday night, paired with Georgie Peck, of the North Side, in the second bout. Hans Roberts, the German buzz saw, and Marty Simmons, of Wilkinsburg, are in the semi-final, and Jimmy Belmont, of Braddock, meets Benny Burns, of Akron, in the 10-round main event.

The card was completed last night for the show at McKeesport tomorrow night, in the main bout of which Buck McTiernan, of Swissvale, returns to the ring, following his spell of sickness, against Tony Ross, formerly of Carnegie, and recently of Detroit. Stanley Perto, of Monessen, and Joe Juhasz, of Beaver Falls, middleweights, have been signed for the opening bout, rounding out the bill. Eddie Brannon, of the Hill, and Billy Franke, of New Kensington, are in the second bout and Walter Majeske, of Wilkinsburg, and Jackie Herman, of Wheeling, in the eight-round semi-final.

CHANGE AT WASHINGTON

The boxing bouts at Washington, Pa., beginning with tomorrow night's card featuring Tug Phillips, of Charleroi, and Paris (Kid) Cangy, of New Castle, in the main bout, will be moved back from the armory into the Coliseum, in West Beau street, formerly the Washington Gardens. The Coliseum is under new management and the breach that resulted in the original switch being made has been closed by Promoter I. E. Goodridge.

A capacity crowd is expected by the Keystone A. C., for its Pittsburgh-Philadelphia inter-city amateur boxing show Friday night. An all-star card of seven bouts has been arranged.

Johnny Warner and Tiger Griffiths, amateur boxers, both of the Clairton A. C., leave tonight for New York to compete in the inter-city tournament in Madison Square Garden tomorrow night. Warner is a bantamweight and Griffiths a heavyweight.

Joey Goodman, of Cleveland, who knocked out Henry Perlick in the windup of the opening show at Motor Square Garden last week, meets Armando Schakels, the Belgian, in the main bout of a show in Cleveland's Public Hall tomorrow night. Henry Firpo and Jack McKenna, middleweights, are in the semi-final and Bob Moody, and Jack Townsend, Negro heavies, in another feature bout. Pete Mazzeo meets Louis Disantis and Eddie Latko boxes Pete Brancato in other bouts on the card.

GENARO MEETS JARVIS

Izzy Grove and Nick Testo box a third 10-round bout on the Madison Square Garden card in New York tomorrow night. Tony Canzoneri meets Johnny Farr in the main bout and Add Warren is in with George Hoffman in the semi-final.

The McKeesport Club has closed a match between Joe Trippe and Tug Phillips for October 30. The pair originally were matched for last Thursday night, but Trippe was injured and had to call it off.

Red Corriden Signed to Pilot Indianapolis

INDIANAPOLIS, Oct. 16.—(AP.)—John M. (Red) Corriden yesterday was signed to manage the Indianapolis American Association baseball team next season. He succeeded Albert F. (Bruno) Betzel, who resigned several weeks ago. Norman A. Perry, club owner, announced Corriden's selection.

Corriden was coach of the local team in 1928 and 1929. He has been in professional baseball since 1908, and has been in the major leagues twice, as shortstop for the St. Louis Browns and the Chicago Cubs. At other times he played with Kansas City, Louisville and Minneapolis in the American Associatic and with St. Joseph and Des Moines in the Western League.

CHICAGO FANS GREET CUBS ON RETURN

CHICAGO, Oct. 16.—(AP.)—Glum and heart-sick, Joe McCarthy and his vanquished Cub warriors came home from their unsuccessful world series battles yesterday. Five hundred faithfuls met and cheered them, but somehow failed to make them forget.

Except for the courageous banter of Kiki Cuyler and Guy Bush, the team acted like a funeral procession. Hack Wilson and Gabby Hartnett wept shamelessly and the others, Manager McCarthy inclined, acted like bad boys who had been whipped and were remorseful.

WRIGLEY SORROWFUL

Even Owner William Wrigley, Jr., who had his heart set on a world championship this year, was unable to conceal his sorrow, even though he did tell the home-coming greeters that next year would be different.

"Don't worry boys," Wrigley told the fans and his players. "Let's try to forget now. What is done is done. We'll come back next year and then it will be some other team's turn to feel the way we do now, if any team can feel that way."

Hack Wilson, who lost a fly ball in the sun during the disastrous seventh inning Athletic rally in the fourth game, was a pathetic figure. The big fellow forced his way out of a crowd of admirers with tears streaming down his face.

WILSON HEART-BROKEN

"Let me alone now, fellows," he said as he choked and sobbed. "I haven't anything to say except that I am heart-broken and that we did get some awful breaks."

"The best team didn't win," McCarthy said. "The best manager won. I'm proud of my boys. Never has any team fought harder than they did."

First Baseman Charley Grimm and Cliff Heatcote, utility outfielder, caused some merriment and some more sympathy when they confessed their contract to stage a vaudeville act had been cancelled.

California Arrives In Philly Today

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 16.—(AP.)—With the Golden Bears of the University of California speeding eastward to meet the University of Pennsylvania here next Saturday, Coach Lon Young was greeted with the news today that Gene Kuen, experienced Red and Blue tackle, would be lost for the season.

The Golden Bears squad of 29 players arrives here late today. This afternoon the squad will stop off at Washington to pay a visit to President Hoover.

Coach Young has abandoned all scrimmage for his first eleven men until after the California contest.

BIG WEEK-END SOCCER PROGRAM ON TAP

Dukes Await Grid Battle With Chicago Loyola

★ SUN-TELEGRAPH ★ SPORTS ★

CECIL BATTLES PIERPOINTS SATURDAY

By TOM BIRKS.

Soccer fans locally will have quite a list of cup and league games to become enthused over this week end. On Saturday the big game will find Cecil meeting the Pierpoints at the Homewood playgrounds. After watching the Miller's Run outfit drop the Celtics from the tourney, there is reason to feel the Motors are in for a tough battle.

CECIL CLUB STRONG

On the Cecil club there are many stalwarts of hard-fought soccer in cup ties around the Panhandle district. Augie Behling is coaching a little on the side. Cecil plays typical cup-tie soccer, and despite many critics trying to change the style of the Panhandle footballers into the carpet-weaving method, so overdone by our British cousins, there is little chance of any club in Miller's Run ever getting away from the style that Cecil, Sturgeon, Heidelberg, Morgan and Castle Shannon have employed—a style that defeated all the exponents of the European style in this country.

On Sunday Heidelberg will meet Glendale, and, seeing that the Dalers dumped Gallatin, a real cup fighting club, out of the tourney, there is a chance local soccer element will see another upset, for it is evident Heidelberg is far from being settled.

Balsarini seems to be having troubles of his own these days in getting a team on the field. At the start of every season it appears every person, in the district takes a crack at signing up the players of the Heidelberg team. When Balsarini wants to get started, he has to travel all over Allegheny County getting releases. Some officials called Balsarini, trying to find out whether he would have a club so they could sign up the players. They have been in the game long enough to know better.

BEADLING TRAVELS

Beadling will travel to Steve Horlick's town in the cup ties, and that game will bring together two distinct types of soccer. The Beaver Valley fans will see a club that cares little for the finer soccer. Beadling never did, its slam-bang style always gave visitors to Beadling plenty of trouble before 90 minutes were completed.

In the District League, the followers of the Union Switch and Signal eleven will see the Pittsburgh Rovers in action. The Rovers, with Jimmy Dunlop, will give Fonseca plenty of trouble, and this game, together with the visit of the National Tubers to Leslie Park, opposing the Celtics, should attract the fans following the league type of soccer.

Snavely Displeased With Bucknell

LEWISBURG, Pa., Oct. 16.—While fans in general thought Bucknell showed much football ability in the game against W. & J. last Saturday, Coach Snavely was more displeased with Bison play than he has been at any time in his three years here, it was said last night at the Stadium when Snavely was talking over deficiencies in team play against the Presidents.

It was evident in the stands that the Thundering Herd had lost much of its ability to thunder, and Snavely noticed it more than any one. That the team has plenty of power was evidenced by the fact that they carried the ball on their own 20-yard line and with one exchange of punts carried it over for a touchdown. But with that one flash of power the Bisons folded up, never to recover except once a few minutes later and in the closing moments of the game, when even a touchdown would not have won.

Grovers Prepare For Westminster

GROVE CITY, Pa., Oct. 16.—After putting the Crimson squad through a stiff drill yesterday, Coach Berry let it be known that all the work that has been done so far this year is merely preliminary to the big job of turning back district rivals in the next four weeks. He gave the Grovers a long session yesterday, after a lay-off Saturday, and plans a lot of work this week in preparation for Westminster on Saturday.

Grove City's schedule for the next month permits little rest. After Westminster comes the annual battle with Geneva; then Waynesburg, with the opportunity to avenge a tie score last year. The game that makes or breaks the Crimson schedule follows, when Allegheny meets the Grovers here on November 9 in the Homecoming Day festivities.

LESSONS IN FOOTBALL

What, in your experience, have been the chief causes of penalties? Are most of them preventable, and, if so, how?

Answered by

R. E. HANLEY

Football Coach, Northwestern University.

It is my opinion that violations of the football rules are in the main due to the player's lack of experience, his mental state and his unfamiliarity with the rules. Occasionally, a player loses his temper and is guilty of unfair play and unsportsmanlike tactics. Play of this type is rarely, if ever, taught by coaches and is inexcusable in any player. The coach never should wait for an official to disqualify such a player from the game, for there is not place on any team for such a player. Regardless of his ability, he will cause his team much more than he will gain for it. A coach should make his squad understand that such tactics will bar a man from the squad. Then if in the practice sessions he is on the lookout for these tendencies and disciplines such offenders he can permanently eliminate offenses of this nature.

A rule that is violated probably more than any other rule in the book is the offside penalty. All offensive and defensive players have a tendency to charge offside. This is caused by overanxiety, aggressiveness and the player's wrought-up mental state. This type of player also has a tendency to run carrier out of bounds and to block an opponent after the whistle has blown and to tackle a player who has made a fair catch, as well as numerous other breaches of this nature. These violation are not usually the fault of either the coach or the player, but are due to the high tension under which the player is operating. Continued practice in offensive and defensive charging, charging as the ball is passed on defense, will overcome the offside tendencies and the remaining violations will be corrected by experience and constant personal coaching.

Oswald to Compete In Title Cue Event

BALTIMORE, Oct. 16.—Warren E. Nichols, of Meadville, and Harry Oswald, of Pittsburgh, among the leading pocket billiard players of Western Pennsylvania, are entered in the eastern elimination tournament of the world championship pocket billiard play to be held here next week.

Nichols and Oswald are among the 16 stars listed for the competition, the winner of which will compete with four other sectional winners for the title.

The entry list closed last week with the following players lined up for the tournament here: Wallace E. Stott, Baltimore; James Carres, Wilmington, Del.; Joe Procita, Gloversville, N. Y.; Arthur Church, Yonkers, N. Y.; Andrew Ponzi, Philadelphia; Joseph Rego, Wilmington; Howard W. Gray, Rochester, N. Y.; Charles Seaback, New York; Richard J. Daley, College Point, N. Y.; Warren E. Nichols, Meadville, Pa.; Harry Oswald, Pittsburgh; Onofrio Lauri, Brooklyn; Andrew St. Jean, Lowell, Mass.; W. G. Makin, Buffalo, N. Y.; Arthur Woods, New York, and Carl Vaughan, Long Island, N. Y.

Yankees to Name New Pilot Tuesday

NEW YORK, Oct. 16.—(INS.)—Officials of the New York Yankees today reiterated earlier statements that although the man to succeed the late Miller Huggins had been chosen his identity would not be revealed until next Tuesday.

The majority of baseball men are of the opinion Art Fletcher will be named and that Babe Ruth has been eliminated as a possibility.

In contrast to this opinion was the belief of some that the Yankees would startle the baseball world by announcing that John McGraw, for 27 years manager of the New York Giants, would head the Yanks in 1930. Regarding the possibility of McGraw going to the Yanks, Secretary David Barrow said the Giant pilot is not the man the Yankees now have in mind, but that "doesn't mean we wouldn't like to get him."

Singer Battle Nets Garden Big Profit

NEW YORK, Oct. 16.—(INS.)—Here's one for the books.

The biggest outdoor fight of the season, the brawl between Tommy Loughran and Jack Sharkey, drew $320,000.

The junior lightweight mix-up of last Friday night, featuring Al Singer and Young Zazzerino, drew $78,000.

Yet the Singer-Zazzy fight left [illegible] Garden a profit of [illegible] and Jack's [illegible] only [illegible] for the Garden [illegible].

All because of the high, wide and handsome purses demanded by the bigger boys and the heavy tax exacted by the government on the outdoor party.

DUKES AWAIT BATTLE WITH LOYOLA

Without the services of Sammy Pratt, brilliant terminal man, Duquesne University will have to stave off a deadly forward passing attack of Loyola University when the Chicago gridders invade Pittsburgh for the hardest game yet to be played by the Dukes.

Both teams will be on a par in that they use identically the same system, the Notre Dame style of play, and that they have not been defeated yet this season. But Loyola will hold the upper hand in having all of the Rambler terminal men in fine condition and ready to snare the famous heaves of Capt. Corny Collins, diminutive Rambler quarterback.

Collins will find it possible to toss to either Paul Noland or Billy McNeil and find a ready receiver for the heaves. And Fred Sextro or George Weimer are likewise capable of taking passes out of the air for long gains. On the other hand Joe McCarthy or Ganzy Benedict, Duke heavers will have to confine their tosses a bit since, while Red Murphy who will doubtless fill the position of Pratt, is entirely capable as an end man, he cannot be said to be another Sammy.

LOYOLA USES DUKE PLAYS

CHICAGO, Oct. 16.—With a freshman team rendering interpretations of Duquesne formations as accurately as its ability would permit, the undefeated Loyola University football team last night went through a very successful scrimmage in preparation for its Saturday game against the likewise undefeated Pittsburgh eleven.

Coach Dan Lamont, following the somewhat futile practice which he has pursued in four weeks of workouts, concentrated on the improvement of the Loyola passing attack, feeling that the weakness which his team has thus far shown in this department of the game must be corrected if the eleven is to keep its unsullied record intact.

The Loyolans will depart for Pittsburgh tomorrow evening, and expect to take a brief workout Friday afternoon at Forbes Field.

W. & J. CONFIDENT

WASHINGTON, Oct. 16.—With the belief growing here that Wash-Jeff will give Carnegie Tech one of the stiffest battles of the year next Saturday, the Presidents are going about their preparation for the big combat with enthusiasm and a determination that has not characterized W. & J. practice for years. Starting Monday with light field drill, the Red and Black had a stiffer session yesterday and today will stage a scrimmage as the hardest workout of the week. Coaches Amos and Ride plan to send the 'Varsity into a long practice clash with Coach Henry's Freshman outfit, which will be armed with Carnegie Tech plays and formations as brought back by Wash-Jeff scouts.

Following today's drill the team will have a partial let down tomorrow and then a very light drill Friday afternoon. The team will be taken to Pittsburgh about 10 o'clock Saturday morning by motor bus. Headquarters in Pittsburgh will be maintained at Webster Hall where the team will be sequestered upon arrival until game-time. A squad of about 35 men will be taken to the Steel City and the Freshmen who are idle next Saturday, will also be at the game.

Wash-Jeff authorities are well pleased with the officials assigned to the game, regarding them as among the most capable in the country. James P. Egan, of Duquesne, will be referee; E. J. Ryan, of Michigan, umpire; G. M. Bankart, of Dartmouth, lineman, and W. H. Friesell, of Princeton, field judge.

MOUNTAINEERS WORK

MORGANTOWN, Oct. 16.—"A strong offensive will amount to more than a defensive," or something to that effect, was the intimation Head Coach Ira Rodgers, left here last night, when he sent the West Virginia University Mountaineers against the Freshmen in a long scrimmage. The entire session, with the exception of a short drill in going down under punts, was devoted to the perfection of a running attack.

Dempsey to Promote Heavy Show Oct. 30

Garden Wants New Arena in New York

NEW YORK, Oct. 16.—(AP).—The New York Times today says that an offer for the "air rights" to the space above the Pennsylvania Railroad tracks in the area of the Pennsylvania Station was made by Madison Square Garden, which proposes to erect an outdoor arena with a seating capacity of 50,000.

One offer for the "air rights," which is the real estate expression for the unoccupied space above the railroad tracks, was rejected by the railroad, but the new proposal has not been considered.

Preliminary estimates put the cost of the projected arena at less than $2,000,000. The new amphitheater would not mean the passing of the $5,000,000 Madison Square Garden, but would serve as its outdoor complement.

W. & J. Freshman Star Out for Season

WASHINGTON, Pa., Oct. 15.—As a result of an injury sustained in the game last Saturday with the Carnegie Tech Plebes, Lewis Schnebly, star tackle on the Wash-Jeff Freshman team, will be lost to the team for the remainder of the season.

Schnebly was injured early in the contest, but played through the period on sheer grit. It was at first supposed that his injury consisted of torn ligaments and tendons, but an x-ray picture taken at the Washington Hospital indicates he has an infection of his right shin bone and will be on the shelf for the remainder of the year.

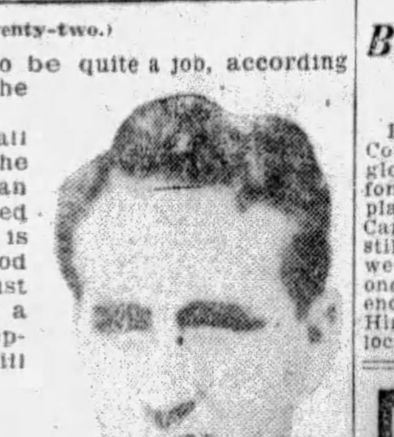
from the Tigers. And that may prove to be quite a job, according to those who have been in touch with the situation at Detroit.

Normally, Heilmann is a fine ball player and one of the best hitters in the country, but the fact that all American League clubs waived on him and allowed him to be shipped out of their league is evidence that he is not regarded as a good man to have on a ball team. Howley must be given credit for being willing to take a chance, at least. If he can succeed in keeping Heilmann in the right path he will strengthen his club.



George Farley

CONFLICTING reports are heard as to the strength of the University of Nebraska football team, the big outfit that the Panthers will meet in Lincoln next Saturday, and one of the elevens that Pitt, learning from experience, fears most on this year's schedule. A well-known gridiron critic who has seen Capt. George Farley and his mates in action, says that while heavy and powerful, as usual, the Cornhuskers are not as good as they were in recent seasons. A Western football official, however, hands out the tip that the Sutherland's would better be on their guard. "Nebraska will be a tough team for any opponent to hold down," he said. "It not only has size and weight, but it knows more football and plays in more machine-like style than formerly, thanks to the fine work that Coach Dan Bible is doing in his first year."

FONSECA MOST VALUABLE IN AMERICAN

NEW YORK, Oct. 16.—(AP.)—Lew Fonseca, Cleveland first baseman and new batting champion of the American League, is the "most valuable player" of the League for 1929, based upon the decision of a committee of baseball writers representing each city in the circuit.

At the request of the sports editor of the Associated Press, this committee, named by the baseball writers covering the world series, cast its ballots in the absence of an official selection by the American League, which abolished this year the award it had made annually since 1922. The National League makes its last official selection this year, to be announced later.

The veteran Fonseca won the unofficial contest from contenders in the ranks of the world champion Athletics because he was rated high on seven of the eight lists prepared by the baseball experts.

Jimmy Dykes, whose all-around infield play was a vital factor in the success of the A's, was the favorite choice among the Mackmen and finished second in the vote. Al Simmons, Jimmy Foxx and Mickey Cochrane also figured high, causing "split ballots" that kept any one member of the champions from heading off Fonseca.

Fonseca, although receiving only one vote for first place, had three votes for second place, two for third and one for fourth to make up his total of 46 points. Dykes received three ballots for first place and one for second place, totaling 31 points. Simmons was the first choice of two experts, Foxx and Cochrane of one each. Cochrane won the 1928 official award.

Heinie Manush, St. Louis outfielder and runner-up to Cochrane last year, placed third with 26 votes, Charley Gehringer, of Detroit, fourth with 25 and Joe Judge, veteran Washington first baseman, fifth with 24.

The results of the balloting, based on eight points for first place, seven for second, etc.

PITT LEAVES FOR WEST

Elkins eleven meets another tough one this week. The Hurricane will "hurry" against the Quantico Marines, the game being booked for Fairmont, W. Va.

A year ago, the Leathernecks and Senators battled to a 12-12 tie. I'll take D. and E. for mine this year by two touchdowns.

And if you think there will not be a crowd at Reeves Stadium, Beaver Falls, Saturday when Thiel and Geneva clash, think again. The Lutherans always draw well in Beaver Falls; for that matter, Beaver Falls is one of the best football towns in the state, and always pits a good crowd in the stands for a Geneva game. Geneva ought to win this one.

W. VA. HOPEFUL

West Virginia, with two defeats and one tie as a reward for its last three football games, hopes to get back into the win column against Washington and Lee at Charleston this week. And why not?

The big minor game of the week-end will be the Grove City, Westminster (Harry Michaels-Ed Waleski) battle at New Wilmington. These schools have met 33 times on the gridiron, with honors close to even.

A special train load of fans will accompany the St. Vincent Bearcats to Buffalo Saturday for the 'Cats game with Canisius.

Bellefonte to Meet Windber Saturday

BELLEFONTE, Pa., Oct. 15.—Covered with iodine as well as glory the eleven stalwart Bellefonte High youths who on Saturday played the much vaunted Mount Carmel football team to a standstill are out on the gridiron this week getting in shape for the second game in the Western Conference on Saturday, when Windber High will be its opponents on the local gridiron.

OLD RECORDS FALL IN SERIES

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 16.—(AP.)—Despite the absence of Babe Ruth and his big bludgeon from the world series trail this fall, 24 records were broken or tied in the clash between the Athletics and the Cubs.

Most of these went down when the Mackmen staged their record rally for 10 runs in the seventh inning last Saturday to overcome an eight-run Chicago lead and pull the decision from the fire by 10 to 8. Thirty-odd marks fell last fall.

Howard Ehmke, the elongated right hander, smashed the 26-year-old mark of Ed Walsh, of the White Sox, by fanning 13 Cubs in the opening clash at Chicago. Walsh struck out 12 members of the same team in the Chicago inter-city world series of 1906.

Ehmke was admirably held up by Mickey Cochrane, star catcher of the Mackmen, and Mickey thus stepped into several new fielding records. He broke the record for putouts with 14 in the first game, and added an assist to top the mark for chances accepted. As Earnshaw and Grove came back with 13 strikeouts between them in the second game, Cochrane tied his own putout mark, and had a running start toward a new total putout mark for the series, which he set at 59. He added two assists to send the record for total chances accepted to 61.

The Cubs set a new mark for strikeouts with 50, registering 26 of them in the first two games.

Other near-records and things, which should have been records, figured in the series. Connie Mack set a new mark for world series managers to shoot at by winning his fourth title. He also set a new mark against the experts and the inexperts by fooling them five times in a row on his starting pitcher. The records broken or tied follows:

INDIVIDUAL BATTING:

1. Most times at bat, inning (2) Simmons, Foxx, Miller, Dykes, Boley and Burns, Philadelphia, October 12, tying several others.
2. Most runs, inning (2), Simmons, Foxx, tying Frisch.
3. Most runs batted in, inning (3), Dykes, October 12.
4. Most runs batted in game (4), Simmons, October 9, tying Ruth.
5. Most base hits, inning (2), Simmons, Foxx, Dykes, October 12, tying Ross Young, Giants.
6. Scoring most men on long hit inning (3), Haas, October 12, tying several others.
7. Most total bases inning, (5), Simmons, October 12, (home run and single), tying Ross Young.

CLUB BATTING:

8. Highest batting average, club losing series, Chicago, .235.

Yank Nag Unplaced In Newmarket Race

NEWMARKET, Eng., Oct. 16.—(AP.)—West Wicklow, ridden by C. Richards, and an outsider, today won the historic Cesarewitch, England's great autumn handicap.

Friendship, ridden by Dines, was second, and Brown Jack, ridden by Steve Donaghue, was third.

The stakes were £1,000 with extras and the distance 2¼ miles.

Sonnenberg, Lewis, Plestina Win Bouts

WENATCHEE, Wash., Oct. 16.—(AP.)—Ed (Strangler) Lewis, former heavyweight wrestling champion of the world, defeated Joe Reynolds, of Salt Lake City, Utah, in two straight falls here last night. Lewis won the first fall with a headlock in 42 minutes and the second, also with a headlock, in 8 minutes.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 16.—(AP.)—Martin Plestina, giant Jugoslav, won two straight falls from Charley Hansen, of Iowa, here last night. Plestina took the first fall in 40 minutes with a body and crotch hold and the second in 25 minutes with a headlock.

TORONTO, Oct. 16.—(AP.)—Gus Sonnenberg, claimant of world heavyweight wrestling championship, repulsed the challenge of Dan Koloff, in two straight falls here last night.

Rockne Directs Irish Practice Over "Mike"

SOUTH BEND, Ind., Oct. 16.—(AP.)—Bundled in the rear seat of his automobile, a microphone before him, Coach Knute Rockne yesterday directed the practice of the Notre Dame football team from the sidelines at Cartier Field. Amplifiers carried to the players the voice of the coach, who has been receiving treatment for an infected knee.

Slight confusion was caused when whispered instructions to Coaches Lieb and Chevigny, who had been called to the side of the car, were magnified into shouts heard over the entire field.

SCHOOL FRAYS MOVED UP

The City League scholastic football card for the week has been moved up a day, and will be run off tomorrow instead of Friday. Teachers' Institute classes, the river parade and the Light's Golden Jubilee celebration made this shift necessary.

In tomorrow's game, in Section 1, South will tackle Westinghouse, Schenley will battle Fifth and Peabody will engage in a non-league battle with Wilkinsburg.

Rocknemen Get 'Traveling Church'

SOUTH BEND, Ind., Oct. 16.—(AP.)—A chapel has been added to the traveling equipment of the football team of the University of Notre Dame, so the players will not miss Sunday services during their long trips about the country.

The "traveling church" was built some time ago for the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad for use of the road's ecclesiastical guests. Notre Dame made use of it last week while returning from Baltimore, where Navy was defeated.

In the future, it was said, a priest will accompany the team and by special permission will hold services in the chapel car.

NEW RECORD

WHIPPETS PLAY HOPE-HARVEY SUNDAY

Hope-Harvey will show the highly touted Charleroi Whippets at Exposition Park Sunday afternoon. This game is expected to attract a record breaking crowd. The majesties are on edge for the battle, Charleroi holding the Burns Club to a 6-to-0 score recently. Some real battles will be fought Sunday. Blawnox will meet Burns at Kinlock Field and Pleasant Valley will tangle with Oakland Community at the Frazier Street grounds.

East Pittsburgh will meet the McKeesport Olympics at the Quarry Grounds and New Kensington Olympics will meet the strong Venice Club at McKees Rocks.

Homewood Tylers will meet Port Vue on the Quakers grounds. The following week will find another big game being staged when the Burns A. A. of New Kensington meets the East Pittsburgh Firemen at the Quarry Grounds.

The newly-formed North Boro's Community Club will meet Linwood, and it is reported that a number of college stars are in the Bellevue-Avalon lineup.

Hunter Begins Defense of Crown

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 16.—(AP.)—Wee Willie Hunter, Montebello Park professional, sallied forth to defend his Southern California Open golf title here today against one of the best fields the annual $1,000 tournament has ever called together.

Chief among those who will attempt to wrest the title from Hunter in the 72 holes of medal play is Leo Diegel, the long-hitting professional from Agua Caliente.

Eighteen holes will be played today, 18 Thursday, and the last 36 Friday.

Maureen Orcutt Wins Golf Tourney

NEW YORK, Oct. 16.—(INS.)—Maureen Orcutt was further entrenched t[illegible]day as the Women's Metrop[illegible] Golf Association's ranking player.

For ye[illegible] Maureen won both low gross and low net honors at the association's one-day tournament over the links of the Plainfield Country Club.

BANKERS WARN ON HIGH PRICES OF STOCKS

Development of Investment Trust Companies Termed Sound at Quebec Session

QUEBEC, Oct. 16.—A note of warning on the high prices reached by common stocks was sounded by leaders at the first general session of the convention of the Investment Bankers' Association of America yesterday. The belief was generally expressed, however, that public interest in common stocks is to be greater in the future than in the past but changing market conditions may temporarily put stocks in the background. That bonds may anticipate a partial return in public estimation was predicted.

The association went on record to the effect that the development of most companies of the investment trust type has been along sound lines, although public enthusiasm for this type of security may have resulted in unwarranted price advances.

STOCKS OVERRUN MARK

Rollin A. Wilbur, president of the association, in speaking of the position of common stocks and the future of bonds, said:

"There is no reason to doubt that henceforth common stocks will occupy a much more important position in the investment field than they did four or five years ago or previously when investment was so intensely committed to senior securities. There is, however, reason to believe that common stocks as a whole in the swift rush to wide recognition and public popularity, have overrun their mark just as the ebb in the bond business has carried senior securities below their proper level.

"The question is not to restore the old order and the historically recognized ratio, but to determine the proper place and use of junior financing and senior securities in a more stable, economic scheme. And the point to be questioned is when will this adjustment be forthcoming. Realization of a greater demand for and use of senior securities seems to me to be certain, but as to the exact time required for its development for the tide to turn no one can answer. It is my personal opinion that the time is near."

STOCKS REFLECT GROWTH

Waddill Catchings, of Goldman, Sachs and Company, and chairman of the industrial securities committee, said:

"Whatever may be the swing up and down in the relative proportion of interest between senior securities and equity securities, it must be manifest to all of us that in the future the public will have a much greater interest in equity securities than they have had in the past. The public realizes from a mass of information which has been disseminated throughout the country that as our country becomes more and more prosperous the large companies in the different lines of business must inevitably grow with the country and become more and more prosperous and that this growth will be reflected in common stocks."

Catchings also stated that in order to proceed further away from the speculative interest in common stocks and to develop a sounder investment interest it will be necessary for investment bankers to take greater interest in junior securities.

Charles D. Dickey, chairman of the investment companies' committee, said:

"If there is an outstanding weakness in the investment company situation today—and it is only fair to assume that a movement that has grown so rapidly is bound to indulge in certain excesses—it would seem to be overenthusiasm on the part of the investing public for this type of security. This has resulted in the passing up of prices of certain investment companies to a figure so far in excess of their book value that they are extremely hard to justify. In most cases this has been done against the wishes of the managements, who recognized not only the danger of such inflation of value, but the burden of justifying it which this throws on their shoulders.

SEVERE LOSSES SEEN

"There unquestionably have been many instances in recent months where investors have purchased equities of investment companies at prices which they know to be several times their book value and where, further, they could easily have ascertained that the book value was based on holdings which, in turn, had risen in price to a point difficult to a justification.

"If this continues, there will unquestionably be numerous instances where these purchasers will suffer severe losses, as a result of which investment companies as a class will be hurt. It is even possible that if such losses become widespread there will be renewed agitation for regulation by state and federal authorities. It is the judgment of your commttee that where such inflation of prices exists it is the natural byproduct of a speculative period, and as long as the facts are honestly disclosed to the investor it is difficult, if not impossible, for state or federal authorities to regulate the price which he may choose to pay for any security."

The convention was addressed by the Hon. Henry George Carroll, K. C., lieutenant governor of the province of Quebec, and by the Hon. L. A. Taschereau, K. C., prime minister of the province of Quebec.

Bankers to Take Stand On Dividend Policies

By GEORGE H. SNYDER.

QUEBEC, Oct. 16.—SERIOUS danger exists that the investing public may be misled by the stock dividend policies of corporations and it is necessary for the Investment Bankers' Association to take a definite stand on the policies to be followed. This was brought out emphatically by Waddill Catchings, of Goldman, Sachs and Company, in discussing the report of the industrial securities committee of the association yesterday.

Mr. Catchings stated that he was not alluding to organizations which declare only occasional stock dividends or stock split ups. His remarks were directed at companies which make a practice of declaring periodic stock dividends which are intended to represent part of the stockholders' compensation from earnings.

The management in declaring such stock dividends undoubtedly represents to the public that the company has developed in some measure as represented by the increase in the capital structure. Mr. Catchings wishes the association to insist the earnings actually do justify stock dividends for the period. He wants it made certain that such a dividend is not taken by the investor as indicating a growth in the company while it actually represents no growth but a dilution of the stock.

Sharp Line Between Dividends Urged

IT is necessary that a sharp line be drawn between the stock dividend used at a wide interval to reduce the market price of individual units of a stock that wider distribution can be secured and smaller stock dividends paid quarterly, semi-annually or annually which are supposed to represent earnings put back into the property instead of distributed as cash. At the end of a dividend period the average value of stock outstanding should not be less than at the beginning of the period before the company had the benefit of the reinvestment of earnings.

This raises the possibility of another danger in the opinion of Mr. Catchings. Unless earnings represented by stock dividends are ear-marked in some way as having been used once, they may again be used as a basis for a second stock dividend. It is also important that the earnings of the stock units not be decreased by the payment of periodic stock dividends.

Unfortunately the legal and accounting situations with regard to capital, capital surplus and earned surplus are in such confusion that one cannot say clearly how these earnings which are devoted to the declaration of a stock dividend should be earmarked.

Should Be Frozen Into Business

THE committee suggests that they should be capitalized in some form so that they are actually frozen into the business and it suggests that the members of the association do not be misled by this confusion. They are asked to look to see whether the corporation has actually earmarked the earnings so that they cannot be used again as indicating growth.

Accountants have always taken the theoretical view that a stockholder has no more after the declaration of a stock dividend than before. The newly-issued stock is merely another piece of paper which proportionately reduces the value of all the shares outstanding previously. While this attitude is technically correct it does not represent the general public view. Mr. Catchings believes that the problem should be considered as it actually exists. The public in receiving a regular stock dividend does feel that it is getting something more than it had before. This is influenced by the fact that the stock does not ordinarily go off on the declaration of a regular stock dividend to offset this additional piece of paper. Usually the market tells the stockholder that he has something more.

Revival in Securities Seen

A POSSIBLE revival in the distribution of foreign securities in the near future was seen by Harry M. Addinsell, of Harris Forbes and Company, who is chairman of the foreign securities committee of the Investment Bankers' Association.

The trend of foreign financing in the United States during the past five months has remained materially the same. The second quarter of 1929 witnessed a further decline in the public offerings of foreign securities and new low price levels for foreign dollar bonds were recorded. Statistics now available for the first half of 1929 show that foreign security flotations in this country have dropped more than 50 per cent as of these foreign loans went to Canada, about 20 per cent to Europe, 10 per cent to Latin America, and 2 per cent to the Far East. Only about 20 per cent of this year's foreign financing consisted of government, state and municipal loans, while 80 per cent went to corporations. It should be noted, however, that over $2,000,000,000 of short and medium term credits to foreign governments and corporations, the most important of which was a $50,000,000 credit to the German government, has not been included in the compilation.

These short term loans undoubtedly relieved the credit stringency existing particularly in those countries which during the past year had no difficulty in satisfying their capital requirements through the sale of bonds in the American market. While continued tight money in the United States would make unlikely a large increase in long term foreign bond financing during the remaining months of 1929 there can be no doubt but that sooner or later foreign financing will be resumed on a larger scale. The enormous amount of short term credits now outstanding indicates that foreign capital still is an important factor in the economic rehabilitation of continental Europe and an equally important factor in the further development of many Latin American countries.

Will Not Increase Rate on Clay Pipe

WASHINGTON, Oct. 16.—Oil City, Erie, Pittsburgh and Beaver Falls in Pennsylvania, and Buffalo, N. Y., are winners today in a battle with scores of railroads who proposed to increase freight rates on clay sewer pipe and wall coping to those cities from the Middle West. The Interstate Commerce Commission has just ruled that the proposed increase is not justified. It states, however, that the carriers will have the right to seek an increase later, providing that they can bring in better evidence. At the same time the commission also dismissed the petition of the railroads to increase rates on the same commodities from Western Pennsylvania to the East.

Com. Solvents Net Gains in Quarter

NEW YORK, Oct. 16.—The Commercial Solvents Corporation reports net income of $1,011,738 for the quarter ended September 30, after charges and federal taxes, equal to $4.39 a share on 230,622 capital shares outstanding prior to 10-for-1 splitup on October 3, against $953,569, or $4.21 a share on 226,339 shares in the preceding quarter and $898,534, or $4.12 on 217,722 capital shares in the 1928 quarter. Net income for nine months was $2,809,662, or $12.19 a share, versus $2,099,783, or $9.64 a share in the 1928 period.

Elec. Bond & Share Program Approved

NEW YORK, Oct. 16.—Stockholders of Electric Bond and Share Company at their annual meeting approved the recommendation of directors to increase the authorized number of shares without par value from 14,500,000 shares, divided into 1,000,000 shares of $6 preferred, 1,000,000 shares of $5 preferred and 12,500,000 common shares to 23,500,000 shares without par value, of which 20,000,000 will be common, 2,500,000 shares $6 preferred and 1,000,000 shares $5 preferred.

Consolidation of Electric Bond and Share and Electric Investors was also approved.

Glidden Company Sales Increase

CLEVELAND, Oct. 16.—The Glidden Company reports sales for the month of September totaled $3,619,746 against $2,366,132 in September, 1928. For 11 months ended September 30 sales amounted to $34,240,458 against $24,665,126.

Timken Bearing Co. Earnings Fall Off

DETROIT, Oct. 16.—Timken Roller Bearing Company reports for quarter ended September 30 net profit of $3,731,679 after depreciation, federal taxes, etc., compared to $4,184,973 in the previous quarter. Net for nine months totaled $12,189,877.

May Settle Huge Steel Suit Out Of Court

NEW YORK, Oct. 16.—The $250,000,000 patent infringement suit brought by Bethlehem Steel Corporation and Universal Mills Company against United States Steel Corporation may be settled out of court, as negotiations to this effect reach advanced stage.

A settlement will save costly litigation and will probably be on a basis permitting continued use of the disputed patents by the companies concerned.

Eugene G. Grace, president of the Bethlehem Steel Corporation, commenting on reports that its $250,000,000 patent infringent suit against the United States Steel Corporation was nearing settlement out of court, stated merely today that the suit "has not been settled." He declined to comment further.

Stock Exchange Topics

Stop-Loss Orders Impel Market on Course Downward.

THE day's low prices were made under pressure of the execution of a heavy run of stop-loss orders touched off by the weight of renewed speculative selling and nervous liquidation which forced the rank and file of stocks back steady throughout the forenoon. Many of the stocks which had been leaders on the recovery from the low levels of a week or so ago, yielded abruptly as liquidation of this character was unleashed. Steel common, American and Foreign Power, Consolidated Gas, General Electric and Anaconda were particularly unsettled as a result of the reaching of these standing orders.

Steel common, as it has been since mid-summer, is apparently still the key to the general market situation. The market quite plainly takes its cue from the industrial bellwether, and lost little time in turning downward today as that issue ran into recurrent waves of selling, which forced it back to new low levels for the present reaction. Steel was off some 5 points net at the low and more than 15 points under the high of the recovery reached on Monday before developing any substantial resistance. Sentiment was not especially helped by the disclosure of the mid-weekly trade journals that the corporation's mill operations had dropped to 80 per cent from the 89 per cent level reached a week ago on a rise of 4 per cent.

CHESAPEAKE AND OHIO had a quick upturn of 8 points in response to the overnight announcement of the plans of the Van Sweringen interests for capital adjustment, involving a reduction in the par value of the stock to $25, and virtually doubling of the authorized total, along with absorption of Hocking Valley stock through an exchange of shares. Under the plan the company will have an authorized common capital of 12,000,000 shares of $25 par value, of which after giving effect to the exchange of the old shares, and providing for the Hocking Valley deal, there would be outstanding a total of some 6,991,536 shares of the new stock, placing the company in a position to move quickly in the event it is permitted ultimately to acquire various properties which it desires to obtain.

With the approval of the plan for capital change, it is expected that dividends will be inaugurated on the new shares at a rate equivalent to an increase over the present annual basis of disbursements. Wall street looks for payments to be established on the new shares at the rate of $3 a year, which would be equivalent to a $12 basis on the present $100 stock which is receiving dividends at the rate of $10 annually. Naturally, the chief beneficiaries under such circumstances would be the two Van Swearingen holding corporations, namely the Chesapeake Corporation and the Alleghany Corporation, both large holders of the common stock of the road.

CONSTRUCTIVE activity in the oil shares aside from the favor which such leading issues as Standard of New Jersey and Royal Dutch possesses for investment trust and institutional accumulation, is based on belief that progress is being made toward conservation to stabilize the industry. Considerable improvement in the general situation is noted as a result of the state-wide curtailment of production in Oklahoma to 560,000 barrels a day and forecasts of a substantial reduction in California output by the end of the month. Practical steps in the conservation of oil are also in force in other areas such as Texas and Kansas.

Strength in Electric Storage Battery in face of weakness in the general market reflected buying induced by the announcement of plans for payment of a 100 per cent stock dividend, plus the equivalent of $11 a share in stock of a new company to be formed, known as the Exide Securities Company. Electric Storage Battery has set aside $9,861,775 cash, equivalent to $11 a share on its stock, which will be paid into the new company in return for 447,262½ shares of that corporation's stock. The latter stock will be distributed pro rata to Electric Storage Battery shareholders along with warrants entitling them to subscribe at $18 a share for additional stock of the new company in the ratio of one-half share for each share of Electric Storage Battery held on record as of November 1.

TRADE BOARD GETS EVEN

CHICAGO, Oct. 16.—Directors of the Board of Trade voted to prohibit members from trading on any other Chicago exchange whose constitution limits the trading privilege of Board of Trade members on the board's newly formed stock exchange.

The proposal must be ratified by the membership of the Board at an election October 26, before it becomes effective.

The action is directed at the Chicago Stock Exchange, whose members are forbidden by their bylaws to trade on the Board of Trade security exchange because the Board listed several issues already listed on the Stock Exchange.

This action will virtually force firms having memberships on both the Board of Trade and the Chicago Stock Exchange to relinquish one of the seats, it is expected.

Efforts looking toward a mutual understanding between officials of the two markets failed.

IRVING FISHER A 'BULL'

NEW YORK, Oct. 16.—Prof. Irving Fisher, noted Yale economist, today stands committed to the "bullish" side of the stock market.

"A higher market" is his forecast, as made in a speech here last night.

Thus Prof. Fisher took issue with the prediction made three weeks ago by Roger W. Babson, economist, that there would be an 80-point drop in stock prices.

Prof. Fisher said he expects to see the stock market a good deal higher than it is today within a few months.

Stock prices, he declared, have reached "what looks like a permanent high plateau."

The rise of the market in the past two years was "justified" by conditions, he said.

STEEL PRICES TAKE DIP

NEW YORK, Oct. 16.—The Iron age tomorrow will say:

With further retrenchment by motor car manufacturers as they prepare to bring out new models, steel shipments to the automobile industry have reached the lowest point in 18 months. The reduction in demand from this major customer of the mills has been too drastic to be offset by the heavier requirements of the railroads, impressive as they are. A failure to foresee the severity of this reaction, coupled with continued pressure for business volume, has caused wider unsettlement of the price situation, with dips in extreme cases of $2 a ton below market levels that prevailed 60 days ago. The present problem of the steel industry is to adjust itself to a curtailed, though by no means low, scale of activity. While it is reported that the Chevrolet Motor Company has suspended operations until November 15, the placing of additional November orders for steel by both parts makers and motor car manufacturers themselves points to a gradual stepping up of the industry's production through next month.

Steel ingot production has given further ground. The Steel Corporation's average is down to 80 per cent. The rate for the industry in the Chicago district is estimated at 85 per cent, while at Pittsburgh it does not exceed 80 per cent. The Youngstown average is 75 per cent and Wheeling district plants are running at 65 to 70 per cent of capacity. Railroad equipment buying is the bright spot of the week.

Sheet mill operations have declined to 75 per cent of capacity or less, and strip mills are running at 50 to 60 per cent. Automobile body sheets are now generally quotable at 4c, Pittsburgh, or $2 a ton below the recent market. Strip prices have been fairly steady. Heavy melting scrap has declined 50c a ton at Philadelphia and 25c a ton at Chicago, but has developed strength at Pittsburgh.

Both of the Iron Age composite prices are unchanged, finished steel at 2,369c a pound, the lowest level so far this year, and pig iron at $18.29 a gross ton, which is 4c a ton above the year's low.

Window Glass Board Re-Elected

The nine directors of the American Window Glass Machine Company were re-elected at yesterday's meeting but divided into three classes—three elected for one year, three for two years and three for three years. In other words only three directors need be elected each year instead of nine. The election was as follows: One year, H. N. Van Vooris, J. D. Rhodes, J. A. Haberkorn; two years, George C. Moore, T. F. Hart, George M. McCandless; three years, A. E. Braun, J. D. Callery and Wm. L. Monroe.

Isolated Strong Spots Wiped Out in Last Hour; Steel, Auburn Big Losers

NEW YORK, Oct. 16.—(AP.)—The "secondary reaction," which started yesterday, was resumed today, with the steels and public utilities again feeling the brunt of selling pressure.

Extreme declines in many of the active issues ranged from 3 to 15 points, but these were partially cut down in an early afternoon rally led by the oils and a few specialties. Trading was only moderately heavy in volume and showed a tendency to turn dull on the rallies.

Short selling was again an important factor in the day's decline. Many small traders apparently followed the advice of leading commission houses in reducing long commitments or restricting new purchases to a few special issues in which favorable developments are pending until the course of the market becomes more clearly defined. Pools succeeded in marking up a few issues to new high records, including Electric Storage Battery, Corn Products, Timken Roller Bearing and International Paper and Power A and B.

RATE AT 7 PER CENT

Call money renewed at 7 per cent, which rate is expected to be maintained all day. Time money rates held steady.

While the action of the Massachusetts Public Utilities Commission in denying the application of a Boston company to split up its common stock has no direct effect on any securities listed on the "Big Board," the stinging nature of the commission's decision has had a bad psychological effect on all high priced public utility stocks. Pacific Telephone broke 15 points, American & Foreign Power 9½, Western Union 9, Standard Gas ⅞ Electric 7¾, American Water Works 7, Consolidated Gas 6 and American Telephone, American Power & Light, Stone & Webster, North American, Columbia Gas, General Public Service, and Southern California Edison sold off 4 to 5½ points.

Business news was mixed in character. Crude oil production showed a drop of nearly 50,000 barrels in the daily average last week. This was reflected in a better demand for the oil shares, Sun Oil moving up 4 points to a new high at 84¾ while Standard Oils of New Jersey and California, Houston and Royal Dutch advanced 2 points or more.

Weekly steel trade reviews stressed the falling off in output, due largely to reduced automotive demands. Iron Age pointed out that steel shipments are now the lowest in 18 months. U. S. Steel common was hammered down more than 5 points to below 218 a share. A. M. Byers dropped 5 and several others yielded a point or more. Directors of Canadium Steel declared an extra dividend of $1 a share.

DECLINES WIDE

Columbian Carbon fell 14¾ points, Auburn Auto 11, General Electric 10½ and Westinghouse Electric, Johns Manville, American Tobacco common and Crosley Radio sagged 5 points or more, the last-named touching a new low level for the year.

Rails turned heavy with the industrials on the announcement that freight car loadings in the week ended October 5 fell below the corresponding period last year for the first time since March and only the second time this year. Chesapeake and Ohio, which ran up 8½ points at the opening to 270½ on the announcement of the stock split up, fell back to 265¼. Pere Marquette dropped from 217½ to 214 and Hocking Valley from 600 to 585. Atchison sold down 5½ points below last night's close.

Even the few isolated strong spots were wiped out in the final hour, when the reaction became general. The handful of shares that had managed to move against the trend earlier, surrendered their gains, as U. S. Steel was hammered down about 8 points to a new low for the movement at 215½. Auburn Auto broke 20 points, Western Union 15, and such shares as General Electric, Columbian Carbon, Columbia Gas, American Telephone, American Water Works, Westinghouse Electric, American & Foreign Power and American Tobacco, 7 to 12. The close was weak. Total sales approximated 4,000,000 shares.

Crude Oil Output For Week Lower

NEW YORK, Oct. 16.—The daily average gross crude production in the United States decreased 48,950 barrels for the week ended October 12, totaling 2,838,100 barrels, says the weekly summary of the American Petroleum Institute. The daily average production east of California was 1,965,600 barrels, a decrease of 35,150 barrels.

DEMAND LIFTS BLAW KNOX SHARES

Stock Resumes Its Rise In Early Trading Here; Industrials Irregular

A further advance in Blaw Knox featured the early dealings on the Pittsburgh Stock Exchange today when the stock sold up to 58, a gain of more than six points from yesterday's lowest figure.

Buying orders were in the market in large numbers with several hundred shares changing hands on the rise immediately after the stock had opened with a fractional overnight gain at 56⅝. Blaw Knox is now listed here and on the New York Curb. Steps will be taken to list it on the New York Stock Exchange shortly, according to reports in the Street. Recent entrance of the Goldman Sachs interests into the company as an investor through the medium of the Goldman Sachs Trading Corporation attracted considerable attention to the stock in outside quarters.

Other industrials displayed an irregular tone. United Engineering and Pittsburgh Screw and Bolt were a little higher, while losses were noted in Copperweld, Witherow, Mesta Machine and Vanadium Alloy.

On the final dealings the market here was influenced by the weakness in New York and several issues sold off sharply.

Oil Firm Has New Gasoline Process

CHICAGO, Oct. 16.—The Pure Oil Company announces a new process for extracting gasoline from crude oil.

"The new gasoline is refined by a totally new process known as gyro vapor phase," Henry M. Dawes, president of the Pure Oil Company, explained. "Its development has required experimentation and tests covering several years and involving an expenditure of more than $3,000,000. This includes specially designed plants at five of our refineries."

The new process consists of vaporing crude oil at high temperatures and low pressure, resulting in gasoline of greater power, according to R. C. Osterstrom, chief chemist.

COTTON MARKET

NEW YORK, Oct. 16.—Cotton opened steady today at an advance of 4 to 8 points, with December contracts selling up to 18.27c and March to 18.64c on covering and trade buying influenced by relatively steady Liverpool cables and unfavorable features in the weekly weather report. This advance brought in a little more southern selling or realizing, which eased prices off 3 or 4 points from the best, but the market was comparatively quiet and fairly steady at the end of the first half hour.

Liverpool cables reported covering and continental buying, with less hedging in that market, but said that cotton cloth sales were disappointing, with buyers cautious.

Unemployment Problem Is Up to Employers.

—By B. C. FORBES—

"I HAVE read your column concerning labor in the South and also the column about the man who committed suicide because he was too old to be able to find work. You might find something in the way of a solution of the problems you mentioned in statements I have just made to the American Association of Trade Executives, which takes in about 400 of our leading business organizations."

Thus writes Benjamin A. Javits, lawyer, whose volume "Make Everybody Rich," has attracted widespread attention among employers.

Briefly, what this authority presents as the necessary step towards the solution of periodic unemployment, the problem of the older workmen and other economic problems, is the formation of an American institute of industrial co-ordination, to consist of leading representatives of every industry in the land.

THAT American industry is falling down on the job of taking proper care of its own is becoming more widely—not to say more bitterly—recognized. Unless our industrialists bestir themselves, the matter will unquestionably become a political issue.

Too many employers have no hesitation in discarding workers by the hundreds or even by the thousands the moment business falls off. Whenever a spurt sets in, these same employers feel entitled to reach out for the services of hundreds or even thousands of workers whom they will not be able to keep permanently.

What happens to such workers in between the seasons they need them is, apparently, regarded as no concern of the employers.

But what happens to workers is the concern of society. If it is not made the concern of industry, it will be made the concern of politicians. We cannot leave unemployed workmen to commit suicide or resignedly to starve to death. Provision must be made for them in this country just as other countries have found it obligatory to meet the same problem.

"Every business is affected by every man who is not gainfully employed, by every business that is not functioning 100 percent that is not operating at a profit. General Motors, or United States Steel, or the American Telephone and Telegraph, with their huge investments, must bend all of their energies to see that there is no lull, that the average man not only has a larger purchasing power, but that all are profitably employed.

"Can any single industry, or any group of industries, regardless of how large, accomplish this objective? The answer is itself apparent. There must be, in every nature of our industrial development, co-operative effort.

"HOW can we bring up our standard of life to an even higher plane unless each can contribute towards the making of a useful existence? Ford or Rockefeller or Morgan could not individually afford to have a private telephone system or a network of radios, of railroads, such as all of the people enjoy.

"The time has come for American industry, the American people and the American government to have a responsible agency, organized by, of and for American industry, whose aim and purpose are to so co-ordinate American industry as to bring prosperity for all.

"ONE mattress manufacturer cannot accomplish industry's new goal—to make everybody rich—in the mattress industry. The mattress industry cannot accomplish it for the furniture industry. The furniture industry cannot accomplish it for the building industry. The building industry cannot accomplish it for the real estate business. The real estate business cannot accomplish it for all of business.

"But all the industries, all the working men, all the technicians, all the scientists, all the lawyers, if you will, could together accomplish the goal—all could enslave the electric horsepower, the ton of steel and the genius of man's technical mind in order that man be liberated gradually but surely to that higher plane, to that higher life and to that greater horizon.

"The information of an American institute of industrial co-ordination shall and must be the vehicle and you are some of its prophets."

SURELY it is the most elementary commonsense that the problem of unemployment should not be accepted as the problem of the unemployed only, but that it must be accepted as the problem, rather, of employers.

NEW YORK CURB MARKET

NEW YORK, Oct. 16.—(AP.)—The curb market was again sharply depressed by severe sinking in the utilities today. Trading was comparatively quiet, but stocks found little support and nervous liquidation and short selling were unusually effective. The sharp downturn in steel operations and loadings of revenue freight, as announced overnight, proved unsettling to speculative sentiment, despite recent assurances from important sources that fundamental business conditions remain healthy. Also, nervousness over the Federal Reserve brokerage loan figures, to appear tomorrow, was evident.

Following is the list of transactions on the New York Curb Exchange, giving all stocks and bonds traded (00 omitted in sales column of stock list; 000 omitted in sales column of bond list):

Walter Winchell
On Broadway

Supplication

MY nights are mine, I spend them as I please,
There's time to read, to muse, to smoke a bit.
I'm free to wander as a gypsy breeze,
To laugh, and dance, and watch the moments flit.

If I desire to try the cup that cheers,
It's small account when I ascend my stairs;
I haven't been so foot-loose now for years,
So arrogant and blithely free from cares.

Yet, pipes go out, and books are read at last,
And wine is not so sweet the morning after;
The maids that I have summoned from my past
Dissolve and fade as quickly as their laughter.

(I wish a girl who left me in the rain
Would bring my chains—and bind me once again!)
—J. P. S.

IN FEWER WORDS

IN CASE YOU DIDN'T KNOW

One of the interesting sidelights on the present theatrical season is the collapse of the cut-rate ticket business. For several years more tickets for the Broadway showshops have been sold at the bargain counters than through the premium agencies or box offices, and so stable had the business become that several managers were frankly cut-rate producers, putting on shows that had little chance of paying their way at full prices, but which seemed certain to pay, what with low operating expenses, when sold at half price.

The cut-rate business is running approximately 35 per cent of the volume of last year, which is one of the reasons the majority of the productions drawing less than rave notices are folding up after a few performances. The cut-rate dealers have been using their deadwood boys to trail shoppers who leave their places without purchasing tickets, and the reports are that the bulk of these bargain-hunters go directly to the Broadway picture houses. With tickets for "Sweet Adeline," "Strictly Dishonorable," "June Moon" and a few others unprocurable at any price, the New York theater public now seems to be composed of one class only—those who will pay any amount for seats to the really worthwhile shows and not a dime for the less-than-hits.

THE RETORT GRAND

JACK HALEY, the immensely comical feature of "Follow Thru," offers the one about the young playwright who submitted a manuscript to a manager for approval.

The manager glanced at it hastily and grumbled: "What's the idea of giving me a script to read that I rejected 12 months ago?"

"Because," was the flip response, "you've had a year's experience since then!"

OOP!

And Harry Reichenbach argues that the reason you seldom see a Jewish sailor, cowboy or acrobat is that they only get thirty dollars a month.

BOOMERANG

They were discussing the amusing Bugs Baer again last night and his late wife, Margie Cassidy, one of the grandest gals that ever graced the canyon. The famous newspaper comedian always found time to clown with her and one day between columns at his office he sent her this kidding telegram: "Just thought of a new song title: 'I'm So Lonesome When I'm With You.'"

Mrs. Baer's wit was just as keen. She flipped back this one: "I'm writing a song also. It will be called: 'Everyone Has Someone, All I Have Is You!'"

OBSERVATION

FOR many theatrical seasons Earl Carroll and Florenz Ziegfeld have clashed over this, that, those and them. First it was about show gels, one of the boys working himself into a fine froth because the other baited his charmers with bigger bags of bullion. Then it was over Eddie Cantor—Mr. Cantor was under lock and key in Ziegfeld's strong box and dared write "Sketch Book," a revue for Carroll, and appear in it, via the noisy-tone.

It will now interest those who make a study of Broadway to know that Earl Carroll's Theatre bears the name of F. Ziegfeld, the latter's chinema version of "Rio Rita" being the current attraction.

Razors pain you;
Rivers are damp;
Acids stain you;
And drugs cause cramp.
Guns aren't lawful;
Nooses give;
Gas smells awful;
You might as well live.
—Dorothy Parker.

NONSENSE

SOLLY VIOLINSKY, who has written several of the hit songs, was telling a group about the sitch-ee-ay-shun on Broadway, and how tough it is for actors to get work.

"It's so tough," said Violinsky, "that I know a guy who organized a small jazz band just to play in the backyards to keep from starving. His band broke the act in at a West Side yard, and got over so well they proceeded to arrange a booking in a yard over near Park avenue, where the snooty set dwell. But the day they were to open in that Park avenue yard it went into talking pictures!"

NIFTY

"Gee," said Rosenthal, as he cracked his knuckles, "I'm nervous."

"Why should you be nervous?" growled Kaufman. "All you have to do is to go out there and act. You don't have to pace up and down all night waiting for the dramatic reviews to come out!"

Woman Arrested In Boy's Death

YOUNGSTOWN, O., Oct. 16.—Mrs. Anna Bailey, 32, was arrested, charged with manslaughter, in connection with the death of Joseph Knox, 15, struck by an automobile while riding his bicycle. Mrs. Bailey denies that she struck the boy, but police say the number of her car is the same as that given by witnesses. Traces of hair, the color of the boy's, were found on the windshield, they said.

UNSCRAMBLE THESE ANAGRAMBLES
DAILY ANAGRAM PUZZLES

TRY your hand at this fascinating game of Anagrambles—the game that is taking the town like the crossword puzzle craze took the whole nation for a ride through the dictionary.

The game is quite simple. Merely change the following words by the addition of the single letter indicated. Do not omit any letter of the original word. The letter may be inserted at the beginning of the word, anywhere within the word, or at the end. Thus, the word "pate," by the addition of the letter "l" becomes either "pleat" or "plate." The word "drag" may be changed to either "grade" or "raged" by the addition of the letter "e."

The original word must be changed in meaning by the commentary letter. To change "mine" by adding "d," to form "mined," would be incorrect. Rearrange the letters of your word to change its meaning, not its tense or number. Take a pencil now and write in your newly formed word in the spaces provided.

"She's a Septic!"

Many women want to be, deserve to be, and could be far more popular than is their lot. Doctors know why. So do nurses. They call such cases septics.

To remedy obnoxious body odors and bad breath, you must recognize their cause. The trouble is deep-seated. Frankly in the colon. Semi-constipation makes millions of systems septic. There may be a daily movement, but all the waste is not eliminated. The matter that remains poisons the blood, and permeates the perspiration. It taints the breath. Nature is signaling her need of a tiny Calcium Wafer.

Calcium wafers work wonders in one's appearance, too. With the inner system sweet and clean, the complexion clears most marvelously. Eyes brighten. Teeth whiten. The tongue is no longer coated, even on arising. And you never need take another harsh cathartic.

Perhaps you are a septic, and don't know it. Try a tiny wafer of calcium, and see! It may make all the difference in the world. Leave harsh, habit-forming cathartics alone. You never need them if you take an occasional calcium wafer.

TRY THIS THOROUGH TEST

A five day test will prove to you very conclusively the system's need for Stuart's Calcium Wafers, and the benefit from these little wafers. Your druggist has them for 10c. Or the family size, 60c. Start this test today!

When Nature Warns of too Much Acid

MILK OF MAGNESIA brings quickest Relief

AUTHORITIES have warned us so often that nowadays almost all people know the dangers of a diet too rich in acid-producing foods. Dietary experts say the ideal menu would consist of about three-fourths fruits and vegetables — the alkaline producers — to one-fourth of those which produce acids; the meats, sweets, cereals. But knowing this, how many can avoid an occasional touch of over-acidity?

Of course, when pain and sourness about two hours after eating, heartburn, headaches, gas or nausea, warn of too much acid, we can diet our way out of the trouble. But that takes time. And there's no use suffering when Nature has provided such a quick, harmless means of relief. Milk of Magnesia. Doctors the world over are united in favor of just one form of magnesia. For over fifty years, they have prescribed Phillips Milk of Magnesia. It is an almost tasteless, milk-white liquid; magnesia in perfect suspension. It is in the form pronounced most effective by the U. S. Dispensatory. Just a spoonful in a glass of water and every trace of over-acidity soon disappears. In five minutes you are smiling, happy again. Its action is thorough, yet nothing could be more soothing to an ailing stomach.

This perfect anti-acid has also gentle laxative properties. It cleanses and sweetens the entire digestive tract without any of the disturbance common to strong cathartics. It has many important uses in any household. Complete directions, worth your reading, come with every package.

All drug stores have the 25c and 50c bottles. The genuine, prescriptional product, with 50 years' experience behind it, is always marked with the name Phillips. So look for it in buying.

Local Grand Opera Bow Denotes Future Success

Our own grand opera company has made its debut—a rather vigorous bow, to judge by reading what the music critics have had to state in the public press and by impressions expressed by members of the first audience. The critics were laudatory. The private commentators were laudatory. And in the expressions of both there can be detected a shade of surprise. A little sign here and there that not much was expected and that a great deal was received.

Now that, we think, speaks rather well for the audience, which was in the neighborhood of 3,000 in number. If that many persons will go to an event of that nature and not expect a full measure it is a very good indication that our people, at least, had no intention of permitting an infant to freeze to death. Since they did receive so much, it is to be assumed that they are so amply satisfied that they will continue to encourage the new cultural enterprise with their patronage.

The members of the Pittsburgh Grand Opera Company are to be congratulated upon the result of their experimental venture, at least as far as the initial performance is concerned. The critics gave praise that we have no reason to believe was not deserved (critics are hard-boiled) and did not spare in their comment on such imperfections as were noted. As a whole the excellences were found to overbalance the faults. Indicating that another worthy activity has made the first step toward a fruitful continued existence.

50 Billions Lot of Money

But War Would Cost More.

Senator Capper, of Kansas, in his Capper's Weekly says that since the country started war and preparing for war have cost us more than fifty billions.

That IS a great deal of money. But FAILURE to prepare for war might cost the country fifty billions in half a year and a beating into the bargain. That would be worse than spending fifty billions in 153 years.

The French know what it means to be prepared, as they were in 1914, and NOT to be prepared, as they were when Bismarck beat them in 1870.

They listen patiently to all our sentimental talk about perpetual peace. But at the same time they announce a defense system for their northern and eastern frontiers that will take five years of constant work and cost two billion five million francs, about 100,000,000 of our dollars.

Candy for Children

Sugar Is a Muscle Food.

Colgate University, in its psychological laboratory, studies the effect of sugar on personality, strength, temper, health. They are studying also the value of ODORS in salesmanship.

The sense of smell has been neglected.

Now every merchant knows that his goods must be brightly colored, if possible; also, wherever it is appropriate, a pleasing odor should be added

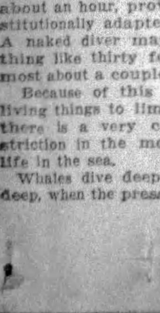
Regardless of laboratory tests, BE SURE THAT YOUR CHILDRED ARE NOT DEPRIVED OF SUGAR. Simple candies are excellent for children, eaten at the right time, not BETWEEN meals, but immediately AFTER meals, in moderation.

Sugar is MUSCLE food. The body is able to utilize it almost instantaneously. Children use their muscles violently and become fatigued. Sugar in their diet is essential.

THE SCIENCE OF LIFE

By H. G. WELLS
In Collaboration With
Prof. Julian Huxley and George P. Wells.

FORTY-TWO thousand feet, a trifle over eight miles, not a tenth of what a fast automobile can do in an hour on the level, but so far it is practically the limit of the upward range of life.



H. G. Wells

Three main wants restrict the living body to the lower levels—deficiency of oxygen to breathe, deficiency of pressure upon the exterior of the body and intense cold.

Airmen who have attempted height-records describe themselves as feeling swelled, puffed out and deformed, with a painful buzzing in the ears. The heart beats too vigorously against the lessened restraining force. There may be bleeding in ears, nose and lungs, and even from the eyes and gums.

The cold at these heights sinks to levels as low as 30 degrees below zero centigrade and it is extremely difficult to retain the heat of the body.

Long before the aviator has struggled to the five-mile limit all other living things have left him. Insects have long since fallen insensible from his planes. No bird can emulate him, though the condor might have kept with him as high as five miles.

Downwards life is also restricted, but downwards it is increasing pressure and, in the solid earth, increasing temperature against which life has to fight. The forms of life familiar to us do not extend down into the seas for very many fathoms; they are replaced by other species more adapted to cold and darkness and high pressure. The barriers set to air-breathing life are soon reached.

A diver in a diving-dress, with skilful management and under good conditions, can go to almost 210 feet below sea-level, can stay there for 10 or 12 minutes, and return to the surface by stages in about an hour, provided he is constitutionally adapted to the work. A naked diver may get to something like thirty feet and stay at most about a couple of minutes.

Because of this relationship of living things to limiting pressures, there is a very considerable restriction in the movements of all life in the sea.

Whales dive deep — astonishingly deep, when the pressures upon them are considered. They have peculiar reticulations of their blood-vessels which may serve to ease off the bubbling of gas as they rush up to the surface again after a prolonged submergence.

The Greenland whale, says R. W. Gray, can get down to 800 fathoms, the best part of a mile, to judge by the length of line a harpooned individual will reel out. But this depth is not equal to the height of such a winter resort as Arosa.

Anything normally enclosing air or other gas, such as the strands of a rope or a piece of wooly fabric, is flattened out at great depths. If a ship's hauser, says Prof. J. Arthur Thomson—a hempen hawser, of course, is meant—is sunk to the depths of a couple of thousand fathoms, it is squeezed to less than the diameter of one's wrist, and a piece of wood that has gone down so far will no longer float.

Whatever lives at great depths—if it contains air or gas—must have its internal pressures as great as those about it.

Oceanographic exploration shows us that there is a definite zoning of life in the abyss, the creatures of the deep levels being adapted to the peculiar conditions of their particular levels. They can no more come up than the surface life can go down—until it dies and drifts down slowly to be eaten by the inhabitants of the lower darkness.

Sometimes, however, some of the deep sea fishes fall upward. Many of them, like their surface kindred have swimming bladders to accommodate themselves to varying levels. These bladders contain gas under enormous pressure. If one of the abyssal fishes rises too high in pursuit of its prey, the gas in its bladder may expand out of control of the muscles.

The fish can no longer go down, but continues to rise helplessly, and as it rises to levels of less and less pressure, the expansion force of the gas within is less and less restrained, until at last the creature rushes up to the surface and arrives there distended or burst and dead.

The ocean at its deepest goes down perhaps for seven miles. Life therefore, so far as we know, is confined to a layer of air and a layer of water, having a total thickness of less than 14 miles, on this comparatively small planet Earth, and no one single form of life is able to span even these petty limits. Man's vertical range seems to be as great as any creature's and it is no more than eight miles.

Good Team Work

"Bugs" Baer Says:

A Bridge Party

WHILE playing bridge with her husband a western lady pulled out a strong hand of revolvers and shot him.

We would like to know whether this is the Work or the Whitehead system.

"Bugs" Baer

Seems that he started with a bid of one diamond. She showed her strong white fangs in a wifely smile and said:

"One spade, dearie."

That bid had a sinister meaning but husbands are people with such low brows that they get brain fever in their Adams apples.

When he said, "Two diamonds, honey," he wasn't talking to the bees.

Long experience in gymnastic work has told us that no matter how far you lift a dumbbell into the air, it is still a dumbbell.

"Two spades, Oscar," she replied in rebuttal, meanwhile gazing at nothing with the usual wifely interest.

She yanked a gun out of her vanity case and powdered his future.

She was right. Her bid had taken him out of a minor world and put him with the major angels.

No jury would convict her of bad bidding. We forgot to mention, that during all this bidding, north and south were passing.

All bridge games consist of north, south, east and west. Bridge is mah jong without the politeness.

The first time around, north and south passed the hand. The second time around, they passed a police station.

Has a wife the prerogative of shooting her, lawful, wedded moron?

She has if he makes bids like that. Her only crime was in shooting too hastily and blasting herself out of some very enjoyable alimony.

Worst Story I Have Heard Today

By WILL ROGERS.

A SHOWMAN was trying to get a lot of freaks together for a big act for a dime museum that he'd charge a dollar admission to.

"Well," he says to his friend, a Broadway promoter, "I got most of my act lined up. I got a guy without hands to play the piano, a legless man to ride a bicycle, and a blind man to play the piano. You got any ideas of anything to add to the act?"

"Sure, I can put it over big for you! I can go to any musical comedy in town and get you twenty girls without voices to sing for you!"

NOT THE SOUR-GRAPES FOX

By Herbert Kaufman

HIS parents weren't on calling terms with the Astors—but his grandchildren WILL be.

John Jacob's folks had actively retired from inn-keeping, and moved uptown, long before the Foxes settled in lower New York, to lay another super-fortune foundation.

That responsibility shortly and prematurely devolved upon son William, and so deprived him of the advanced schooling WITHOUT which nobody is supposed to get VERY far.

John Jacob contrived to accumulate a Northwest empire, become the richest man in Manhattan, and live to lord it over De Puysters and Stuyvesants despite an identical handicap.

His line reaches to the peerage—but it also reaches FROM the steerage.

THE FANCIER branches of learning are handy to have around the house, but not essential—PROVIDED a man can read the signs of the times and know enough arithmetic to calculate simple opportunity.

Self-confidence and ambition regularly build taller spires and create vaster estates than pedantic precision or classical accuracy.

Higher education cannot claim Messrs. Edison, Rockefeller, Sarnoff, Ford, Ochs, Eastman, Dollar or Wright, EITHER. And you'll observe that the deprivation did not noticeably foil THEIR several careers.

All sound thinking isn't a college graduate's. Necessity confers degrees of common sense, as distinguished as certified doctorates. In proof of which, William Fox is celebrating his Silver Wedding to motion pictures.

ASTOR once drove a fur peddler's cart; Edison hawked fruits, candies and sandwiches; Sarnoff wore messenger livery; Eastman wielded a bank janitor's broom; Fox SPONGED CLOTH and, with only one wage-earning arm, kept home fires and determination burning.

Circumstance designed him for a minor tradesman, or a petty manufacturer, but he refused to recognize his unfitness for command and kept his thoughts in SHOULDER-STRAPS.

The Fox Theater chain, Fox production units and Fox realty holdings, sprang from a dank basement shop and the conviction that there were just as GOOD fish in the future as any the past had caught.

He didn't brood over sour-grapes, or meager backgrounds—he was too busy watching his FOREGROUNDS to waste energy on inferiority complexes and WISHING RINGS.

INSTEAD, he explored possibility—and landed in a trashy nickelodeon. It wasn't MUCH, but it was a fair START—which is all that anybody's entitled to.

He plowed back his profits into the soil that produced them—which is both sound husbandry and fundamental business law.

He did nothing YOU couldn't have accomplished, and accomplished it under the noses of a million contemporaries immeasurably better financed and trained for the same job. You had as much money and as much experience—but you didn't CARE as hard or DARE as hard.

Consequently, the Foxes, the Astors, the Fords and the Firestones will be social landmarks and industrial dictators when YOUR grandchildren are inheriting obscurity, the suburbs, and knowledge that Grandfather took a University course and expected it to replace initiative, pertinacity and IMAGINATION.

LISTEN, WORLD!

By Elsie Robinson

ARE MEN AFRAID OF WOMEN?

Ellen Gray thinks they are. Here are parts of her letter:

"Take the average American business man. He's a live wire. He knows what he wants and he sees that he gets it. He talks right off the chest and keeps his employes on their toes. There's nothing vague or evasive about him.

"Now look at his wife. She may be lazy, discontented, inexperienced, stupid—not half the person he is—but how she bullies him and how he crawls and compromises and sneaks and fibs to keep her satisfied!

"Why? Men, themselves, say they do it to 'keep peace in the family' or 'because they're too chivalrous to hurt a woman.' The idea being that women are 'too little to be hit.' Both excuses seem to me perfectly absurd.

"As to the first—no business man would dream of trying to keep peace in his office by crawling to his employes. He knows that the minute he started that he would lose all control and his business would go haywire. He has to take a stand and keep it.

"And that chivalry excuse is equally silly for everyone knows that modern women don't need protection any more than a man. Do these very men who do such a fade-out at home, spend their time in the office in being 'chivalrous' to their women-employes protecting their feelings and humoring their whims? I'll say they don't! THE BOSS WHO PROTECTS HIS WIFE'S STUPIDITY AND MEANNESS IS THE FIRST TO FIRE HIS STENOGRAPHER IF SHE DISPLAYS THE SAME QUALITIES.

"Those alibis are OUT! The truth is that men are afraid of women. They can manage to handle them, as long as they are only employes, but when they become wives the Big Boys are buffaloed. Every man will deny it but in his heart he knows it's true."

That's Ellen's opinion. I don't agree with her—entirely. I admit the "Big Boy" often does a fade out when he meets up with Friend Wife, but I think the cause is ignorance as often as fear.

Men do not understand women yet. They can't realize that they are PEOPLE. They consider the wife's inferior size, inferior strength and experience and they foolishly conclude that she is, therefore, weaker than a man. She's nothing of the sort. HIS VERY BELIEF IN HER INFERIORITY GIVES A WIFE A TREMENDOUS ADVANTAGE OVER HER HUSBAND . . . FOR, THEREBY, HE FAILS TO PROTECT HIMSELF AGAINST HER REALLY SUPERIOR WILL POWER.

A little brain that concentrates on itself and its two or three petty desires has it all over a big brain that scatters itself over many interests and adjusts itself to many viewpoints . . A 2x4 WOMAN CAN OUT-WILL A 50x100 HUSBAND ANY DAY.

"But why don't men apply the same rules to their wives that they apply to their women employes?" insists Ellen Gray.

Because no man ever thinks of his wife as he does of his employes—as long as he really considers her HIS WIFE. The mere fact that she IS his wife exempts her from that. Have you ever found a man who'd think of comparing HIS car or HIS dog or HIS golf sticks with common cars, dogs or golf sticks? Male egotism—that's the answer to THAT, Ellen. That's why many wives get by with murder.

And that same male egotism makes some men PREFER A FEMININE PEE-WEE to a REAL WOMAN. A MOUSE CAN MAKE A MOUNTAIN LOOK TWICE AS BIG.

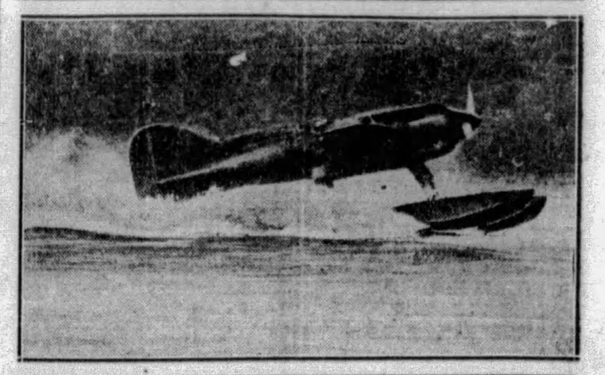
BE A PITTSBURGH BOOSTER
To Your Friends in Other Cities

A Fast Air Boat

An Approach to the FUTURE Airplane.



LIEUT. WILLIAMS' PLANE
Which Did Not Start in the Schneider Race.

But the plane unfortunately had motor trouble and did not enter the competition.

You will notice that this small, compact airplane, driven by a 24-cylinder engine, is not much bigger than an ordinary automobile.

It has a very narrow wing spread, great engine power taking the place of wide wings that cause air resistance.

Seen here, as it starts from the water, this plane comes as near as anything thus far to what probably will be the airplane of the future, a compact body, more like a flying BULLET than a modern airplane, depending on speed MOMENTUM to keep it in the air.

A bullet going through the air, as you know, needs no wings to keep it up. The power back of it supplies the power to stay above the ground.

So with the future airplanes, flying faster than anything thus far dreamed of. They will depend on power, on engines with terrific force, flying with the speed of a bullet, requiring little in the way of wing spread to keep them up, equipped probably with wings that will be drawn in, during flight, and extended for use in landing.

The amusing thing and the fundamentally DISGRACEFUL thing about this plane, seeking to win glory for American aviation and for the American Navy, is this:

THE GOVERNMENT HAD NO FUNDS TO BUILD IT, COULDN'T "AFFORD IT."

Therefore it was necessary for Lieut. Williams to raise among his friends the $175,000 that it cost to build this plane.

This country ought to be rich enough to pay for building such a machine and many like it in the way of experiment.

We have plenty of money for ridiculous coast defense guns and so-called "anti-aircraft guns" that will never hit anything.

We spend fifty millions at a time for battleships that are as worthless and out of date for war as any old hansom cab.

But the country lacks money, it seems, to spend $175,000 on speed and new experiments which are the most important things to aviation and to his country's safety.

NEW YORK DAY BY DAY

By O. O. McIntyre

NEW YORK, Oct. 16.—Not long ago I came within an inch or so of being in the midst of a full-blown theater panic. It was at an auspicious first night. Along about the middle of the first act there was a sizzling and crackling and a pungent puff of smoke floated lazily over the audience.

It needed only the spark of hysteria to produce pandemonium. The first impression was of restlessness with everyone to hold themselves in grip. White faced men in a sort of hallucinated calm whispered to their ladies and here and there was a nervous laugh that might break out in a horrible scream. The players struggled tensely.

Suddenly in the front row a man darted up the aisle. The world seemed to poise and stand still. Then the house started to rise in unison. An actor—Robert Warwick, incidentally—proved a courageous trouper in a deadly emergency.

He stepped out of his part, up to the footlights and with engaging calmness pleaded: "Please, ladies and gentlemen, there is nothing whatever wrong in this theater." Several quickly sat down and the rest, like sheep, followed and the catastrophe was averted.

It was discovered later that two women had swooned. In certain parts of the Alps, they say, snow mountains become so delicately balanced that a sudden yell will send them on a devastating avalanche of destruction. So is a theater panic precipitated. New York theaters are especially safe.

Save in panic, a holocaust is said to be impossible. All theaters may be emptied in three minutes with the audience moving at a natural pace. It is the quick rushes that clog the aisle or entrances and bring disaster. All house employes are trained to avoid this danger.

Every theater has its exits in bright red letters and at the masthead of every program is that bit of one-legged poetry: "Look around now and choose the nearest exit to your seat. In case of fire, walk (not run) to that exit. Do not try to beat your neighbor to the street." To obey that, means perfect safety.

In every theater nightly a fireman is on duty. He is prepared to send in an alarm instantly. With all the precautions it would be difficult for a fire to gain much headway. One of these firemen incidentally is a crack critic. He can tell if a play is a box office hit and speculators frequently seek his opinion.

A meanie in Detroit sends a suggestion which he believes appropriate for any newspaper column, and here it is:

"Go On, Say Something!"

Hollywood has found the business of keeping imported writers cooling their heels in movie ante rooms a boomerang. Burnt children fear the fire. For a time they were shipping scribblers to the coast in car loads and paying salaries from $250 to $500 weekly and expenses and then almost all were sacked. Three celebrated writers were recently offered two-year contracts at their own terms. They returned the contracts unsigned and without comment.

Incidentally, one of the most prolific of the scenario writers was—although he tries to keep it a secret—transplanted from the editorship of a seed catalog to sprout in cinema clover. Ten years ago he was making $30 a week. Today he makes exactly 10 times that daily.

The newest wrinkle in hotel building is the built-in apartment. Not a piece of furniture is movable. And it is a finger nail breaker for those who reach the hilarious stage of "throwing things."

"I trouped," writes Old Timer, "for 20 years up and down the Ohio River and they called it Boat Show. Edna Ferber spent two weeks on the river and now it is Show Boat."

And she made a fortune doing it, mister!

ONCE OVERS

By J. J. Mundy

YOU are discontented because your home is not as fine as that of some of your friends.

By comparison your furnishings look commonplace, if not actually shabby.

You resent this condition and long for richer furnishings.

But you have forgotten how much more happiness you have had, and how much joy you have seen among your friends whose homes are more poorly equipped than yours.

You have had health, warm friends and a loyal family.

You have had a real home, even though an humble one.

But have you taken care of your home and surroundings as well as you might?

Would you rather go out for a jolly evening than stay home and varnish floors or repair a thousand and one little things that need a nail or a screw?
